Congress Eyes Adjournment By End of Week

Senate May Push Into Overtime Working Sessions

Washington —(AP)— An adjournment-minded congress begins tackling a heavy backlog of legislation today in an effort to close shop by the weekend.

But it was a big question whether the legislators could complete their work without going into next week.

Focus On Senate

Neither Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) nor House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) has set a public target date for adjournment of the 85th congress. Nevertheless, several others legislators, especially those facing tough reelection fights in November, have expressed strong hope the session can be ended Friday or Saturday.

With the house finished with most of its major bills, the adjournment drive focused on the senate — which has been alerted to expect overtime sessions this week in an all-out attempt to wind up in the next few days.

The chief bills still awaiting a senate vote are a measure to increase social security benefits, the $3,518,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill and federal aid to education legislation. All three have passed the house.

Farm Surpluses

A renewed attempt also is expected to get house action on an omnibus farm bill. Rayburn has announced that, so far as he is concerned, all farm legislation is dead. He did so after Republicans and big city Democrats joined last week in defeating a third house attempt at passing a major farm bill.

However, several farm

U.S. Stands Firm On China Policy

Washington —(AP)— The United States contended today that its refusal to grant diplomatic recognition to red China helps block "Chinese communist attempts to extend communist dominion throughout Asia."

The state department spelled out its attitude in a strongly worded 5,000 word memorandum sent today to all American diplomatic missions overseas.

The memorandum, signed by Secretary of State Dulles, also vigorously restated American opposition to giving the Peiping regime a seat at the United Nations.

Sir Winston Lives It Up On Riviera

Nice, France —(AP)— Sir Winston Churchill is living it up on his Riviera vacation.

The former British prime minister Sunday boarded the Christina, a yacht owned by millionaire Aristotle Onassis, in Monaco harbor and lunched with film star Greta Garbo. Onassis and his wife also invited Churchill's Riviera host, Lord Beaverbrook, and George Schlee, a friend of Miss Garbo.

Following the lunch, Churchill stayed on to play cards with Miss Garbo, Schlee, Onassis and Mrs. Onassis on the deck. A crowd of curious strained to watch the game from the shore.

Churchill was wearing a white suit and a large panama hat. Miss Garbo was wearing white slacks, green wool polo shirt, and a white sailor hat. Perhaps in honor of Churchill, her polo shirt had a large blue "V."

Persons who watched said Churchill smoked five cigars during the afternoon.

Senator Has Arab Plan

Six-Point Proposal Would Offer Money For Lost Property

Washington —(AP)— Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) advocated today a 6-point Middle East program calling for resettlement of Arab refugees and their compensation for lost property "at the earliest opportunity."

Saltonstall, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, also told the senate "there is room for more people in Israel without overcrowding and without expansion of her territory." He advocated:

1. Continuous direction of "every facet of our policies" to support of the fact that "Israel is here to stay."

2. Long-range policies directed to the end that the Arab states achieve their desire for recognition as "independent, self-governing nations."

3. Unrelenting efforts to work out a peaceful settlement between Israel and the Arab states without which "there will never be a relaxation of those tensions and a greater opportunity for freedom and economic opportunity in this important area of the world."

4. Resettlement of Arab refugees and compensation for lost property.

5. United Nations guarantees of boundaries of all nations in the Middle East.

6. Private and public aid to create more trade, culture and education in the entire area.

Five Killed in Collision of Two Locomotives

Missed Signal Blamed as Cause Of Morning Crash

Sterlington, N. Y. —(AP)— Five persons were killed and at least 25 injured today when two Erie railroad passenger trains crashed headon as the result of a missed signal.

Two of the victims were passengers, a man and woman. Their bodies were cut from the wreckage of the first car on a 4-coach commuter train bound from Monroe, N. Y., to Hoboken, N. J.

The other victims were an engineer, a brakeman, and a fireman.

Tangle of Steel

The two diesel locomotives telescoped into a crazy tangle of steel but neither the locomotive nor the cars were derailed.

The impact piled several coaches together so that some of the wheel trucks lifted off the roadbed. The second train comprised three baggage and three passenger cars in which only a few persons were riding. There were about 30 riders on the commuter train.

The mishap occurred on the Erie main line in a rural section of Rockland county, about 35 miles northwest of New York City.

9 Unhurt in Plane Mishap

North Central Craft Skids Off Green Bay Runway

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Green Bay — Six passengers and three crew members of a North Central DC-3 escaped injury early Sunday morning when their plane slid off the north-south runway at Austin-Straubel field on takeoff.

Flight 247 was bound for Houghton, Mich., after being weathered in by Saturday night's storm.

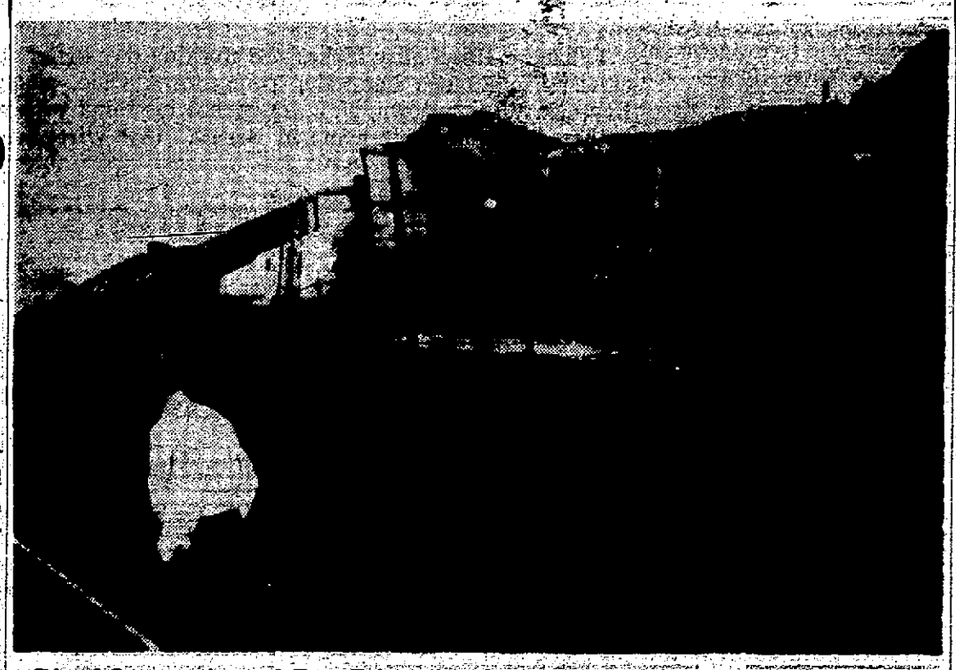

No Fire

Capt. Russell Blaisdell, Chicago, the pilot, reported trouble with the right engine as the plane was approaching take-off speed midway down the runway. He tried to stop the plane, and passengers aboard reported they could feel the ship quiver as the wheels skidded on the wet concrete runway.

The tail was in the air and the take-off speed of 81 knots was being approached. The plane skidded off the end of the runway, missed a landing light by about 18 inches and went over a 6 to 8-foot embankment.

Both wheels and the landing

UN Report May Stir Pressure For Ban on Nuclear Testing

Statement Says Radioactivity Can Endanger Man's Future Health

United Nations, N. Y.—(AP)— A 15-nation UN scientific committee report on the dangers of world radioactivity today was expected to increase pressures in the United States and abroad for a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

The report says that even a slow, slight increase in world radioactivity from nuclear test explosions and other sources endangers mankind's future health.

Reject Red Demand

While approving a report to this effect, the committee nevertheless rejected by a big majority a Soviet demand that it call for an immediate end to nuclear test explosions.

The report was released Sunday by the United Nations scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation. More than two years of study went into preparation of the 228-page document.

The committee members unanimously agreed that even the smallest amounts of radiation are liable to cause harmful genetic and perhaps other effects such as cancer, leukemia and shortening of life.

Appreciable Damage

They agreed, too, that "even a slow rise in the environmental radioactivity in the world, whether from weapon tests or any other sources, might eventually cause appreciable damage to large populations before it could be definitely identified as due to radiation."

Unanimous, too, was the conclusion that present attempts to evaluate radiation effects on man can produce only tentative estimates with wide margins of uncertainty.

The U.S. atomic energy commission said the UN report "generally confirms the statements in the June, 1956, report of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences with respect to the possible hazards" from radiation.

"It is important to note that insofar as leukemia and bone cancer are concerned, the committee has pointed out there is no certainty that fallout will produce any additional cases of either disease," the AEC statement said.

"As is the case with every technological advance," the AEC continued, "man must learn to live with new risks even as he accepts new benefits conferred upon him."

The majority of the committee took the view that the problem of controlling or curbing nuclear tests and other sources of radiation lies outside the group's scope.

Important Message From Reds Delivered To Faisal, Paper Says

Cairo —(AP)— The newspaper Al Ahram reported today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sent an important message on the Middle East to Saudi Arabia's Crown Prince Faisal.

The message was reported delivered to the Saudi Arabian embassy in Cairo but no comment was available from the embassy.

Al Ahram said Khrushchev's message "dealt with the political situation in the Arab area. It also referred to the importance of the emergency session of the UN general assembly.

Red China Unionists Dismissed From Jobs

Hong Kong —(AP)— Four top red China trades union officials have been labelled rightists and dismissed from their posts, Peiping radio reported today.

Thrown out of the all-China federation of trades unions, the radio said, were Tung Sing, the federation's secretary, and executive committee members Wang Yung, Chen Yu-we and Tu Chung-hsun.

Woman Picked For Commission

Washington —(AP)— President Eisenhower today nominated Mrs. Barbara Bates Gunderson, Republican national committeewoman from South Dakota, to be a civil service commissioner.

Mrs. Gunderson, 41, would replace Bernard L. Flanagan, who resigned recently under congressional charges that he falsified his government employment application forms.

Mrs. Gunderson lives in Rapid City, S. D. Her husband is an attorney there. The salary of a civil service commissioner is $20,000 a year.

$200,000 Fire Hits Kewaunee

Flames Destroy City's Largest Department Store

Kewaunee —(AP)— Kewaunee's largest department store building was destroyed by fire today, with a loss estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Nothing was carried out of the two-story brick building on the city's main street.

Fire in the block, which housed a hardware store, clothing shop and general store in about 160 feet of frontage, was discovered by a passerby at 3:45 this morning.

More than 50 firemen from Kewaunee, Two Rivers, Algoma and Luxemburg fought the blaze, with most of their efforts aimed at containing it.

The roof and second floor of the building, just across the street from the city hall, collapsed, but the walls remained standing.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Family Helps Hoover Mark 84th Birthday

Gromyko Expected to Talk Early in General Debate Starting Wednesday in UN

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

United Nations, N.Y. —(AP)— Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and 75 helpers prepared today for a drive to get the UN general assembly's emergency session to demand withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Gromyko was expected to speak early in the general debate, which starts Wednesday. He said on his arrival from Moscow Sunday that the Soviet government considers the question of the withdrawals "very serious" and his delegation "will do their best . . . to achieve positive results."

Pull Troops Quickly

Asian neutralists were reported seeking some means of inducing the western powers to pull their troops out quickly so the assembly could concentrate on other Middle Eastern problems.

Diplomatic sources said Burma, Ceylon, India and Indonesia were seeking to bring the 28-nation Asian - African group to a common policy on the withdrawal question. The group, which generally opposes foreign troops on Asian or African soil, holds the balance of power in the 81-nation assembly, where a two-thirds vote is needed for any major decision.

There was some belief that enlargement of the UN border observer corps in Lebanon might get U.S. forces out of there. They admitted Jordan was a tougher problem.

The United States and Britain have promised to withdraw their forces when the UN can protect the two countries, whose governments have said the United Arab Republic is working to overthrow them.

Underlining the difficult task facing the assembly, however, was a broadcast by King Hussein of Jordan accusing Nasser of serving as international communism's

New Russian Note Delivered

Blames Britain and U.S. for Shift Away From Summit Talks

Moscow —(AP)— Soviet Premier Khrushchev today blamed the United States and Britain for shifting discussion of the Middle East from a summit meeting to the U.N. general assembly.

In a letter to British Prime Minister Macmillan Khrushchev denied that he and the Soviet Union backed down from a summit meeting within the UN security council.

The letter, released today, in effect charged the United States and Britain with trying to stage a loaded session of the United Nations that would justify their "aggressive action" in the near and Middle East.

Backed Down

Macmillan, in a note to Khrushchev on Aug. 7, said the Soviet premier agreed to a summit meeting within the framework of the security council but backed down.

Khrushchev's newest reply denies this. He said he hoped the emergency session of the general assembly, which begins debate Wednesday, would "cope with the tasks before it" and thus "to a considerable extent clear the way toward calling a conference of leading statesmen of the west and east."

In concluding his letter this way, Khrushchev did not use the phrase "meeting of heads of governments."

Distribute Free U.S. Wheat in Lebanon Today

Beirut —(AP)— The United States began distributing $5 million worth of free wheat to Lebanon today.

The steamer Moline Victory began discharging an initial cargo of 3,500 tons. In all, 65,000 tons is being rushed to Lebanon.

At a dockside ceremony, U. S. Ambassador Robert McClintock said:

"American wheat will provide nourishment, employment and improved public services for the people of Lebanon. We believe it will benefit all your citizens and provide a powerful stimulus to the Lebanese national economy."

The Lebanese minister of national economy, Khazem El Khalil, thanked the American people for the wheat, but expressed the hope that aid will not be limited to this program.

An unusually dry spring and three months of civil disorders have brought a wheat shortage.

Nautilus' Skipper Rejoins Crew for Cruise to England

London —(AP)— Comdr. W. R. Anderson, skipper of the U. S. submarine Nautilus, arrived by plane today to rejoin the ship and crew which made the historic under-ice crossing of the north pole.

Anderson flew from New York after a ceremony in Washington honoring him for the feat in the nuclear-powered sub.

The Nautilus is expected to reach Portland, some 100 miles southwest of here, Tuesday. U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney will present the presidential unit citation to the entire crew of the vessel. The submarine is expected to remain in Britain for several days.

Postpone Balloon Trip

Minneapolis —(AP)— Unfavorable weather conditions today forced postponement of a 100,000 foot manned balloon flight scheduled to be launched Tuesday morning.

Winzen Research, Inc., contractor for the flight, said Capt. Grover J. Schock probably will make the ascension toward the end of the week, possibly Thursday or Friday.

Capt. Schock was scheduled to make a low altitude test flight in an open gondola today to check out some equipment, but unfavorable winds postponed that flight also.

He will be sealed inside a small airtight capsule slung beneath a huge plastic balloon for the stratosphere ride later this week. Plans call for him to stay up at least 24 hours while physical and psychological data is telemetered back to ground stations.

The air force said it hopes to gain information needed before a man can be put into space by rocket vehicles.

Capt. Schock will ride in the same gondola that carried Lt. Col. David G. Simons to a record 102,000 foot altitude last fall.

A North Central Airlines DC-3 veered off a runway on takeoff at Austin Straubel field near Green Bay Sunday and ended up in a brush covered gulley 200 feet from the end of the runway. An engine failure was blamed. None of the six passengers or three crew members were injured. (AP Wirephoto)

Develop Potential Manpower

Army Sets Out to Assist Amateur Missilemen in Shooting Rockets

Washington—(AP)—The army set out today to help amateur missilemen shoot their rockets — without blowing themselves up.

Headquarters began circulating to all commands instructions for aiding amateur rocket clubs, missile and other scientific groups which experiment in rocketry.

Must Sign Waivers

But in giving help, including use of some of the army's test ranges, the army is taking care that it isn't held liable for accidents.

The amateurs must sign waivers, agreeing that neither they nor their relatives will try to hold the army responsible for rocket mishaps, nor bring suit in court.

The circular says the army is setting up the assistance program because many requests for help in rocket firings have been received from amateur groups and because the army wants to encourage rocketry. The program will operate under general direction of its missile branch.

The army's interest is more than altruistic. Its circular lists, among other reasons, the development of a potential source of manpower to utilize in army missile units and industry in event of emergency. Also, the amateurs might develop something useful to the army.

The circular noted that another purpose of the program was to "keep before the public the army's eminent role in missile development and employment."

However, the primary objective is to help save amateur racketeers from injuring or killing themselves and to prevent danger to others, including persons riding in airplanes. No firings under army supervision will be permitted into airspace used by planes, the regulation says.

Safety Rules

When amateur groups fire rockets on army ranges, they must abide by a number of safety rules.

There must be a means of igniting the propellent from a distance not less than 150 feet if the propellent doesn't exceed 10 pounds. The distance increases with the size of the propellent.

No rockets may be fired vertically, but must be aimed into a trajectory. Impact must be a designated spot within the military reservation.

Urges Bigger Hike In Social Security

Kennedy Says Benefits Should Be Increased 8 Per Cent; Also Wants Boost in Death Payments

BY JOHN CHADWICK

Washington —(AP)— Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) urged today that old age benefits be increased 8 per cent instead of 7 per cent as provided in a house-passed social security bill.

In testimony prepared for the senate finance committee, he also advocated an increase in lump-sum death payments and an amendment to provide aid for dependent children with unemployed fathers.

In addition to Kennedy, the committee planned to receive testimony from a number of industry witnesses in the windup of two days of hearings it scheduled on the house measure.

As its first session on the bill Friday, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming vigorously opposed a section that would increase grants to the states for public assistance programs by $288 million in the first year.

Would Ask Veto

Flemming said he would recommend a presidential veto if this provision of the house bill were retained. But the secretary endorsed the proposed 7 per cent increase in social security insurance benefits, to be financed by a higher payroll tax.

Kennedy contended an 8 per cent increase is necessary to cover higher living costs.

"While the difference may seem small on paper," he said, "it is a vital dollars - and - cents difference to our retired workers and their families."

Other Changes

Kennedy also urged removal of the present dollar ceiling on lump-sum death payments and a return to a provision, previously in the law, for payments equal to three times the monthly benefit to which an insured worked is entitled.

He said this would mean a maximum payment of $381 instead of the present ceiling of $255.

"The meager lump sum payments now provided," Kennedy said, "will not take care of even a very modest funeral, to say nothing of helping to defray last illness expenses."

A third amendment proposed by Kennedy would permit federal grants to the states to aid needy children of a father who is unemployed. He said present law restricts such aid to cases arising from the death, disability or desertion of a parent.

Begin Grand Jury Probe of Gambling Ring

Expect Witnesses From All Over U. S. To be Called

Indianapolis —(AP)— A federal grand jury investigation of a broken Terre Haute, Ind., gambling syndicate begins today, with Indiana witnesses carrying star billing in the first act.

Tabbert

But before the probe is over, more than 100 big-time bookies and bettors from all over the nation will be walking into the federal building to tell what they know about a betting ring said to have grossed $2½ million in wagers before federal agents cracked it in a raid last Nov. 29.

Scheduled to testify today are Terre Haute Postmaster Frank Miklosek, four other Terre Haute postal workers, nine internal revenue service agents and five employes of the Manor House restaurant, situated under the rooms where the syndicate operated.

Targets in the investigation are six men arrested in the raid—former Marion County (Indianapolis) Sheriff Charles L. "Buck" Sumner and Joseph Jacobson of Indianapolis Leo Shaffer and Julius Horwick of Chicago, and Philip Share and Irwin Gordon of Las Vegas.

Wants Indictment

The six have not yet been brought to trial on misdemeanor charges of failure to buy $50 federal gambling stamps, but U. S. Attorney Don A. Tabbert wants them indicted on charges of evading excise taxes, an offense which could carry a prison term upon conviction.

Tabbert said he also will seek indictments against two other men believed connected with the syndicate — Jim Tamer of Miami and E. M. Wyatt, part owner of a Terre Haute tavern.

Witnesses subpoenaed in the case include retired comedian Zeppo Marx, Texas oil millionaire H. L. Hunt, bridge playing expert Tobias Stone and Dr. H. B. Kean, a physician on New York's swanky Park avenue.

The grand jury is expected to take about two weeks on the gambling investigation. Tabbert said none of the witnesses will be prosecuted, unless the jury uncovers evidence of them breaking some federal law. He warned however, that anyone invoking the fifth amendment too frequently may be hauled before a federal judge on contempt charges.

Committee Members Differ on Meaning Of Report on Adams

Republicans Claim Findings Show No Improper Pressure Brought

BY EDMOND LE BRETON

Washington —(AP)— Some Democratic and Republican members of a house subcommittee differ sharply on whether their report vindicates the conduct of Sherman Adams in a military contract settlement case.

The report, made public yesterday by the house armed services investigations subcommittee, said it found no evidence indicating presidential assistant Adams intended to influence the $40,382 penalty refund, after nearly 17 years, to Raylaine Worsteds, Inc., Manchester, N. H.

But when interviewed, members of the subcommittee divided along party lines in putting their own interpretations on their findings.

The report, adopted unanimously, was described by Rep. Porter Hardy (D-Va), a member, as "a minimum in the way of conclusions, but a maximum on which the subcommittee could agree."

See Vindication

Republicans hailed the report as vindication of Adams, who has been involved in two congressional investigations of reports that his prestige was used to get favored treatment for others. Adams has denied bringing any improper pressure to bear.

In its report, the subcommittee determined that Sen. Styles Bridges and Rep. Chester E. Merrow, both New Hampshire Republicans, and Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) at various times made inquiries about the Raylaine case. But there was no criticism of these congress members either in the report or in interviews.

On the Adams aspect of the case, Hardy suggested the public read the transcript of the subcommittee's closed door hearings and "judge for themselves whether the conduct disclosed in the subcommittee hearings conforms either to their personal standards to the preachments which have been voiced in high places."

Rep. William E. Hess (Ohio) senior Republican member of the subcommittee, said such a reading would show "not one scintilla of evidence of any attempt to influence the armed services board of contract appeals either by Sherman Adams or members of congress."

Hess discounted the "Dear Sherm" letters from persons interested in Raylaine, which were relayed to the Pentagon from the White House with requests for replies.

Never Saw Letters

"I would venture to say Sherman Adams never even saw those letters, but they were sent along by some secretary," Hess said.

Hess joined Rep. William H. Bates (R-Mass), another subcommittee member, in saying Americans properly expect they can write to their elected or appointed officials about problems and get replies.

"I can't think of anybody else doing less than Adams did, or see how anything could be more routine," Bates said.

"He forwarded the letters he received. If he had written his own letter to the defense department that would have been much more personal and weighty."

Raylaine, penalized $49,704 in 1941 for late delivery of cloth to the army, fought the decision intermittently until 1957 when the comptroller general and the contract appeals board reversed earlier findings and granted a new hearing. This resulted in a finding that much of the delay was excusable because of war shortages. The company got back $40,382.

Thomson Foe Of Sales Tax

Governor Shares Blame for Farmers' Woes, Nelson Says

By The Associated Press

The weekend in Wisconsin politics brought Gov. Vernon Thomson's declared opposition to a state sales tax.

The Republican governor told a Milwaukee television audience Saturday, "I've been against a sales tax for a long time; I haven't changed my position on that."

In reply to a question by a listener, Thomson said, "I have no expectations that any such bill will be passed by the Republican legislature."

State Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Madison, Democratic candidate for governor, Sunday said the governor shared the blame with Agriculture Secretary Benson for the Wisconsin farmer's economic woes.

Raps Farm Taxes

Nelson, speaking in Eau Claire, said, "Benson hits them low with dairy price supports and Gov. Thomson hits them with farm property taxes that are the highest in the nation."

The Madison Democrat said high farm property taxes are "a direct result of the governor's great talent for looking the other way while local school construction debts alone in the state increased from $21 million in 1948 to $243 million in 1957."

Christ T. Seraphim of Milwaukee, Democratic candidate for attorney general, also blamed the state Republican administration for the burden of the property taxpayers. He spoke to a group at the Fond du Lac County fair Sunday.

Burglars Get Jewelry From Tiffany Window

Value of Loot Set at $163,000; First Robbery of Store in Over 50 Years

New York —(AP)— As the sun rose over Manhattan yesterday, burglars punched holes in two display windows of staid, world - famed Tiffany's and lifted out jewelry valued at $163,300.

The arrival in New York of Soviet foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko helped the brazen burglars. A patrolman whose beat includes the Fifth avenue store was withdrawn to reinforce a guard detail for the Russian diplomat.

The loot of the first burglary at Tiffany's in more than 50 years probably netted about $55,000. A fence, police say, usually gives one-third of the total value.

Police theorized that the burglars pounded at the shatterproof display windows with sledge hammers, making holes about five inches wide.

A man's arm could easily fit through each hole. The windows were not protected by a burglar alarm system.

Stolen Items

Two diamond necklaces, a diamond ring and a diamond pin clip, all covered by insurance, were stolen. Two sapphire and diamond brooches, which sell for about $9,000 each, were ignored—possibly too far away to be reached quickly.

The burglary was discovered by a foot patrolman. On duty at the store all night were two watchmen. They said they had not heard the breaking of the window glass, which is five-eighths of an inch.

Tiffany's was first robbed a couple of years after its establishment in 1837. Its last serious theft was in 1904 when three diamonds worth $80,000 were stolen.

In 1930, a blonde told a salesman she could not decide between two engagement rings. He and a Pinkerton agent accompanied her to a hotel where she could show both rings to her mother, in bed with a cold. She entered the bedroom alone and escaped through another door with the rings.

Greece May Return Cyprus Question to UN General Assembly

Athens, Greece —(AP)— Greece today was reported planning to take her claim to the island of Cyprus back to the U. N. assembly after apparently fruitless talks with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

After his visit to Athens Friday, Macmillan flew on to Ankara and met with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. A brief communique said only that they had a "frank and friendly exchange of views."

It was apparent that all three nations were holding fast to their previous positions.

Crosby Boy to Come Home From Hospital

Hollywood —(AP)— Bing Crosby's new son and Kathy Crosby will leave the hospital Wednesday.

Word Passed On Strike of 2,350 Drivers

Sacramento, Calif. —(AP)— The word was passed unofficially today that 2,350 drivers of the Sacramento Council of Teamsters had called a strike.

Official word was awaited from council headquarters.

The council has jurisdiction from the Oregon line south to Bakersfield.

But if the trucking companies hold to their original declaration that "a strike against one is a strike against all," 1,600 firms in 11 western states will close their doors.

As more than 400 members of Sacramento Council 38 ended a 90-minute meeting this morning, picket captains were appointed and picket bands were distributed.

As the meeting broke one teamster official was heard telling another: "Don't talk to anyone about the strike."

One speaker at the closed meeting was heard to say: "As far as we're concerned, they (employers) can lock up any damned thing they want to."

Marathon sessions of Teamsters union and employer leaders Sunday failed to bring any break in a deadlocked wage dispute between the California Trucking association and the Teamsters' Sacramento, Calif., joint council 38.

'Ten North Frederick,' American Film, Named Best at 1958 Festival

Locarno, Switzerland —(AP)— "Ten North Frederick," an American film based on John O'Hara's novel of the same name, was awarded the gold trophy last night for the best picture presented at the annual film festival here.

The prize for the best actress went to Italy's Carla Gravina, for her performance in "Amore e Chiacchiere" (love and chatter), and the best male performance award went to Chinese actor Kwan Shan for "The True Story of Ah-Q," made in Hong Kong.

3 Involved in Baby Swap Jailed; May Face Abandonment Charges

Tulsa, Okla. —(AP)— The couple which admitted trading their baby and the man who allegedly swapped a pickup truck for the infant remained in jail today. All three face possible child abandonment charges.

Detective Mrs. Readdy Walter Turner said last night that a charge of child abandonment has been drawn up against Richard Readdy, 26, Shamokin, Pa., and his wife Helen Margaret Readdy, 20.

Turner said that Jesse Lester Burger, 42, of El Dorado Springs, Mo., would probably be charged with conspiring to violate the child abandonment law.

The 5-month-old boy, Paul Andrew, was placed in the Tulsa juvenile shelter.

Jail matron Mildred Buchanan said that Mrs. Readdy told her she expects another child and is about one month pregnant. But a doctor who examined the woman said it is still too early to tell.

Asked Custody

Mrs. Readdy's father, William Murphy of Shamokin, called Tulsa police last night and offered to come to Tulsa if authorities would grant him custody of the child. He said it would depend on a juvenile court hearing.

Tulsa police officers said the alleged baby swap came about this way:

The Pennsylvania couple—out of work, almost broke and without a car—was hitchhiking to California where Readdy hoped to find a job.

In Joplin, Mo., they were picked up by Burger who was driving with his wife and 7 year old daughter to Tulsa.

Burger was quoted as saying:

"In a kidding way I said, 'I'd like to have that baby.' Readdy said 'Boy, you sure could have it.' And his wife agreed."

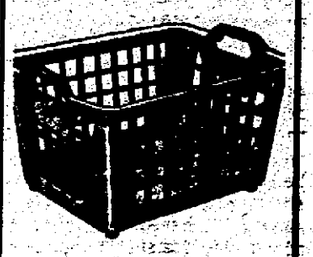

Mrs. Readdy was quoted as saying:

"He (Burger) kept saying how the baby would be better off with them than with us. I didn't want to do it. I gave in first."

Police exhibited a hastily scribbled bill of sale which Burger said Readdy demanded to make the swap "legal." It showed Burger had transferred his 1957 pickup truck to Readdy for $21.30 although police said no money changed hands.

In Tulsa Burger's sister, Mrs. Gladys Prather, notified Tulsa police who went to her home and arrested Burger and picked up the baby. The Readdys were stopped in a pickup truck 10 miles from here.

Pull Boards From Spillway to Relieve Pressure on Gates After Heavy Downpour

Clintonville — Quick action by Chief of Police Len Manser in alerting several city officials Sunday morning was credited with keeping the dam across the Pigeon river, one block west of Main street, from washing out.

A downpour of 2.15 inches of rain in just over a half hour built up considerable pressure back of the gates on the dam, twisting them, and the water was pouring over the top.

A group of men pulled the boards out of the spillway to relieve the pressure against the gates. Among the men were Mayor Louis Krueckenberg, Public Works Director Basil Arvey, Street Commissioner Elmer Anderson, Chief of Police Manser, Ald. Willis Gensler, chairman of the street committee, Larry Yunker and several other volunteers.

3.4 Inch Total

Clintonville's rainfall from shortly after midnight Sunday until 10:30 Sunday morning totalled 3.4 inches, according to the official records of John Kafka. City streets were covered over the curb in many places, some basements were flooded, and a number of trees and large branches were blown down.

The city utility reported primary wires down on Second street and some wires down on Third street. A television antenna was blown down on E. Twelfth street.

Repairing the gates on the dam had been discussed at the special meeting of the common council July 23. The city owns the dam and is responsible for it. Arvey reported at that meeting that the estimated cost of repairing all three gates on the dam would be about $4,794. The present gates were built in 1919.

The council authorized the public property committee to investigate and bring back a definite recommendation to the council.

The council will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

The first dam was constructed in 1857. In 1872, it and a wooden bridge were swept away in a flood and then rebuilt. A similar fate happened in 1881. The present dam was rebuilt after a flood in 1912.

Elementary Pupils In New Districts Should Re-Register

All elementary school children who have moved to a new school district or who moved to Appleton from another city should register at their school between Aug. 18 and 29, according to public school officials.

Because advance registration was held in elementary schools during May, only those youngsters who have moved since then need register.

Parents of kindergarten children will be notified by mail between Aug. 27 and Sept. 2 as to whether their children will attend morning or afternoon sessions, Miss Martha Sorensen, director of elementary education, said.

Falls in Home

Charles Cather, 43, 1314 N. Charlotte street, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital Sunday evening by Larry's ambulance after he fell and cut his head on a small table in his home. Cather slipped on a rug, he told attendants. He is in satisfactory condition today.

Search Party Seeks 2 Killed In Plane Crash

Crandon, Wis. —(AP)— Forest county Sheriff Lyle Palmer led a search party into a dense forest area today to recover the bodies of a man and boy killed in a plane crash Saturday night.

Tom Rucinski, 40, of Iron River, Mich., the pilot, and Gary Jackson, 16, of Stambaugh, Mich., were killed in the crash. A Civil Air Patrol plane spotted the wreckage from the air Sunday but the rugged country prevented a ground party from entering the area until an abandoned railroad spur was found and used as a trail. The spur went within half a mile of the crash scene.

Palmer said the plane went down at the edge of Nicolet National forest, about 180 miles north of Milwaukee.

Another plane, piloted by Gary's father, Ernest Jackson, made a forced landing at 10 p.m. Saturday in a field beside a road near Long lake, some 15 miles from the crash scene. Jackson notified authorities of the missing plane and a hunt was launched.

The plane crashed on a flight from Milwaukee's Timmerman field to Stambaugh, Mich.

Egg Harbor Unveils Statue Honoring Chief Roy Oshkosh

Seldom does a community erect a statue to one of its members while he is in the prime of life, but that is the case at Egg Harbor.

A life-sized figure of the indian chief was erected in honor of Chief Roy Oshkosh, titular head of the Menominee tribe.

Chief Roy Oshkosh

Dr. Robert Cowles, Green Bay, long-time summer resident of Horseshoe Bay Farms near Egg Harbor, is responsible for the idea. It was he who hired Ernest Dombrowe, Door county woodcarver, to make a pine replica of Chief Oshkosh in full tribal costume.

Cub Scout Explains

Why a statue to an unpretentious man of simple means and ordinary ambitions? A 9-year-old Cub Scout supplied the best answer: "We like him. He's the best Indian we know. He's real! He shows us how to make things. And he's fun, too!"

Erecting statues in memory of the Menominee chieftans seems to be an old Wisconsin custom. Oshkosh placed a statue of old Chief Oshkosh, great-grandfather of the present chief, in Menominee park because he was "a man of peace, beloved by all".

"Those are great words to live by," said the present Chief Oshkosh. "I hope the people of my community will feel that way about me when I am gone."

The statue was unveiled Saturday at Egg Harbor by Robert Lewis Cowles, II, Dr. Cowles' grandson. Boy Scouts from the Kewaunee troop, Sturgeon Bay, performed several Indian dances.

After the unveiling, the Cowles entertained 135 guests at a fish boil at Anahuac, their summer home on Horseshoe bay.

12 Teachers Take Part in Trees Session

Twelve Fox Cities teachers are attending the accredited summer session for teachers being held at the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River.

The session opened Sunday, Aug. 3, and will continue for two and one-half weeks. It is sponsored by the 10 Wisconsin State colleges.

Taking part from the Fox Cities are James Denil, Brussels, who will teach at the Franklin school; Mrs. Ann Einspahr, 1419 E. Dewey avenue, elementary teacher at Richmond school; Mrs. Barbara Geil, 189 Gardners Row, who teaches at the Spring Road school, Neenah; Mrs. Dorothy Ann Kain, 114½ Center street, Neenah, first grade teacher at the Spring Road school; Miss Margaret Kuchenberg, 419 S. Commercial street, Neenah, special teacher at Kimberly Junior high school, Neenah.

Mrs. Aileen Laib, route 1, Hortonville, Hortonville elementary teacher; Miss Mabel Larson, Abbottsford, elementary teacher at Buttes des Morts school, Menasha, Frank Morgan, Bear Creek, fifth and sixth grade teacher at the Caroline State Graded school; Mrs. Luella Schernick, 517 W. Lawrence street, Miss Mary J. Schilcher, Oshkosh, who teaches at McKinley school, Neenah; Mrs. Helen C. Schultz, route 2, Neenah, principal at the Clayton District school; and Mrs. Ruth Solberg, 421 W. Fifth street, special teacher for the mentally retarded, Outagamie County school system.

Argentina Accused of Destroying Lighthouse

Santiago, Chile —(AP)— Chile has charged Argentina with landing marines on the island of Snipe in the Cape Horn area and destroying a lighthouse there.

Chilean and Argentine claims on territories off the tip of South America sometimes overlap. Chile says it has unquestionable rights over Snipe, but the protest note indicated that Argentina objects to Chile's maintaining a lighthouse on the barren island.

That the time within which creditors of the deceased shall present claims against such estate for examination and allowance is hereby fixed and limited up to and including the 17th day of November, 1958;

That all claims against the deceased be examined and adjusted by the Court on the 18th day of November, 1958, at the opening of Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard;

That notice thereof be given by publication of this Order for three consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Appleton Post-Crescent, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date hereof; and by mailing a copy of this Order to every interested person whose post office address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, at least twenty days before the hearing or proceeding

Dated August 8, 1958.

Birthday Present

Alan London Replaces Dick Clark Wednesday

BY JINGO

Alan London, WFRV - TV disc jockey, gets the break of his young life this week on the day of his 22nd birthday anniversary.

Jingo

Wednesday London will substitute for vacationing Dick Clark on "American Bandstand," the ABC - TV network afternoon pop tune and talent show.

"Bandstand" is shown from 2 o'clock to 3:30 and from 4 to 5 o'clock Monday through Friday afternoons on WFRV-TV.

London is a Detroit native and a graduate of Wayne State university. He's been with WFRV - TV since April 14, joining the staff after six months at WDMJ - TV, Marquette, Mich., 18 months at WJLB radio, Detroit, and six months on the production staff at WXYZ radio, Detroit.

Station Publicist Joella Cohen reports London was selected after nomination by the station and a selection probably based on the station's plugs of "Bandstand."

Whatever the reason, she says the selection has put the talented London in a daze, a sort of mumbling reaction.

London gives "Look or Listen" fans pantomime, puppets and hats mornings from 6:45 to 9:45. A fellow who skipped second grade because he could read so well, he now talks off the cuff the entire time.

Jingo's Jewels: "The $64,000 Challenge" moves to NBC-TV this fall. Takes over the old "Arthur Murray Party" spot on Thursday nights . . . . The re-run of "The Pied Piper of Hamlin" is set for Sept. 16 on NBC-TV. Stars Van Johnson and Kay Starr . . . . MGM sold 52 "Our Gang" comedies, 48 "Crime Does Not Pay" episodes and 69 "Passing Parade" shorts to TV for $500,000 . . . . Gale Storm has changed the name of her show from "Oh, Susanna" to "The Gale Storm Show" and will feature much more music this season.

Danny Thomas returns to TV Oct. 6 . . . . ABC-TV has purchased 170 "Harvey" cartoons for its Tuesday and Thursday night "Fun at Five" shows . . . . Gregory Peck's latest film, "The Big Country," runs two hours, 46 minutes . . . . "Night Cry," Wednesday night's "Kraft Mystery" on NBC-TV, was written by 22-year-old Larry Cohen . . . . WBAY-TV has four full-time newsmen to prepare its 24 newscasts each week. They can put newsfilm on the air 20 minutes after it's shot . . . . Ben Knox, the football quarterback, makes his record but with "Play Ball With Me, Baby."

Cast for "Playhouse 90's" first show Sept. 25: Luther Adler as Molotov, Thomas Gomez as Malenkov and E. G. Marshall as Beria. Title: "The Plot to Kill Stalin" . . . . ABC-TV will beam Freddy Martin and his band live from the Cocoanut Grove this season . . . . Kay Starr stars in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," a 90-minute spectacular being prepared for fall . . . . The Braves - Redlegs game Sept. 20 will be telecast by WBAY-TV. So will the special "Music, U.S.A." show, featuring Johnny Green and Benny Goodman, on Sept. 8. "Music, U.S.A." will pre-empt "Studio One" for the night.

Congress Prodded to Work on Program for Nuclear Shelters

Washington —(AP)— Congress and the Eisenhower administration have been prodded to get going on a multibillion dollar program of building shelters to protect Americans against nuclear attack.

Otherwise, a house government operations subcommittee said, "Our country stands in mortal danger."

In a report released yesterday, the group criticized present plans of federal civil defense officials to build 40 sample shelters against radioactive fallout for states and local interests to copy.

On this, the report said:

"The subcommittee will not lend its endorsement to any pretense that this policy promises nationwide protection against nuclear weapons effects in the foreseeable future.

"An ostrich-like policy will not save American lives and property."

Indian Dancers Will Perform Sunday

The Menominee Indian ceremonial dancers will perform their ritual dances at Peavey Falls Sunday afternoon. They will dance in full regalia and many are said to be the finest Indian dancers in the state.

Audiences Harder to Please Than Critics

New York —(AP)— Broadway theater audiences are still tougher than the professional critics.

Appraising the box office results of the 1957-'58 season, the trade magazine, 'Variety,' found that the public swiftly stampeded to 12 of the 51 shows included in the study. Among the seven critics of the daily newspapers, the toughest recommended 16 of the productions, and the most lenient liked 30.

Maurice Brown Gets New Teaching Post

Maurice F. Brown, a member of the Lawrence college English faculty from 1953 to 1955, has been appointed instructor of English at Colby college, Waterville, Me. He graduated from Lawrence in 1949 and received his Ph.D. degree from Harvard university this summer.

A native of Geneva, Ill., Brown has held a teaching fellowship at Harvard.

Hollywood Notes

Liz Taylor Recovering From Husband's Death

BY BOB THOMAS
AP motion pivture writer

Hollywood —(AP)— Elizabeth Taylor is coming out of her bereavement over the death of Mike Todd. She is often dating Arthur Loew, Jr., scion of the show business family and a friend since her early years at MGM. And Liz has indicated that she will be available for film roles that appeal to her.

"After Todd's death, she didn't care if she worked or not," said Richard Brooks, who directed her in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." "She finished the picture only because Mike was so hepped up on it. Now she wants to work some more."

Brooks said it was touch and go when Liz returned to work after the tragedy. A line like "you don't know what it is to lose someone you love" would break her up and work had to be suspended for the rest of the day.

But the results are worth all the trials. "Cat" is a masterpiece of sustained dramatics, and Liz never looked lovelier . . .

Not Worried

Audrey Hepburn is not worried about being directed by husband Mel Ferrer for the first time in "Green Mansions." After all, she argues, they have appeared together in a movie ("War and Peace"), on the stage ("Ondine") and on TV ("Mayerling").

"Marriage is a pretty complex relationship," she says. "If Mel and I can live together, we certainly ought to be able to work together" . . .

Gary Crosby's comment re papa Bing's TV deal with ABC: "I understand he makes some films for them and then they give him the network." Gary wants no part of a series for himself, favors guest shots only . . .

Launches Film

Dore Schary has launched his first independent film, "Lonely Hearts," but he won't tie himself down to Hollywood. As soon as he finishes the newspaper yarn, he heads back to New York to put on another play with the Theater guild. Then he'll return for another picture, probably the film version of his Broadway hit, "Sunrise at Campobello" . . .

Alan Ladd nixed a TV series for his son David, who drew rave notices for "The Proud Rebel." He doesn't want the lad to work that hard. Nor is there a part for David in Alan's current "Man in the Net." "The boy's on his own, as far as pictures are concerned," says papa . . .

The State's Rising Debt

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate for governor, has hit a soft spot in the record of the Republican administrations in Madison in citing the increasing total of state debt of a state government which is ostensibly bound by a debt prohibition in its constitution.

It is not entirely clear whether Gov. Thomson's challenger is indignant about the debt as such, or about what he calls the governor's desire to conceal the fact that there is such a long-term obligation of the state, and that it has been increasing rapidly in size. Chances are that he is not worried about debt as such, or that he won't feel free to challenge the fact of debt directly, since there are those Democrats and other liberals who believe in debt as a principle in public administration and who have in the past proposed the repeal of the century-old anti-debt clause.

It is good, however, to have such matters debated in the public arena. Our own position is that this surreptitious — although probably quite legal — tendency to circumvent the plain intent of the constitution is one of the least admirable characteristics of the Republican regimes at the capitol.

The lawyers have been technically clever in these matters, and they have won the approval of the state supreme court for artificial corporations and other devices that are mere fronts for the avoidance of the state's constitutional principles.

The state university and state college building corporations, for example, are now making improvements with borrowed money. Such loans are secured by the dedication of future student fee receipts, in ratios controlled by state statute. This seems like a plausible arrangement. The students who are the beneficiaries of this new plant, it is argued, are paying for it. Yet that is only part of the story. To the extent that these future fee receipts diversions are paid into the accounts of the state's creditors, they won't be available for regular university operations. Direct tax appropriations in those biennial periods will be required to make up the difference. By an elaborate fiscal sleight of hand, the taxpayers of Wisconsin have been committed to buy in installments properties that they might not be willing to pay for in a lump sum.

Yet it was precisely such long-term obligations that the constitutional fathers sought to prevent and that any taxpayer reading the plain language of the state constitution would hold to be illegal.

It would be better, in a state which is proud of its public integrity, to meet the problem directly and to modify the debt limitations of the state constitution. We are kidding only ourselves, as Sen. Nelson might have added in his indictment. That Democrats as a whole are opposed either to these expenditures or to these debts, however, we feel entitled to doubt on the record.

'Gee, That's Terrible'

Mr. Hemingway Would Cover His Tracks

When Ernest Hemingway learned that Esquire magazine was about to reprint three of his Spanish Civil war short stories he went to court to stop this republication of thinking of another day. He claimed that the magazine had permission only for the original publication; he said to reprint the stories would not only violate his property rights, it would also result in "great injury and irreparable damage to the plaintiff."

The articles the magazine proposed to reprint were, "The Denunciation," "The Butterfly and the Tank," and "Night Before Battle." Some of the characters in the articles speak favorably of the Loyalist cause. Mr. Hemingway has now agreed that one of the articles, "The Butterfly and the Tank," be reprinted without revision. However, in his original argument against republication of his 1938-39 articles he made his reasons quite clear. He said:

> The passage of time can affect the writings of authors either favorably or unfavorably. Illustrative is the change in attitude of people to writings of men during the time Russia was our ally to the present attitude of people to such men and their writings now that Russia is perhaps our greatest enemy.

Many a person has changed his mind about questions of the day in the light of subsequent developments. There is nothing wrong about changing one's opinions. Only a fool would persist in a stand after the logic of the situation has proved him wrong. A person who learns and changes is entitled to more consideration than the fellow who just happened to guess right the first time. Arthur Miller, who is famous both as a playwright and as the husband of Marilyn Monroe, recently told a congressional committee that he would not now support the Communist causes he had backed in the past.

Miller's statement is fair and frank and we have no doubt that he is honored for it by the great body of Americans who recognize the right of any person to change his mind.

But if any person proposes to pose as a leader or a molder of public opinion he must expect to have his statements of today read in the light of those he made last year and ten or twenty years ago. Many writers held in high esteem have lived down worse things that Mr. Hemingway would have concealed. An obvious fact of history is that a writer's work will live on if it is good. No act of a writer, including the expression of mistaken opinions, has ever prevented the reading public from seizing upon good writing and lifting it to a high place in literature. Hemingway's effort to cover his missteps was a great piece of folly and very bad public relations.

Viewpoints on Federal Spending

It is very easy for politicians and editors to be objective about federal spending when the interests of their communities are not directly involved. Interesting examples of such comment were provided recently by an editorial in the Milwaukee Journal and a reply in the Salt Lake Tribune.

The Journal spoke disparagingly of the huge land reclamation projects in the western states. It pointed out that the cost to the American taxpayer of bringing new drylands into production by federal irrigation projects now runs from $200 to $800 per acre and they further increase food and fiber surpluses now plaguing us.

The Journal's point that we already have too much agricultural land is noted by the Salt Lake Tribune and it comments that critics have a way of lumping together all agricultural crops to build a case that the nation will never need new land for crop production. The Tribune claims that population growth and industrial expansion may result in a shortage of certain foods in the future. It claims further that the irrigation projects permit the farmers in the West to diversify crops to meet market conditions and avoid the one crop economy which results in surpluses. About one-third of the reclaimed land in the west is devoted to nuts and fruits not in surplus, and the other two-thirds to forage and grain for livestock, the Utah paper says.

Having defended its own position, the Tribune turns to federal spending which is largely supported in Wisconsin. "Unlike many other types of public works, notably rivers and harbors projects (and it would be interesting to know the extent to which Wisconsin has benefited from federally financed programs which require little or no local contribution) the only outlay for irrigation and electric power phases of reclamation is paid back fully to the federal government," the Tribune asserted.

It is not necessary to decide the winner of this argument here. It is sufficient to note that federal spending is generally supported by the communities it benefits. The reverse of this is the ancient saying, "It all depends on whose ox is gored."

Another Mother Protests on Pictures, Previews and Books

Editor, Post-Crescent:

God bless Mrs. James E. Ciske for caring enough about our youngsters' morals to write about sensational previews at children's matinees. If only more mothers and fathers would step out of their lethargy and instead of saying "Let George do it," stiffen their backbones enough to protest outwardly the showing of dirty movies (and I mean dirty — for in my mind they are nothing else), and dirty previews which sneak up on the child and scandalize them beyond words. I, too, have had the same experience when attending the movies with my six, seven, and nine year old children. Often after a wonderful Walt Disney movie, along comes a preview of "Swivel-hips and his hic-cup serenade," or "God's Little Acre," or one of these teenage jailhouse epics which are all the rage right now. Presently when my children see a preview of this sort, they say: "Mommy, we won't be going to that show will we? That's not nice, is it?" Presently they are very conscious of what's right and what's wrong. But with sin glamorized at every bend in the road, it's going to be a never-ending struggle to keep them that way . . .

Many parents are doing thir utmost trying to steer their children clear of such filth, but with the State being ever watchful against physical disease of its people, why cannot we, as decent human beings, expect the same protection against moral disease? As long as there is a buck to be made from dirty pictures, dirty books, dirty movies or whatever else there is that can be made obscene, we will have obscenity. One way we could wage war against filth would be to tighen our purses. Refuse to attend the movies of that sort, check on the previews of coming attractions and keep our children away from the good movie if it is accompanied by a bad one, or a bad preview. . . .

Also let us not be so anxious to entertain our teenagers — rather give them work to do. Were we born only to be entertained? Since when? This reference is made to teenagers because they spend more money for movies than others, as well as more money for the filthy pocket books which I have seen them reading as they walked the street, stopping now and then to show "choice" passages to their friends . . .

Is it any real mystery why this country is on the brink of disaster? God is merciful, but He will not be mocked. Is it already too late for us to return to the old-fashioned way of life, where sin was truly sin? Pray, that there is still time to change our ways!

For Whom the Cash Register Bells Toll —

From the Wall Street Journal

The writer has served with honor in many wars and he does not care what people think about his politics. He does not want a magazine to reprint two of his stories about the Spanish Civil War in "The Armchair Esquire," an anthology, because he wants to revise them. It is not true that the writer is worried about a change in public sentiment toward Russia in our time. The writer does not worry about such things. The lawyers misbehaved badly in saying the writer does worry about such things.

The writer wishes to protect his reprint rights. The mistake reflects badly on his courage. What a way to be wounded!

The publisher wondered if he was to have or have not. But the writer did not bid farewell to "Armchair Esquire." One Spanish War story will be printed in the book by a magazine not noted for men without women.

The publicity is not to bad. The people now know the book and many will buy it. Do not believe the winner takes nothing. When you hear the book store cash registers rings don't ask for whom the bell tolls. Just know that the sum also rises.

Road Building Reflects Changes in Thinking

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The state government has grown to awesome size during a single generation and perhaps no one is more conscious of it than the correspondent who tries to observe its operations single-handedly.

Wyngaard

The most diligent bystander is constantly being brought up with a start by trends and developments he should have known about but noted only vaguely and with less than exact attention.

A magnificent example is the revolution in highway planning and construction.

A recent tour of some of the principal current highway relocation and reconstruction projects was a revelation. A chat with scholarly William Steuber, the highway commission's chief of public information, discloses additional details that are startling to the reporter who imagined vainly that he pretty well knew what was going on.

HOW IT GOES

Consider a few examples that will contrast highway construction in 1920, when the first effort to build a state-sponsored highway net in Wisconsin was well underway, and 1958.

In those days the progressive highway engineer accepted highway grades of 10 per cent without worrying about them.

Today Wisconsin is building most of its roads with a maximum grade of only 3 per cent — almost imperceptible to most drivers.

The idea of maximum curvature was an unapproachable ideal in most instances in 1920. Right angles were common, if not altogether accepted.

Today the curves are long and gentle, and 3 per cent is the standard being built into the new Interstate road system now under execution, some 450 miles of which will be in Wisconsin.

An 18-foot gravel surface was typical of the state trunk system. Today the state is building 2-lane 24-foot concrete pavements, with generously wide shoulders. Base courses in the earlier time were primitive, if they were planned at all. Today there is a minimum of 17 inches of sand and gravel lift and base, for the most costly sub-structure ever written into construction specifications. The earliest state roads were proudly built for speeds of 30 miles on hour. Today the engineers think in terms of a safe 70 miles per hour. The frontage and surface roads on the limited access main routes are now being built according to standards that would have appeared the height of profligacy only a generation ago.

THE PRICE

There is a handsome price tag attached to this evidence of progress — as there is to all of the public services that have proliferated since those simpler times.

The highway department of Wisconsin now is spending at a rate two to three times the outlay of the whole state government in 1920.

The mile of surfaced road that used to cost $18,000 now costs $667,000 on an average (on the "I" system, for example) and in a populous section can well exceed $1,000,000.

Some items of construction cost have actually declined, reflecting the technological advances of the era. Earth-moving is an example. But millions of yards of earth are being moved today, where a 10,000 yard job appeared formidable in the earlier time.

The costs are staggering, considered literally and out of context. The taxpayer appears willing enough, but just in case, this capitol correspondent hras resolved to pay a little closer attention.

Risky to Leave Military Bases On Foreign Soil

From Montclair, Ala., Journal

When U. S. military bases began to be built in foreign countries, fears were expressed as to how long we might be welcome. The friend of today may be neutral, even hostile, tomorrow; national interests, as seen by local politicians, are subject to change. That fears were not altogether groundless is indicated by development in Morocco.

We established bases there through an agreement with France, which then controled Morocco. But the latter country has become independent. Its government has not yet asked that we get out, but it is committed to the doctrine of "non-dependence," avoiding entangling alliance and steering clear of involvent even in the cold war.

French troops are still in Morocco; negotiations are under way for their withdrawal. Morocco is outspoken in wanting the French out. It is argued that if American forces are allowed to stay, it might constitute a precedent for French troops staying, too.

Fears have been expressed as to bases far more important than those in Morocco. Some think that France herself might break away if we do not stop trying to tell her how to run what she considers to be her business, especially in Algeria. A European defense setup without France as a base would be "up in the air" indeed. At present, this seems unlikely to come to pass. But it is being demonstrated anew that building on the other man's lot without a firm contract can be risky, and such a contract, of an enduring nature, is difficult if not impossible to get, in view of the possibility of changes, as in Morocco.

Lightning Strikes Tree, Barn

75 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 16, 1879.

During the severe thunderstorm Monday morning, a large oak tree on the grounds of Mrs. N. M. Edwards was struck by lightning and slivered to pieces. The servant girl in the kitchen near by was prostrated by shock, but soon recovered.

The immense barn of M. Gloudemans, north of Little Chute, was struck during the same storm and its contents were entirely consumed. Besides a large hay crop, agricultural implements, harnesses, the entire crop of 800 bushels of wheat were destroyed. Loss was about $2,200.

The biggest dial "cut" since 1930 and one of the biggest in the history of the telephone company was accomplished without a hitch Saturday night. When midnight rolled around the people of eight communities in the Appleton area who now have the advantage of efficient mechanical telephone service, began to use it. Just about everyone who stayed awake tried out the new contraption. Company officials said the call load was about four times heavier than normal for that time of the night.

Miss Elaine Knakmuhl, Appleton, and Miss Helen Wong, Beloit, were representing Wisconsin at the second Girls' Nation Meeting sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary in Washington, D. C.

Britain Makes Cautious Move in Arabian Dilemma

From The Baltimore Sun

The newest and surely the smallest pawn in the Arab struggle involving the east, the west and Col. Nasser is neither guns nor oil nor nationalism but something called qat. And what's qat? Qat is a leaf which, when chewed, sets the blood to racing in the chewer and which spurs intense conversation and sometimes intense work. Such has been the qat problem throughout southern Arabia that the British colonial regime in Aden last year forbade its sale there.

But there is no stopping an Adenese with a taste for qat: black-market qat salesmen sprang up across the border in the sultanate of Lathej and, at double the prices, the Adense flocked to chew it. But soon all the money in Aden began to drain out so fast for qat that the colony was in danger of going broke.

This was the British dilemma: they could keep qat under prohibition only at the risk of impoverishing every Adenese; yet if they lifted the ban they risked charges by Col. Nasser that they were using qat to bemuse the Adenese and hence deafen them to the calls of Nasser-brand nationalism for all Arabs.

It was indeed an economic-diplomatic pickle and only a few days ago the British regime faced up to it. They came down on the side of legalizing qat. Nasser remains silent, so the Aden government radio has begun cautiously to push its new qat program via a radio show called "Qat Corner."

So far, so good. But the British must in the end get rid of qat chewing as a simple matter of health control. And there they meet the stubbon fact that, in Adenese circles, the only cure known for a qat hangover is more qat.

U. S. Navy Sub Alters Modern War Strategy

Atom-Powered Craft Can Become Floating Missiles Platform

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The United States navy has done it again. It has revolutionized strategic warfare in the world today, as it has done several times in past history.

Lawrence

For while the "sputniks" whirl around in far-off space, their military value in relation to a precise target still much in doubt, it has been demonstrated that the atom-powered submarine with its capacity to fire missiles, can become a major deterrent to war itself.

Most people who since school days have become accustomed to remember maps that separate the hemispheres do not realize that the borders of Soviet Russia lie across the top of the world and are bounded by a stretch of nearly 3,000 miles of the Arctic ocean which in turn is accessible from both the Atlantic and Pacific sides of north America. This geographical circumstance means that Soviet Russia now is vulnerable to attack by missile-carrying submarines which can fire into her heartland and reach almost any city therein with atomic weapons.

Pivotal Point

The north pole, pivotal point for the plane-carrying bombs of the U. S. strategic air force that can go across the arctic directly to Soviet Russia, now becomes also the rendezvous of American submarines hiding under the big ice-cap in the polar seas.

The latest exploit by the "Nautilus" — which cruised submerged from Hawaii by way of the Bering Sea along the coast of Alaska, then traversed the arctic under the ice to a point beyond Greenland and, still submerged, headed this week for Great Britain — is startling in its military implications.

Perhaps the best way to understand the tremendous significance militarily of what has just happened is to quote from a copyrighted interview published recently in "U. S. News and World Report"—clear by the navy department — in which Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, sometimes called the "father of the atomic submarine," said:

Retaliation

"A large number of these (missile-carrying nuclear submarines) should be kept continuously at sea, submerged anywhere we want—many of them hiding under the polar ice-cap. They would constitute a fleet-in-being ready for immediate use at any time.

"That means that, if anyone declares war on us and actually fires missiles into our country — even if he should manage to destroy the United States — he knows that inevitably he himself will also be destroyed, because we will have these submerged missile-launching bases where he cannot prevent them from firing on him. So this missile-carrying submarine may turn out to be a real deterrent to war."

Thus sea power—long the bulwark of our offense and defense—joins airpower in the development of strategic concepts which, while designed primarily for use in war, can really serve to maintain world peace. For the history of international behavior has shown that, where one major power or alliance of powers has a military advantage, it can use its potential to secure respect for its words of diplomacy and thereby preserve peace.

America today, by reason of what the Nautilus has accomplished, is in a position once more to talk from strength. This deterrent power, emerging in an era of irresponsible dictatorships — which overnight might have pushed the world to the brink of war — can be hailed as an epochal occurrence.

Gavin Book About Age Considered Blunt Bombshell

War and Peace in the Space Age. By Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin. Harper. $5.

This bombshell book is of immediate and vital concern to every American interested in the security of himself and his nation.

Gavin, one of the most daring, dedicated and inspirational combat leaders of his generation, rose from the rank of private to lieutenant general. Always dramatic, he resigned as army research chief—giving up his chances for a fourth star—because he felt he could fight more effectively out of uniform rather than in it for an improved United States defense setup.

Wry rather than rancorous, he gives his blunt, controversial views in this widely-awaited volume, certain to be studied by Russian as well as allied military leaders.

Gavin is dryly humorous on the military grasp shown by former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, who, he remarks, "tended to deal with his chiefs of staffs as though they were recalcitrant union bosses." He quotes one chief of staff as saying of Wilson:

"He was the most uninformed man, and the most determined to remain so, that has ever been secretary."

Here are a few of Gavin's basic contentions:

That the United States, pressured by industry lobbies, has wasted "hundreds of millions of dollars" by continuing to turn out obsolete weapons.

That Soviet Russia, by pretending to build up a long-range bomber fleet, led us to invest billions in "aircraft that never will be used in combat" while she secretly concentrated her main effort in developing missiles.

Russia Ahead

That the Russian program in the missile and space fields is well ahead of "anything the west is capable of for many years."

That America isn't, but should be, prepared to fight a series of limited wars—"the most probable nature of future war."

That "the nation that first achieves the control of outer space will control the destiny of the human race."

Gavin pinpoints the steps he feels are necessary to make America stronger defensively, but he is no saber-rattling jingoist.

"I am of the personal conviction that the space age offers for the first time a real prospect of lasting peace," he concludes soberly. But "if this planet is to remain habitable by man, a space program must be developed under the United Nations."

This is a remarkable book by one of the 20th century's most forward-looking soldiers.

Hold Lead in Twilight Loop At Golf Club

Better Brothers Set Pace, Hull Hits Low of 34

Kaukauna — Better Brothers Garage held first place in the twilight league at the Fox Valley Golf club although its lead has been shaved to only 10 points by the runnerup Geenen's Shopping Center.

Wayne Hull posted the low gross total, a hot 34. Lew Cattanach followed with a 35 and Orv Tracy was next in line with a 36.

Blind bogey winners were Bob Meinkebeige, Hull, Vic Lange and Francis Demerath.

Match Scores

Better Brothers tipped Berg Cleaners 41 to 30 and in other matches Look Drugs defeated Quella Goods 42 to 38, Van Abel's Bowling alleys stopped Larry's Foods 51 to 20, Wiggie's Food Market beat Ole and Kate's Bar 52 to 19, Meinkebeige Dry Wall defeated the Kaukauna Savings and Loan 48 to 32.

Other scores included Geenen Shopping Center over H. T. Runte 54 to 26. Morgan Printing over Haen's Insurance 41 to 39 and Royal Clothing over S and B Alleys 51 to 29.

Current standings show Better Brothers leading with 496 points followed by Geenen's with 486. Following in order and their point totals are Quella's, 468; Look Drugs, 468; Wiggie's, 456; H. T. Runte, 426; Van Abel's, 424; Haen's, 422; Morgan Printing, 420; Ole and Kate's, 415; Royal Clothing, 412; Meinkebeige, 398; S and B, 386; Kaukauna Savings and Loan, 362; Larry's Foods, 354 and Berg's, 354.

City Loop Stars Tip Locks Squad

Kaukauna — Midget softball league all-stars of the city playground southern division defeated an all - star squad from Combined Locks 15 to 14.

The Locks team rallied with four runs in the top of the seventh to take a 14 to 13 lead but the winners came right back to score twice in the last of the frame.

Tom Collins received credit for the win and Jack Williams was the losing pitcher.

Tom Vils led the winners with two homers and J i m Wittman helped out with two for three at the plate. For Combined Locks, Ricky Vandenberg had four for five to lead the hitting attack.

Lions, Rotary Set Golf Outing

Kaukauna — The annual outing of the Lions and Rotary clubs of Kaukauna will be held Tuesday at the Fox Valley Golf club.

Pairings have been set for golf matches and alternates have been selected. The club losing the match on total points will pay for the dinner.

Chairmen for the Rotary include Ernie Trude, Lawrence G e r e n d and Carl Ploetz. Heading the committee for the Lions are Jim McFadden, Robert Grogan and Ray Schmidt.

In addition to the golf event there will be a blind bogey for everyone to enter, a putting contest and other games for non-golfers.

Ripening Grain Adds Golden Background

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Green Bay — The ripening oats in the St. Joseph's orphanage fields south of our lot is a reminder that the last half of summer is upon us. From now until fall more and more yellow will be added to the landscape as grains ripen and pastures and fields lose their fresh green colors. Even after the grain is harvested the gold of the stubble remains in squares and rectangles over the countrysides.

Hussong

These "signs of the times" are reminders to nature students that it's time to do this, or look for that — midsummer wildflowers, for example. Many of the wild blossoms which are out now are as pretty and colorful as garden blooms, and luckily are so common that they can be picked in big bouquets.

Queen Anne's lace, or wild carrot, is a typical early August blossom which has become a favorite with those who know and appreciate our wildflowers. Its lacy white medallions look beautiful when arranged with other colors — the lavender-blue of alfalfa, for instance.

A Walk to the River

In response to the yellow oatfield's reminder yesterday I walked down to the river and slough at the end of our street. Part of my walk led me through a lane between two fields. Meadowlarks flew up here and there, uttering their long dry chirps, but not their "spring of the year" songs. In the field to the south were two upland plovers, circling about and twittering.

Years ago when there were less than one-fourth as many homes on our street as there are now, the uplands nested in what was then a vacant lot next to us. As the street became more and more built up, the plovers restreated to open fields farther away. But they still nest in the orphanage fields, and their wailing "Whip-Wheee" calls can be heard from our yard.

Flowers in bloom along the lane path were Queen Anne's lace, a few tag-end white and yellow daisies, alfalfa, clover and vervain. At the end of the lane I was confronted with an almost impenetrable jungle of rank marsh growth. Boys aren't the explorers they used to be, I reflected as I tried to make my way to the river's edge through the tangle of reed grass, cattails, arrowhead, milkweed and other plants.

Boys Kept Paths Open

For years exploring boys kept the paths open along the river's edge both to the "north slough" (north of our street), and the south slough. They had my help, for these paths were the ones I followed when looking for birds or plants. Homes are situated now on each side of the street right up to the river's edge, and this may be the reason there is less exploring.

River's edge plants are interesting and I stopped to see how they were progressing. The river is dwindling, it seems to me, and the marsh growth is taking over. One of the marsh grasses which is common here is reed grass (Phragmites communis).

This, the tallest grass that grows in our area, has been nicknamed "chain grass" and "cane grass," no doubt for its pronounced joints. By some it is even mistaken for wild rice. Along the river here it grows six to eight feet in height, but I have seen some along the bay which were 10 or 20 feet high.

Indians Ate Roots

Cattail seed heads were about half-grown, and the top staminate section was beginning to dry up and break off. The arrowhead, easily identified by its arrow - shaped leaves, was in bud and will soon show its white blossoms. This is an aquatic plant, w h o s e tuberous rootstocks were used as food by some Indian tribes.

On the bank overlooking the river were such shrubs as thornapple, covered with hard green "apples;" wild plums with half-ripe fruits, and a few chokecherries, their clusters too at the almost-ripe stage. A few elm, hickory and cottonwood trees grow along the edge of the river.

Birds along the river included both the black and common terns, already showing patches of white in their molting plumage. Y o u n g blackbirds were numerous in the m a r s h, and t h e i r "chucks" and "chirps" made a continuous din. A pair of blue-winged teals flew from one side of the river to the other, and a spotted sandpiper peeped its way along the pebble and clam shell-strewn beach.

Band Concert Wednesday at Little Chute

Outdoor Event At Doyle Park, Chorus to Appear

Little Chute — The Little Chute Community Band will give its second outdoor concert of the season at Doyle park at 7:30 Wednesday evening, according to Harold Janssen, director.

An added attraction on the program will be the appearance of the Kaukauna-Little Chute chorus of the SPEBB-QSA chapter.

Also a highlight of the program will be a trumpet duet by Gerald Verbeten and Bill Novotny with band accompaniment for the "Elena Polka."

Selections for the evening include "From Tropic to Tropic," by H. Alexander; "Melody A La King," arranged by Alford; "St. Louis Blues Fantasy For Band," by W. C. Handy; "Band Show March," by Joe Bergeim; a number of Old Time Favorites, arranged by George Bernard; "Pasadena Day," by M. Vessella; "Star Dust," by Hoagy Carmichael; "Olympia Hippodrome," a march by R. Alexander; and "Lights Out," a march by E. E. McCoy.

The Star Spangled Banner will conclude the program.

Gather Evidence For Extradition Of Ex-Dictator

Caracas — (AP) — Venezuelan authorities are gathering evidence in an effort to have the former dictator, Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez, extradited from the United States for trial.

Caracas newspapers say U.S. authorities had asked for more proof on alleged crimes of Perez Jiminez before any action could be taken on a request for his extradition.

Perez Jimenez governed Venezuela under a military dictatorship for 10 years. Overthrown in a bloody revolution last Jan. 23, he went to Ciudad Trujillo and then to Miami, Fla., where he bought a $400,000 home.

Newspapers in Caracas say additional information for his possible expulsion from the United States is to be passed upon by Venezuela's attorney general and then forwarded to a federal court. The formal request for Perez Jimenez's return to Venezuela would be made by this tribunal.

The charges made against the ousted dictator in this country by newspapers and some government officials have ranged from responsibility for killings to the extraction of huge sums of public monies.

Final Week for Playground Set at Locks

Combined Locks — A special schedule of events has been slated for the village playground this week, according to Russ Johns, director.

This will be the final week of playground activity for the summer.

All-stars of the Peewee softball league will practice Tuesday afternoon at the west end diamond. They will have a game at 6 o'clock tomorrow night against Kaukauna at the library grounds in that city.

Wednesday there will be a treasure hunt at 2:30 in the afternoon. In the evening there will be a parents night and all children and their parents are invited to the west end playground for activities. A program will be conducted from 6 o'clock to 7:30.

The final swimming lessons will be given Thursday morning at the Kaukauna pool. Parents are invited to attend the session from 9 o'clock to 9:45.

Thursday afternoon the all-stars will practice again and the same evening they will play another game at Kaukauna. The regular schedule for activity will be followed Friday afternoon.

Athletic Club Opens Drive

Annual Membership Campaign Begins At Little Chute

Little Chute — The annual membership drive of the St. John High school Athletic association is scheduled to begin this evening with a canvass of the village.

District workers have been supplied with membership cards and instructions regarding the area they are to cover.

All men over 18 years of age are eligible for membership in the association. They need not be graduates of St. John.

The drive will continue through the week. Workers have been asked to return their cards by Aug. 18 to William Fitzpatrick, chairman of the campaign. A report on the success of the drive will be given at the September meeting.

The association has planned a heavy program of activities this fall including films of the St. John High home football games. The games will be followed by a mid-week meeting at which time the films will be shown. Extensive plans are underway for special activities at several grid games and the annual homecoming weekend.

All Stars Beat League Champs

Kaukauna — All-stars of the senior baseball league defeated the champion Braves by a 12 to 5 count in the windup of summer action.

Ron Pahl received credit for the victory for the stars and Ed Vanden Heuvel took the loss.

Charles Jusenius paced the stars at the plate with three hits in five trips. For the Braves Bruce Bay and Vanden Heuvel each collected two for four.

Youth Pays Fine for Giving Beer to Minors

Little Chute — Lyle Hietpas, 19, 401 E. Lincoln avenue, appeared in justice court and was fined $10 and costs after he pleaded guilty of furnishing beer to minors.

Hietpas was arrested July 27 by village police.

8 Weekend Deaths Put Toll at 448

3 Youths Killed As Car Hits Stump In Pepin County

By the Associated Press

Eight weekend deaths — including 3 in a Pepin county crash and 2 in a Forest county accident — raised Wisconsin's 1958 traffic toll to 448 today. On this date last year there were 490.

An auto left a curving road near Durand in Pepin county Sunday night and struck a stump, killing three youths from Arkansaw, Wis. Dr. R. J. Bryan, coroner, said Marvin Richards, 20, Thomas Hartung, 20, and Irene Longsdorf, 18, all died of skull fractures. Carol Harmon, 18, Arkansaw, was injured critically.

Hartung and Richardson were thrown from the auto. The two girls remained inside the auto, which came to rest upright.

Mrs. Ray Harrison, Fence, Wis., and Mrs. Rose Vannes, Green Bay, were killed Sunday night in a 2-car collision at a junction on Highway 101 about five miles north of Armstrong creek in Forest county.

(Mrs. Harrison was the sister-in-law of Arthur J. Harrison, 112 Lennox street, Neenah. Her husband, also in the crash, was in critical condition this morning.)

Dies Saturday

Jack Jardine, 16, Oconomowoc, died Saturday night at an Oconomowoc hospital of injuries suffered in a Waukesha county crash which killed another Oconomowoc youth early Tuesday. The youth's car careened off a road west of Hartland.

Douglas Lowe, 23, Gays Mills, was injured fatally early Saturday when an auto left Highway 131 and overturned two miles north of Steuben in Crawford county. He was alone in the auto.

Karen Falkenberg, 18, St. Paul, Minn., died at Marshfield hospital Friday night of injuries suffered in a 1-car crash July 5 in Wood county. She never regained consciousness after the crash.

Misspelled Word On Fake License Leads to Arrest

Douglasville, Ga. —(AP)— A misspelled word on a piece of cardboard used in place of a license plate led to the arrest of an armed man and the recovery of $4,175 yesterday.

Police said the money was part of the $18,209 taken from a supermarket near Atlanta Thursday by a masked bandit.

A second man was shot by an officer but managed to get away.

Donald Anderson Phillips, 31, of Doraville, was arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder. He was turned over to DeKalb county police, who had a warrant charging him with armed robbery.

Phillips was captured by two Douglasville policemen who stopped a new car bearing a piece of cardboard reading "Tag orderd Georgia Tag".

Phillips was driving. In the back was a man police identified as Ralph Robert Cozzolino, 32, who escaped July 17 from Alabama's Kilby prison, where he was serving a robbery sentence. It was his second escape from the prison, and followed two breaks from Tennessee jails

The officers disarmed the men after they came out of the car with cocked pistols. Then Cozzolino fled, was shot in the hip, and yelled "don't fire no more." As an officer approached Cozzolino ran into a mill village in this town some 30 miles west of Atlanta.

Two Minor Fires

A rubbish fire was extinguished at the Francis Eggert home, 1518 W. Spencer street, about 3:23 Saturday afternoon, firemen reported today.

A tractor was undamaged at the Warren Wiesler Construction company garage, 230 W. Glendale avenue, earlier Saturday after grease on the machine ignited, firemen said, while an electric welder was used nearby.

Sept. 30 Tentative Bid Date for High Bridge

State Asks City, County to Have Money Ready Oct. 1

Sept. 30 is the tentative date for taking bids to build the College-to-Candee high level bridge, District Highway Engineer L. W. Empey said today.

Appleton and Outagamie county officials were asked to be ready to furnish their shares of bridge costs by Oct. 1.

The city has the money ready. It comes from a $600,000 bond sale on May 21 in which the city agreed to pay a combine headed by the Appleton State bank net effective interest of 2 61042 per cent over a 20-year period.

The county has $100,000 of its estimated $600,000 share ready, but must sell bonds for the rest. The $100,000 will be taken from a matured $115,000 bond issue originally slated for the Golden Age Home, New London, and never used.

Maybe Sept. 8

County Corporation Counsel Raymond P. Dohr said today the county board's executive committee probably will take bids in the $500,000 bond sale on Sept. 8. The committee was authorized by the county board June 10 to sell the bonds.

Empey said the state will furnish an estimate of the amount needed to both governments within a few days of the bid taking.

Agents of the state and the city's board of public works are negotiating purchase of $90,535 in required right-of-way. Appraisal of the right-of-way by three Appleton men cost $2,219.

These charges represent the only one pinpointed so far in the proposed construction of the 1,386-foot - long bridge across the Fox river from the end of E. College avenue to the south side's E. Candee street-S. Walter avenue intersection.

Share Equally

State agents are negotiating for air rights and easements in and above the river channel, Empey said.

The city and county furnished $8,000 each to defray early engineering costs and surveys in 1956, but this amount will be deducted later from the total engineering cost when all engineering costs are determined.

State, county and city split all costs equally under the state's long bridge act.

The bridge, Empey has said, will be 30 feet wide, include two 5-foot - wide sidewalks, have 13 spans, require 500,000 pounds of reinforcing steel, 1½ million pounds of structural steel and 3,663 cubic yards of concrete. It will be 50.5 feet above high water.

A decision on the route of the E. College approach has not been made and probably won't be until after the contract is let. The contract will include provisions permitting changes in the approaches.

U.S. Official Sees Hope for Moraine Park

Washington —(AP)— Leo J. Diederich, a national park official, today described the proposal for a Moraine National park in Wisconsin as intriguing and said he thinks it can be carried out eventually.

Diederich, chief of park planning, is one of a group which will make a study of the proposed 500-mile long meandering park by plane and automobile and on foot Sept. 15 to 25.

Moraines are accumulations of earth and stone deposited by glaciers.

Diederich said the purpose of the trip is to get an idea of the scope of the proposed park, check on the most important sections, and see if it warrants further consideration.

Merits Consideration

"It is the kind of thing which merits looking into on a scientific basis," Diederich said. "First we must see if it is suitable for the National Park service. A national park is judged on its national significance."

At the same time, Diederich cautioned against anyone thinking that the entire area suggested originally by Raymond T. Zillmer, Wisconsin conservationist, would be included if a park is created there.

"If Wisconsin people expect that there would be a continuous national park, 500 miles across Wisconsin, they should not have any such idea," Diederich said.

First Asphalt for N. Richmond May Come Wednesday

Blacktopping of part of the N. Richmond street reconstruction project probably will begin Wednesday, Contractor Warren Wiesler said today.

The last of the preparatory work before blacktopping should be completed Tuesday along the section from W. College avenue to W. Wisconsin avenue and the asphalt work will begin immediately, he said.

Construction of sidewalk along the section will be done as the last phase of the project.

North of W. Wisconsin to Highway 41 curb and gutter and widening work is about half complete, Wiesler said. The contractor expects to start the asphalt work along this section within 30 to 45 days.

The street is being widened to 50 feet between W. College and W. Wisconsin and to 48 feet between W. Wisconsin and Highway 41. The work is expected to cost over $300,000.

SOMETHING that bankers have learned, especially in the Fox Cities, is that people are not interested in saving just for the sake of saving. The fact that a bank is long-established means little. Nor does the interest rate mean too much.

Some interesting pictures from a Wisconsin family album

Robert M. Hawkinson and Virginia O'Neal met in 1944. Here they are on their wedding day in 1945.

This is the Hawkinson family today—part of the large Wisconsin Standard Oil family. Mr. Hawkinson is merchandiser, motor oil and lubricants, Milwaukee Regional office.

All over Wisconsin, family albums are filled with pictures like these—pictures that bring back many happy memories.

Here are some from our album that we think might interest you. We wish we could show you more. Many would be of people you know and see every day, because our family—the Standard Oil family—is spread all over Wisconsin.

How many folks would you suppose are in our family, just in Wisconsin alone?

The ones you know the best, of course, are the more than 1,880 friendly independent businessmen who run the convenient and dependable Standard service stations throughout Wisconsin communities. Then there are our agents—some 310 farm-minded men—who deliver Standard's quality petroleum products right to the door of farm customers.

Back of our dealers and our agents, helping them to serve you better, are our employees, hundreds of men and women, people like the Hawkinsons, who live and work in cities and towns throughout the state.

Our family includes the people who own stock in our company, too—teachers, farmers, ministers, bankers, union members, even babies. Institutions, too, such as colleges, hospitals, banks and insurance companies are Standard stockholders. And we're proud that scores of our own employees own Standard stock. At the last count the total number of Standard shareholders in Wisconsin was more than 4,700.

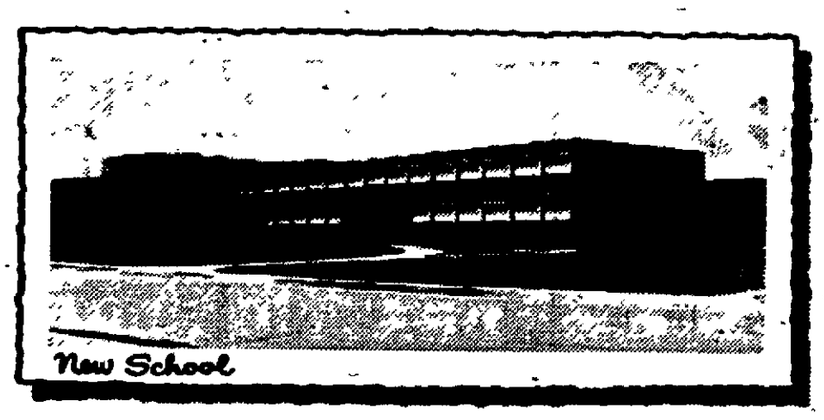

So you see, our family is pretty much like other Wisconsin families. People who work, people who invest, people who live next door to you, people who have small independent businesses in your town.

We're like other Wisconsin families in another way, too. Like you, we pay taxes. In addition to federal taxes, Standard Oil pays taxes which help support local and state governments in Wisconsin. Also, in accordance with your laws, we collect taxes from customers and turn the money over to your government.

What makes a company a good citizen? One test of citizenship is the kind of "family" a company has. Is it helpful in the community? Does it promote the economic well-being of the towns in which it lives and works? For companies and individuals alike, those are marks of responsible citizenship. And we, at Standard Oil, try to follow business practices that will assure the kind of family any community is proud to have.

President

A. E. Hanson is president of the Pewaukee, Wisconsin, School Board. He's a Standard Oil agent. Standard Oil people are widely-known for the help they give their communities.

New School

A new high school at Wauwatosa. This is one way you can actually see a tax at work! Standard Oil pays thousands of dollars in taxes which help support community and state services.

Happy Day!

Mrs. W. F. Becker of Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, receives another dividend payment from her investment in Standard Oil stock. Standard has paid dividends for 65 consecutive years.

state members said they would make another try to give cotton and rice farmers relief from the sharp acreage reductions they face next year under present law, and to extend the act under which farm surpluses are disposed of abroad.

There also was mounting speculation that the house might act on a senate-passed bill designed to give the government a stronger hand in regulating labor unions and to give rank and file members a bigger voice in union affairs. This bill earlier was given little or no chance of house passage.

Legislation to require public disclosure of employe pension and welfare funds is awaiting compromise efforts by a senate-house conference committee.

GOP Congressman From Illinois Dies

Washington —(AP)— Rep. William E. McVey (R-Ill.) who started his house career at 68 after spending most of his life as an educator, died last night of a heart attack. He was 72.

His death leaves the house lineup at 232 Democrats, 197 Republicans and 6 vacancies.

McVey had been professor of education at De Paul university and lecturer at various times at the University of Pennsylvania, Ohio university and Emory university.

At Harvey, Ill., near Chicago, where he had lived for many years, he was superintendent of Thornton High school and Junior college.

gear were damaged. Fuel tanks burst open, spilling gasoline over the area, but no fire broke out.

In addition to Capt. Blaisdell, the crew consisted of First Officer Daniel Donovan and Stewardess Sharon Davenport, both of Chicago.

Among the passengers were four navy recruits from upper Michigan who had been attending reserve training school at Great Lakes since February.

Donald Rosere, 24, South Range, Mich., reported he had just completed six months of work in construction at Thule, Greenland, and had flown 2,400 miles on the trip home. He said he felt sure the plane was going to crash when the wheels started skidding and the end of the runway approached. He said all six passengers had their safety belts fastened and were not thrown about the plane when it nosed into the ground.

The CAA and North Central officials investigated Sunday afternoon. No report has been made on their findings. Removal operations of the plane were scheduled for today, according to Richard Cooper, station manager.

Four Wisconsin Youths Drowned

By The Associated Press

Four young Wisconsin residents, ranging in age from 12 to 25, drowned in the state during the weekend.

Victor Mitchell, 22, New Lisbon, drowned Sunday in Delavan lake, in a boating accident.

Patrick Seitz, 16, Eau Claire, drowned Sunday while swimming in the Black river near the La Crosse airport. Firemen recovered the body of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Seitz.

Tony Palcic, 13, Milwaukee, drowned Sunday, while swimming in Potter's lake in Walworth county. His body was recovered.

Jeffrey Anderson, 12, Whitefish Bay, drowned Friday evening in Lake Michigan. The victim's brother, Allan, 15, told authorities Jeffrey was standing in three feet of water when a big wave knocked him off his feet and carried him away from shore. The boy's body was recovered.

"first agent in the Arab world."

At the same time, a Jordan government investigating committee charged that UAR Syrians and Lebanese rebels smuggled explosives into Jordan — some of it aboard UN planes—for terrorists planning to create a state of chaos. The committee said that one of the plotters, an Arab employe of the UN relief agency for Palestine refugees, had the use of UN planes.

Asian delegates at the UN picked holes in the Middle East plan proposed by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold Friday. It calls for (1) a pledge by Arab countries of mutual noninterference, (2) Big power agreement not to interfere in the Arab countries, (3) general cooperation for Middle East economic development and (4) UN protection for Jordan, Lebanon and the Israel-UAR frontier.

Little in Return

Some Asians said this asked a lot from the UAR and the Soviet Union and promised little in return. They contended it would hamper expansion of UAR influence while leaving untouched the Baghdad pact alliance on the southern Soviet border, the British hold on the southern and eastern Arabian coast, and French rule over Algeria, not to mention Israel.

The United States is reported planning to propose a police force to protect threatened countries, a watchdog commission to monitor propaganda broadcasts, an investigating commission to recommend long-range solutions, and a mideastern economic plan, all under the UN.

Science Now Removes Warts Without Cutting or Burning!

Doctors Develop New Compound to Make Common Warts Vanish!

New York, N. Y. (Special) . . . Now science has found a new compound that removes common warts quickly, safely, without painful surgery or electrolysis.

Developed by a famous medical laboratory, this remarkable compound penetrates warts . . . destroys their cells . . . actually dissolves warts away.

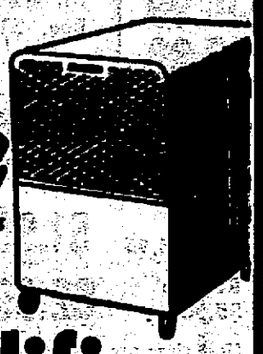

Tested by a leading New York skin clinic under careful medical supervision, this remarkable formula proved so effective, only one application a day was needed . . . proved so safe, it is now used for both children and adults. This new compound contains no mineral acids . . . leaves no ugly scars.

Doctors report that picking and scratching at unsightly warts may cause bleeding and infection. And today, removal of warts is recommended with this new compound. Called Compound W®, it is now available for the first time, without a prescription, at all drug counters for just 98¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts . . . or money refunded. ®Trade Mark squads to reach the scene was the Hillburn fire department. One of its members, Robert Lillibridge, said:

Five Killed in Train Crash

Stretcher Cases

"People were staggering around, moaning and groaning. Lots of them looked dazed. A number were stretcher cases."

A relay of ambulances and emergency vehicles rushed the injured to Good Samaritan hospital, Suffern, N.Y., and Tuxedo, N.Y., hospital. Others received first aid at the scene.

Robert Higgins, one of the less seriously injured, was at work sorting mail on one train when the collision happened.

"The only warning I got was when the emergency brake went on," he said.

"I heard the hissing of air. The next thing there was this crash and I was on the floor."

Order Didn't Arrive

The mishap, according to a spokesman at Erie railroad headquarters in Hoboken, resulted because a freight train was standing on one of the two mainline tracks near the Sterlington freight station.

The combination baggage-passenger train bound from Hoboken to Port Jervis, N.Y., was as a result routed onto the other track, and instructions were sent to hold the commuter train, traveling in the opposite direction, at Suffern.

The order apparently did not arrive in time. The commuter train roared on down the straightaway into the other train.

Former Italian Polar Explorer Dies at 93

Alessandria, Italy — (AP) — Gen. Achille Cavalli-Molinelli, 93-year-old former polar explorer, died at nearby Sale di Tortona yesterday of a heart attack.

In 1899 and 1900, as physician in the Italian navy, he took part in Italian expeditions to the Arctic led by the Duke of Abruzzi.

U.S. Steel Acts To Boost Prices

Pittsburgh — (AP) — United States Steel Corp., the world's biggest producer, today boosted rolled sheet and strip steel prices approximately $4.25 per ton.

U. S. Steel's announced prices follow the same pattern set earlier this week by Armco Steel Corp. and other producers, although the previous effect of this increase had been reported by Armco at approximately $4.50 per ton.

A U. S. Steel spokesman said the difference in the announced average price increase resulted from variation in the types of products.

Seek Authority To Negotiate On Extension

Will Ask Board for Joint Work With Winnebago County

Authority to negotiate with Winnebago county for the site and construction of a University of Wisconsin extension facility will be asked by a special committee at Tuesday's Outagamie county board session.

Last Tuesday night a special committee listened to arguments in favor of Outagamie county joining Winnebago county in the effort to keep an extension center in the Fox Cities. The extension center, formerly housed in the Menasha Vocational school, was forced by the school's expansion to rent quarters in downtown Menasha. This caused a deficit of about $4,000 this year, which was made up by the cities of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

However, because of limited facilities and an enrollment limited to 150 students, extension officials have indicated possible discontinuance of the center.

If it is discontinued, the nearest extension center would be at Green Bay.

Kaukauna Suggestion

Kaukauna suggested the extension center operate in the Outagamie County Teachers college in Kaukauna.

This 50-year-old building services 35 students working toward 2-year teaching certificates. It probably will be out of business, UW authorities have indicated, because the state by 1960 will refuse to recognize any new 2-year teaching certificates.

Neenah and Menasha citizens' committees have indicated they want to keep the extension center in the Fox Cities area. An Appleton citizens' committee also recommended the extension center should be kept in the Fox Cities.

Informally discussed, but not recommended, is a 10-acre site in the vicinity of the Valley Fair shopping center, upon which would be constructed a building costing about $500,000 with a $150,000-expenditure for equipment by the state.

Special committee chairman Supv. Joseph Cummings indicated today he will ask the county board to give his committee permission to negotiate with Winnebago county in terms of sharing the cost of building an extension center and choosing a site for it.

Other business facing the county board Tuesday consists of routine matters.

Awaiting End of a Parade called Sunday night by Bob Bandy, WAPL radio disc jockey, to support a campaign for a Fox Cities youth center is this crowd at W. Washington and N. Appleton streets. Parade of about 52 entries, mostly automobiles, lasted about 45 minutes. Bandy now is in his 39th day atop a tower on the Balliet hotel, a stunt begun to attract attention to need for a youth center. State Takes More 41 Work Bids Aug. 26

Seeks Completion Of 6.4-Mile Section in Winnebago County

Bids on work to complete 4-laning of a 6.4-mile section of Highway 41 near Oshkosh will be taken by the state highway commission in Madison Aug. 26.

The section is from Highway 26 (Waupun road) to Highway 21 (Omro road) and includes overpasses at Highways 26, 21 and 44 (Ripon road) and at Winnebago County Trunk K (Waukau road).

Overpasses at the three highways are being constructed under contracts let earlier, but the County Trunk K overpass will be included in the work for Aug. 26 bidding.

The Aug. 26 bids also will include grading, ballast, base course and the concrete construction of two additional lanes of traffic, District Highway Engineer L. W. Empey said at Green Bay.

The contract, Empey said, will call for readying of the Highway 21 separation to permit travel on a gravel base before winter.

7 Hospitalized After Crash

Police Seek Car Which Caused Accident Sunday

A 2-car crash sent seven people to Appleton Memorial hospital Sunday morning.

Police are seeking a dark-colored sedan which caused the accident and sped away without stopping.

County police said the sedan passed and sideswiped a car driven by Cornelius Dewinter, 53, Chicago, spinning it into the path of one driven by Rudolph H. Weber, 44, Chicago.

Weber's westbound car smashed into the front of Dewinter's skidding car.

In Appleton Memorial hospital are Weber, with a broken right arm, concussion, and bruises; his wife, Marian, 38, the most seriously injured with a concussion, severe cuts on her face and knees and possible chest injuries; a son, Thomas, 12, broken right knee and possible head injuries; a daughter, Juliet, 8, with bruises and hip injuries; and another son, Philip, 7, head injuries. All were taken to the hospital by Larry's ambulance.

Others Hospitalized

Also hospitalized were Dewinter, with head and chest bruises and a cut over the left eye, and his wife, Emma, 49, with bruises and cuts on both knees. Both were taken to Appleton Memorial by Lindy's ambulance.

County police said Weber's 1956 auto was damaged an estimated $2,000 and Dewinter's 1956 model an estimated $1,500.

Everyone in Weber's car wore safety belts, county police said.

Dixon J. Skenandore, 18, route 2, West DePere, escaped injury Sunday afternoon when his car left County Trunk E and hit a tree in Oneida. Skenandore told county police he swerved to avoid a car turning left and then had to drive off the road to avoid an oncoming car.

Conditions Bad With Latin America

U. S. Must Find Way to Develop True Association With Educated

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — Our relationship with Latin America is no longer merely unsatisfactory. It is now highly dangerous. And at a time when we may be driven back to a dependence on this hemisphere, a situation we have never known before.

White

Such unpleasant facts as these underlie the hurried arrangements being made for a so-called "summit conference" of the 21 American presidents.

All the same, this forthcoming all-American consultation offers hope—along with significant problems.

But we will fail in grasping our opportunities unless we have a far better sense of the nature of these problems. Administrations in Washington always tend to misunderstand the people to the south. But few administrations have so failed in understanding as has the Eisenhower administration. It runs its hemisphere policy like a chamber of commerce.

Trade Increases

Two high voltage missions have gone to Latin America for the president. Vice President Richard M. Nixon's sortie was disastrously revealing. It produced the clearest demonstration that hatred of the United States had reached a new pitch—some of its communist hatred, yes, but not all of it by a long way.

The President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, has now returned with a sense of urgency at the state of affairs. What he has to propose, however—so far as has been publicly indicated—is not reassuring.

This country has no reason to feel guilty in its economic relationships with the Latin Americans. Though they are having their troubles, their trade with us multiplied six times while western Europe lay in the ruins of World war II.

We are not going to close the gulf until we grasp this central, human fact: The people of Latin America are indeed Latins. They are not "Americans" in our definition of the word. Entirely apart from their resentment of past exploitations by Yankee corporations, the Latins simply don't share our national enthusiasm for either bigness or business.

The development from Mexico to Chile of an image of the United States as the home of an authentic and uncommercial culture would do us more good than all the economic aid projects that could be assembled from now to Christmas after next.

No Latin American regime, not even the most "democratic," rests on the broad popular consent theory on which our own government is based. An emerging intellectual elite is the true base of power. One man's vote may be worth 10 times, or a hundred times, that of another in terms of real influence.

Liberal Elite

It is thus entirely impossible for the U. S. to make an effective appeal to the Latin American masses. To win friends effectively, we must win the elite. This elite is essentially European in its attitudes of life. And it is essentially liberal, as the term is understood here, in its political view.

As in many parts of Europe, men in Latin America are extremely well educated or simply not educated at all. There is no intellectual middle class. The well-educated are controlling. And they demand a cultured, urbane sympatico — a Spanish word meaning "sympathy" and a bit more than that.

It cannot be a sympatico of sticky sentimentality, true; but it also cannot be a sympatico based upon commercial transactions, mosquito extermination and pompous sermans about American free enterprise.

We must find a way to develop a true association with the educated men to the south.

Contractor Vacationing In Hawaii Complains, Asks Recession Relief

Waukesha —(AP)— Confusion over the nation's economy, Rep. Don Tewes (R-Wis.) noted, is not confined to politicians. Tewes said he received a letter from a building contractor, complaining about the recession and calling for a variety of federal aid to his industry.

The letter was written, Tewes discovered, from Hawaii — where the hard-pressed contractor was vacationing

Temperature Chart Helps Determine Ovulation Time

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband and I want a family but I haven't been able to become pregnant. Could you tell me on what day or days a woman ovulates? Some say it is 14 to 15 days after starting the menstrual period, some say 10 or 12. Is it one or more days, and which days are the most fertile? I have heard that one can tell by temperature. Is this true, and how? — Mrs. J.M."

Dr. Molner

The information you've had is good. Knowing when ovulation takes place will help, because the ovum can be fertilized only when it is present, and this isn't for a very long time.

The ovum, of course, is expelled from the ovary, and may be fertilized from that moment approximately until it has moved down the length of the Fallopian tube.

Not Only Time

Let's not say that conception cannot take place outside this time. In theory at least, an ovum might possibly be present at some other time. But we are not interested in theory so much as in useful facts, and for practical purposes ovulation will occur at about mid-cycle.

The date is commonly specified as the 4th day after the beginning of menstruation—or, by the same token, 14 days before, assuming the average 28-day cycle occurs. However, there is every reason to think that this varies somewhat in different individuals, and very obviously it will vary among women whose cycle, instead of 28 days, may be a week shorter, or a week or more longer.

That is where the temperature comes in. Regardless of the length of cycle, and regardless of other differences, the temperature rises abruptly at the time of ovulation. Not a large rise—about 5-or 6-tenths of a degree — but easily readable on a clinical thermometer.

Many women keep a daily temperature chart to find out their ovulation cycle. Rectal temperature is more accurate than oral. After three or four months, it is quite simple to determine when this sudden rise in temperature occurs. And that rise, of course, marks the beginning of the time of fertility — or of greatest fertility, to make allowance for possible vagaries.

Authorities agree generally that this fertile period lasts only from 24 to 48 hours as a rule, with emphasis on the shorter rather than the longer period, although one can't be absolutely positive of the exact period.

In any event, keeping such a chart has been extremely helpful to thousands. Many physicians have on hand copies of a chart that you can fill in yourself. If your doctor doesn't have any, you can draw a chart yourself. Remember, however, that the rise in temperature is only about half a degree, and so as not to be misled, take temperature at the same time each morning. Always remember that such things as a cold, fatigue, over-excitement, lack of sleep and so on can also cause a variation in your temperature. After a month or so you'll usually recognize when those factors are responsible, and then will recognize the rise in temperature when it is caused by ovulation.

Value of Epsom Salts

"Dear Dr. Molner: What, if any, medicinal value has Epsom salts? Should it be used as a laxative? Is there any danger in using it interally?—M.C."

Epsom salts (magnesium sulphate) is primarily used as a laxative, but in larger doses it tends to be one of the harsher variety, causing a watery stool and leaving the colon quite empty. This, in some persons, may in fact aggravate the constipation.

Epsom salts, of course, is used in soaking swollen or inflamed fingers, hands, feet, and so on, and is useful to some extent that way.

'Cowboy'

Hollywood Finally Films 'Authentic' Western Movie

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Hollywood finally has filmed the last word in "authentic" westerns—and has done a pretty fair job of it.

Simply titled "Cowboy," the film wraps deft acting, brilliant technicolor photography and several vignettes of Western Americana into a presentable entertainment package.

The movie now playing at the Viking theater is the story of a Chicago dandy, played by Jack Lemmon, who takes to the range for love and money and ends up maturing into manhood under tutelage of the tough trail boss, played by Glenn Ford.

The story takes a back seat, however, to the cowboys as a group and the majestic scenery. The cow-punchers are shorn of the stereotyped characteristics attributed to them in matinee shoot 'em ups. They're too busy doing a tough job, working all day and most of the night under the worst possible conditions, to worry about any ranchers' daughters or badmen who might be lurking about. Neither do they have time for the deep soul searching the television heroes are prone to do. Despite this, the cowboy in the film look pretty colorful just being themselves.

Top scenes in the movie include a matter-of-fact battle with an Indian war party, the cowboys sitting around the campfire calmly waiting for one of the group to die of snake bite, and several trail scenes so good the viewer can smell the dust, sweat, steers and hot leather.

Book Gives Real Story of Splendid War

The Splendid Little War. By Frank Freidel. Little, Brown. $7.50.

To Americans 60 years ago, the Spanish-American conflict was a romantic experience epitomized by John Hay's remark about a "splendid little war."

It lasted only four months and left the impression that one clean living young Yankee could, with his right hand tied behind his back, lick his weight in Spaniards.

Afterwards, twinges of conscience dulled national tendencies towards braggadocio. Now this notable work by Professor Freidel makes it pretty plain that Spaniards as well as Americans were brave men, that war is a terrible business of squalor, wounds and disease — even if lighted by moments of high heroism —no matter who fights it or where.

Also that this one might have happened a bit differently had not the Spanish high command out - bungled the American, which took some doing.

Not a straight narrative but one compounded largely of excerpts from articles, letters and reports by men who saw it happen. Freidel's is an unusual book and a fascinating one. It has about 300 illustrations and the author enlists not only the pens of such reporters as Stephen Crane, Richard Harding Davis and Theodore Roosevelt, but the pencils of artists like Frederic Remington and Howard Chandler Christy.

Lone Swimmer Passes Senior Lifesaving Test

Warren Menning, 1618 N. Harriman street, was the lone swimmer to pass senior life saving so far this summer at Erb park swimming pool.

Pool Director Lewis Precourt said Julie Bassett, Ellen Behl, Ronna Hoffmann, Karen Klinger, Dave Mueller, Epie Reinhardt, Karen Verrier and Bob Weaver passed junior lifesaving.

A total of 180 swimmers passed the other three swimming tests — beginner, intermediate and swimmer.

There were 111 of which 48 were rural children, who passed the beginner tests, 54, of which 11 were rural, who passed the intermediate tests, and 15, of which 9 were rural, who passed the swimmer tests, Precourt said.

The adults swim night, held on Friday nights through Aug. 1, was called a success and will be scheduled again next year, the director said. Thirty swimmers over 15 years old showed up the first night, 44 the second, 50 the third and 62 the fourth.

Biggest 1-day turnstile count came June 19 when 1,980 was registered during 74 degrees air temperature and 64 degrees water temperature.

Hit-Run Car Injures Rural Brillion Cyclist

Chilton — Donald Schultz, 29, of rural Brillion, suffered a severe head cut when he was struck by a car on Highway 114 about four miles south of Brillion about 1:20 this morning.

Schultz was riding a bicycle. Driver of the car did not stop. Schultz was dragged about 50 paces by the car, county traffic patrolmen said. He was taken to Calumet Memorial hospital in the Brillion ambulance.

Bing Crosby at the Piano

Superbly Equipped in a Magnificent Natural Setting in Northern Idaho

Lakeside of Residence

Living Room from Dining Area

The shore of a deep blue lake rimmed by evergreen forests and majestic mountains is the setting for this perfect vacation or year-round home. The residence is offered completely furnished, just as it was when occupied by Bing Crosby for whom it was specially designed by Harold Grieve. Built in 1954, its construction and equipment are of the finest quality. It contains every luxury appointment and innumerable facilities for delightful living and entertaining.

Picturesque with exterior of silver gray logs, the house is long and low, in complete harmony with the surroundings. East and west wings form a horseshoe shape around a circular drive and courtyard. Across the front, overlooking the lake, is a broad flagstone terrace, delightful for dining. Almost every room has windows facing the water and distant mountains.

The heart of the house is the friendly living room. A great stone fireplace is flanked by ceiling-high windows which have automatically controlled draperies and a sliding plate glass panel opening to the patio. Casual and comfortable, this large room continues indoors the atmosphere of the beautiful outside surroundings. Honey-colored wood, red upholstery and accents of gold are in pleasing contrast to the blues and greens of water, sky and forest. In the game section of the room are electronically operated radios, TV, recording equipment, and a built-in bar with refrigerator. The kitchen is streamlined with an abundance of up-to-date appliances and built-in conveniences.

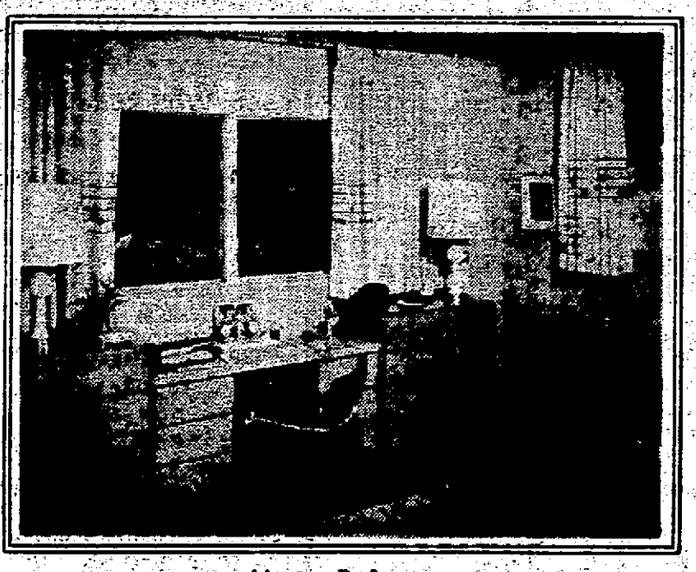

The master bedroom is handsomely furnished and has its own bath. Two guest rooms, one rustic in style with three built-in bunk beds and chests, are connected by another bath. All three rooms are well supplied with closet and wardrobe space. Across the breezeway from the kitchen is a maid's room and bath, and a double garage.

The grounds, of more than an acre, have a shoreline of 345 feet on the lake, insuring privacy. There's a floating dock on the waterfront, and a Chris-Craft cruiser and a boat with outboard motor are included in the offering.

In the exclusive Hayden Lake area, this property is in an excellent residential locality. There's a very good road from the grounds to the paved highway, and the village and country club are about two miles away. It is but a short drive to the city of Coeur d'Alene on the 23-mile-long lake of the same name, one of the loveliest vacation playgrounds in the Pacific Northwest. Spokane, Washington, is about a 45-minute drive.

Invite Pastor To Preach at St. Timothy's

Rev. Jacobson of Bloomington, Minn. To Speak Aug. 24

Menasha — The Rev. Robert C. Jacobson, pastor of Atonement Lutheran church at Bloomington, Minn., has been invited to preach a guest sermon at St. Timothy English Lutheran church on Aug. 24.

He is the choice of the pulpit committee to suceed the Rev. Franklin C. Heglund who left early in June to become pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church at Albuquerque, N.M.

However, before he can be offered the pastorate, he must first be heard by the congregation after which a vote must be taken to extend a call. His becoming pastor will then still be dependent on his personal acceptance of the call and his congregation's willingness to release him.

Vote Set Aug. 31

The St. Timothy congregational meeting to vote upon his call will be held at 8:45 Sunday morning, Aug. 31. The Rev. Paul E. Bishop, president of the Synod of the North west, United Lutheran church in America, will preside at the meeting and preach at both the 7:30 and 9 o'clock services that day.

Members of the pulpit committee are William Platt, chairman; Mrs. Clarence VanLoo, secretary; Mrs. Hugh Geibel, Sr., Robert Ross and Roger Wright.

New Director

A new Christian activities director, Dennis L. Mattson of Eau Claire, is expected to report for duty this week. He succeeds the former Miss Agnete Bollesen, now living in Florida. Mattson was named by the personnel committee, Waldemar P. Lindemann, chairman, Melvin Siewert and Robert Farrell. He will work closely with the religious education committee headed by Carl Steffin.

The new Christian activities director graduated from St. Olaf college at Northfield, Minn., last June with majors in religion and speech. He has been active in scouting since 195 with leadership responsibilities since 1954. He served for two years as a coach and umpire in Eau Claire Little League baseball and participated in the St. Olaf intramural athletic program for four years.

He also was a Brotherhood secretary, Toastmasters club award winner three years, Alpha Phi Omega fraternity secretary and Mission Study group member while at St. Olaf.

Everything From Pups To Planes Seen at Show

27th Pet, Hobby Display Draws Several Hundred

Neenah — Dogs, cats, rabbits, match book covers, rocks, dolls, paintings, model planes and boats — and just about everything else a youngster could feed, collect, build or play with — were on display at Riverside park Sunday.

The event was the 27th annual pet and hobby show, sponsored by the Neenah recreation department. Several hundred people, divided almost equally between children and adults, were on hand for the afternoon and evening show.

The pavilion itself was turned into a display hall for the handicraft and collections of youngsters enrolled in the summer playground program.

Dogs participated in various contests outside the pavilion. Prizes were awarded to the best "all-American" pooches, as well as the best breed dogs. Prizes also went to the longest, shortest, biggest, smallest, the ones with the longest tail, shortest tail, curliest tail, curliest hair, longest hair, and several other categories, including, alas, the most homely.

Judges

The dogs were judged by Dave Morgan, Fond du Lac, Armin Gerhardt, who organized the first pet and hobby show 26 years ago, judged the other pets and poultry.

Arts and crafts were judged by Mrs. Hugh Roberts, Sr., Mrs. Earl Brien, Mrs. Kenneth Rausch, Mrs. Todd Barnes, Miss Nellie Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilarson.

The event activity centered around the annual playground amateur talent show. Green, Cook, Hoover, Second ward and Laudan playgrounds were represented.

The Green's entry in the show was a record pantomime by Nancy and Janey Burr, Marianne George and Jean Healy. Another pantomime was offered by Laudan playground, which featured Ruthie Andrews, Pat Solomon, Jean Hildebrand, Karla Brill, Wendy Spafford, Barbara Gollnow, Russ Andrews, Kathy Hendrickson and Rita Asmus.

Acrobats

Synchronized acrobatics were staged by Barbara and Carol Piekarz, and Paul Piekarz and Doug Janz presented a hand puppet act. Both pairs represented Hoover playground.

Becky Sewall of Cook playground recited a poem and Judy Steinke and her trick dog Duke of Second ward park also performed.

The show closed with the dog act of policeman Edison Storing of Detroit. Storing's three dogs illustrated safety precautions as they went through their routines.

Two Fined for Tipsy Driving

Harry E. Ewer, William Schedel Pay $100, Costs

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Two drivers pleaded guilty of drunken driving and were fined $100 and costs each by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning.

Losing driving privileges for one year were William J. Schedel, 50, route 1, Winneconne, and Harry E. Ewer, 35, Winnebago.

Schedel was arrested at 9:15 Friday night on County Trunk B and Ewer at 9:50 Saturday night when his car left the road at the intersection of Highways 110 and 41. Ewer tested .17 on the drunkometer while .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Good Deed Saves Man From Penalty

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — A Milwaukee man's good deed last week saved him a possible fine and jail sentence this morning.

Lawrence Woods was in municipal court on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge arising from an arrest 11:35 Saturday night in Oshkosh's Riverside park. He pleaded guilty but the case was dismissed by Judge S. J. Luchsinger when the judge learned that Woods had rescued two Oshkosh boys last Thursday. They were Billy McClone, Oshkosh, who rode his bicycle off the Main street dock and Charles Hopp, Billy's friend, who dove in after Billy though neither could swim.

60-Day Jail Term

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Claude LaBorde, Eureka, was sentenced to 60 days in jail when he admitted creating a disturbance and being drunk at Eureka on Friday.

Two Injured In 2-Car Crash

Menasha — Two persons were injured in a collision of cars at the Third and Racine street intersection at noon Sunday.

Cars involved were driven by Carl E. Endthoff, Brandon, and Emery Waters, 821 Third street. Mrs. Dorothy Endthoff received a skinned and bruised knee and was taken to Theda Clark hospital by a police car. Waters complained of a bump on his forehead.

Scouts Apply Auto Safety Tags at K-C

Troop 54 Boys Participate in 'Slow Down' Drive

Neenah — Boy Scouts this morning applied "Slow Down and Live" stickers to cars in the parking lot at the Kimberly-Clark main office, in cooperation with the Twin City Safety council.

The good turn is in conjunction with the campaign throughout the United States and Canada, sponsored by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators and the Wisconsin Council of Safety.

Scouts will visit the parking lots of other safety council member industries in the next few days. The stickers are applied to the rear bumper of the autos, with the permission of the owners.

Thirteen scouts of Troop 54 of St. Paul's English Lutheran church were working at the K-C lot this morning. They were Ronald Peterson, Bruce Martin, Foss Hooper, Ronald Voster, Douglas Janz, Bill Shockley, Lynn Deeg, David Fritsch, Ron Dedering, Robert Braun, Rocky Gmeiner, Tommy Langlais and Bob Pederson. Scoutmaster of the troop is Hugh Gear, Jr.

Man Placed On Probation For One Year

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Richard Clark, 24, route 2, Menasha, owner of Dick Clark's Rollarena, Highway 47, town of Menasha, was placed on probation for one year for writing three worthless checks worth $200.

Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger withheld sentencing this morning when he learned Clark had made restitution on the checks. Clark paid $13.05 court costs.

Two checks of $75 each were made out to Jeffery Williams and another for $50 to Edmund Cops. Clark said he had issued the checks on anticipated receipts and then was unable to cover them.

4 Drivers Fined $35, Costs in Neenah Court

Neenah — Four drivers paid a total of $35 plus costs Saturday for traffic violations while another pleaded innocent of speeding.

Fined $10 and costs each for speeding were Richard Schaffer, 18, route 1, Neenah; Joseph C. Schommer, 39, 124 State street, and Mrs. Robert Resch, 744 Broad street, Menasha.

Neenah — Nick Choronzy, Jr., 814 Maple street, pleaded innocent of being drunk and disorderly at his home Saturday morning and his trial was set for 10 o'clock in the morning on Monday, Aug. 18.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. Sara H. Rogers

Neenah — Mrs. Sara H. Rogers, 74, 208 E. Doty avenue, died at her home at 1:15 Sunday morning after an illness of six weeks. She was born Sept. 12, 1883 in Neenah and was a life resident.

She was organizer and first chief ranger of the Catholic Order of Foresters court No. 530, a member of the board of the Neenah-Menasha Apostolate since its beginning and also belonged to the St. Margaret Mary Sanctuary society, Allouez court of the Catholic Daughters of America, and the Third Order of St. Francis of St. Mary church.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Margaret Mary Catholic church with burial in St. Margaret cemetery.

Friends may call at the Westgor Funeral home after 2 o'clock this afternoon, where the rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening.

A daughter, Miss Genevieve Rogers, at home, is the only survivor.

Christian Lemberg

Neenah — Christian P. Lemberg, 73, 583 Oak street, died at 9:45 Sunday night after a long illness. He was born April 3, 1885 at Manistee, Mich., and lived in Neenah for the last 37 years. He was employed by the Morton Salt company, retiring in 1950.

Survivors include the widow; three sons, Jack, Dallas, Tex., Dick, Garden Grove, Calif., and Chris, Jr., Mount Prospect, Ill., and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at the Westgor Funeral home.

Picket Remains On Clinic Site

Menasha — Picketing of a new medical clinic being built on Chute street continued this morning. A picket was placed on the site Friday by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Local Union 577 of the electrical workers complained that "inferior wages and working conditions on the job were destroying the union's standards."

The Hatch Electric company, Neenah, which was hired by Dr. John R. Nebel to do the electrical work in the renovation of the former Trinity Lutheran church into a clinic, still has one electrician and a helper working there. Eight carpenters still are honoring the picket line.

Youth Who Rode Bike Into Fox River Gets Into Headlines Again

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Billy McClone of Oshkosh, who was in the headlines when he rode his bicycle off the Main street dock into the Fox river, Thursday night, was back again Saturday.

Saturday he discovered the doors of the new American bank in Oshkosh were open at a time when they should have been closed and locked. He called Oshkosh police at 4:15 Saturday afternoon and then he and friend, David Guetchow, stood guard until police arrived.

Police checked the bank, found no one inside and nothing missing and then called officials to lock up. It is presumed the janitor forgot to lock the doors.

Thursday night Billy accidentally rode into the Fox river on a bicycle. A chum, Charles Hopp, dove in after him although neither could swim. Both were rescued by Larry Woods of Milwaukee.

Doug Janz, Mike Millikan, and Jim Mittlestead were challenge day winners. Roy Lyons, Bernie Vallow, Kevin Lyons, Doug Janz and Susan Millar were awarded prizes on pirate day.

Nadler Becomes Second Highest TV Quiz Winner

New York—(AP)—Teddy Nadler became the second highest money winner in TV quiz history last night.

The St. Louis, Mo., quiz whiz boosted his winnings to $232,000 by defeating Mrs. Lorna Hahn, of Philadelphia, a Temple university history instructor, on CBS' "The $64,000 Challenge."

Nadler won $16,000 when Mrs. Hahn failed to answer a European history question.

This put Nadler second only to Robert Strom, 11-year-old science prodigy, who won 242,000 on two quiz shows.

Until last night, Elfrida Von Nardroff was second to Strom. She won $220,000 on the NBC-TV show "Twenty One."

Coon Dog's Baying Makes Man Too Happy

Kansas City, Kan. —(AP)— It was the small hours of the morning yesterday when the old coon dog began to bay.

A shotgun roared and a man screamed.

A hysterical woman called the sheriff's office and cried:

"A man's been killed, a man's been killed!

Headlights of the patrol car that raced to the scene picked out the outlines of a man lying across a doorstep. Two deputies slipped cautiously from the car and advanced on the house.

And then the man scrambled to his feet and said cordially:

"Why, hello there, Mr. Policeman!"

The man explained the whole thing:

"I got to hearin' old Sad (the coon dog) baying, and I just got so happy listenin' to him I had to do some shootin' and hollerin'."

The deputies deprived him of a 12-gauge shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle and escorted him to bed. They also calmed his sister, who had reported the shooting.

Kaukauna Man Fined; Sentenced to Jail

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Richard W. Hahn, 23, route 2, Kaukauna, pleaded guilty of driving without a license on Highway 114 at 7:25 Saturday night and was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 5-days in jail by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

Hahn's driving license was revoked for one year for drunken driving on Sept. 9, 1957.

These Days

Lack of Parental Discipline Blamed for Loose Moral Code

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York — Social problems are always with us and one forgets the really important things in life in the welter of international troubles. But to a family which had lived in peace and security, the sudden shock of a child of high school age reporting that she is about to have a baby is a greater tragedy than the downfall of the Hashemites in Iraq.

Sokolsky

It would seem that the largest increase in illegitimacy is among girls of 15 or younger—the rise is reported to be 30 per cent since 1949, which is very bad indeed. Some authorities attribute this trouble to the habit of premature "going steady," which does not seem very likely to be right because boys and girls have gone steady from time immemorial, starting at any age. Gus Edwards set this forth in his song "School Days," which was written long before the current crop of teenagers was born.

School days, school days,
Dear old golden rule days,
Reading and 'riting and 'rithmetic.
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick
You were my queen in calico
I was your bashful, barefoot beau
When you wrote on my slate, I love you so,
When we were a couple of kids.

Maybe, it was that hickory stick that had something to do with improved manners and morals, but the fact is that boys and girls did have puppy love affairs as they do now, and occasionally one of them got into trouble.

More Brutal Time

In that more brutal era, few infractions of morality were condoned. No such affairs as Ingrid Bergman permits herself, for instance, were publicized with pictures on the front page, although they occurred. For instance, when Harry Thaw killed Stanford White, Evelyn Nesbit was amply reported and there were drawings of her coming out of a pie, but no one thought it was right. Harry Thaw was no hero and Evelyn Nesbit no heroine. She was a chorus girl and in those days anyone connected with the theater, particularly chorus girls, was expected to be bad and children were so told. That may be one reason why so many ran away from home to accomplish their theatrical ambitions.

Today, nothing is so romantic. Boys and girls in large cities with nothing to walk on but sidewalks "go steady" and neck and pet in the back seats of jalopies and hot rods, with or without automobile licenses, taking all sorts of chances in "lovers' lanes" or on drinking parties, particularly after school dances.

"Don't be a creep," is the outcry when a chaperone is suggested, and what parent wants to be one? Nobody wants to be a creep or a drip and so the little girl comes home, where she feels unloved and insecure, discovering that she is in real trouble because she does not know what to do and the boy does not know, either. He will soon enough be drafted and will disappear for three years, more or less. Here are two kids who start life licked.

Both Caught

The best social service advice on this subject is that after a girl has got into trouble there is little to do about it. She is caught. But so is the boy. In the good old days there was a shot-gun wedding which often even worked so that they all lived happily ever afterwards. But those were the days when divorce was not so easy, and people in a community knew each other well, and neighbors gossiped but helped out, and the church was a living force.

But nowadays shot-gun weddings do not work out so well because mental cruelty can be anything. Jobs are hard to get for the very young as for the very old. And there is always the draft and a war in the offing.

For the family, such a mother and child become an expensive troublesome problem. The answer, of course, is prevention and prevention means stern discipline in the home and in the school and candid co-operation between parents and teachers.

As one reads the statistics about young love, it is possible to become romantic and sympathetic and even a bit nostalgic about the years when one was young and gay. But those who have come through fairly whole also recall parental discipline which was rugged and sometimes even hurt.

Swan's Long Neck Is Used to Duck Under Water for Food

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Swans are related to geese, but have longer necks. Today I shall answer several questions about them.

Q. Does the long neck of a swan have any special value?

A. Yes, it helps the swan to obtain food. Many water birds dive into the water, but a swan simply thrusts its head down to get the food it can. In a shallow pond, it may be able to send its beak clear to the bottom. Sometimes the neck is 30 inches long.

Swans eat the roots and seeds of water plants. They also capture minnows and other small fish.

Q. Is it true that baby swans receive rides on the backs of the big ones?

A. Mother swans often give rides to the young ones. The little swans fall off now and then, and in that way they gain practice in swimming. The young stay near the mother for several months after the time of hatching.

Q. Why do we have the expression "as white as a swan?"

A. This expression came into use before swans with dark feathers were known. The swans of Europe and North America have white plumage.

Swans with black feathers were discovered in Australia, and now are on display in various zoos. They are known as black swans.

Q. Do whistling swans really whistle?

A. They make high-pitched sounds which suggest whistling. They also utter deeper sounds which, to some ears, seem like "hoo-hoo-hoo." Whistling swans migrate from Canadian areas, where they make nests, to southern places. Some of them spend the winter on the coasts of the Carolinas. They fly, in single file, at the rate of a mile a minute.

Q. Do dying swans sing a song?

A. Trustworthy observers have heard "swan songs." The notes are musical, soft and pleasing.

Swedish Man Has Heavy Load of Grief

Greensboro, N.C. —(AP)— A weary little man sat by his maimed daughter's bedside here today — surrounded by strange faces in a strange land.

Ernest Ahlberg, 53-year-old printer in the Swedish mint at Stockholm, is carrying a heavy load of grief.

Back in Stockholm, his dying wife is in a coma. She has been seriously ill for months and broke a hip two days after the Ahlbergs' daughter, Brigitta, left for the United States, June 6.

In Greensboro, Brigitta lies in a hospital bed with her right arm gone and her face and chest deeply cut. She was injured Tuesday when she ran into an airplane propeller — only a few hours before she was to start the return trip to Sweden.

Ahlberg had a little good news last night when doctors said 23-year-old Brigitta has made good progress since he arrived.

Flew From Sweden

Ahlberg flew from Sweden Friday. He speaks almost no English. He first learned the details of his daughter's accident when he arrived here and spoke to the Rev. Goran Medberg, a minister from Stockholm who is touring the United States.

Ahlberg said he had not told his wife about Brigitta's injuries.

Miss Ahlberg, a medical student, was an exchange student with a Methodist caravan touring here. The caravan members were offered sight-seeing rides in a small, private plane.

A German student, Gunther Sommer, said Brigitta hurried to the wrong side of the plane where there was no door, ducked under the wing and darted into the whirring propellor.

EUB Church Plans Meeting, Sessions At Forest Junction

Neenah — Members of the First Evangelical United Brethren church are planning to attend one or more of the sessions scheduled for this week at Forest Junction.

Attending this evening's meeting, which will include a worship service and a sermon entitled "How Do Christians Find God?" by Bishop H. R. Heininger, Minneapolis Minn., will be the Rev. and Mrs. William C. F. Hayes and their son, Franklin, and Mrs. John Helms.

They will attend again on Tuesday with Mrs. Jessie Greinert, Mrs. Ida Breaker, Mrs. William Peterson, Mrs. Ronald Hall, Mrs. John Zick and Mrs. J. K. Babbitt.

The Tuesday meeting will begin with a worship service and talk by the Rev. Richard Bonney of the Cascade and Plymouth churches. Bishop Heininger will conduct a Bible study and a children's service at 2 o'clock will be conducted by Mrs. Orville Barteck. Mrs. William Voight will preside at an afternoon rally of the Women's Society of World Service and the evening service will be highlighted by music from the Appleton Evangelical United Brethren church.

List Program

Wednesday's program will begin with a sermon by the Rev. Anthony Farina of Germantown and the worship service will be highlighted by a sermon by Bishop Heininger entitled "What Does It Mean to be Saved."

The annual business meeting is scheduled for Thursday at the Forest Assembly grounds and the Rev. Roy W. Berg will lead the afternoon service. The Rev. Wallace Hermann, Marinette, will officiate at Friday morning services and Bishop Heininger will speak in the evening on "What Purpose Do Christians Have for Living?"

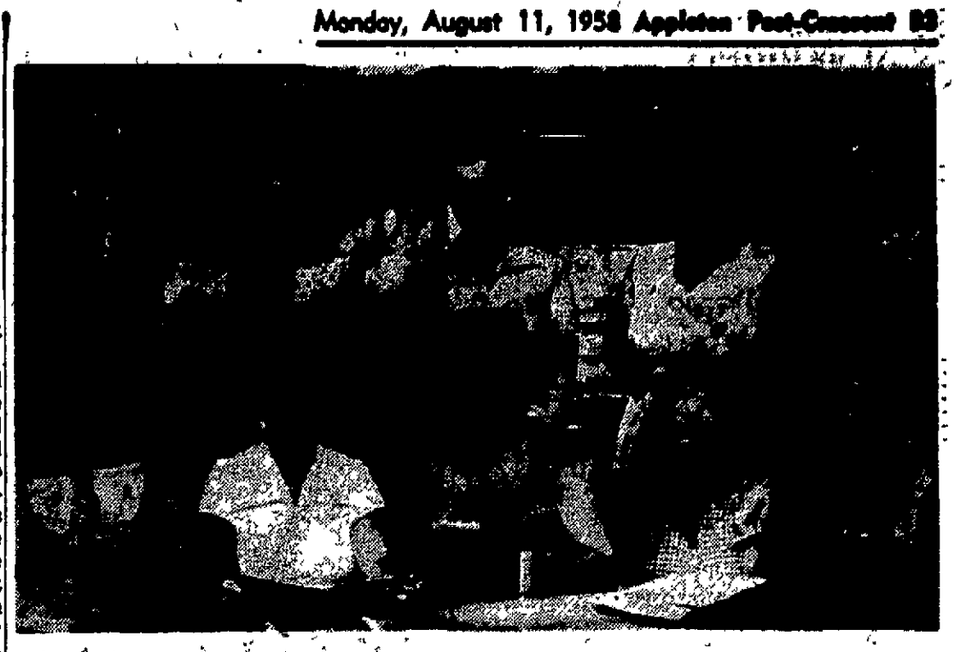

Men's day, a traditional part of the camp meeting, is planned for Saturday and Harvey Schumann, president of the church Men's club, is in charge of arrangements.

Gilbert Leibenstein, president of the EUB Men of the Wisconsin conference, will preside at the opening session Saturday morning and participating in a discussion on "The Call of the Church to EUB Men" will be Ora W. Lueptow, Markesan; Russell Frank, Racine; Dr. Walter D. Kline, Milwaukee, and Arthur Fredrick of Oshkosh.

The Rev. Willard W. Schulz, director of Christian education in Wisconsin, will preside at the afternoon meeting which will conclude with a sermon by Bishop Heininger.

On Sunday Mr. Liebenstein will give the lesson, "Justice to Minorities" and Bishop Heininger will give the sermon.

Communion services and music provided by the Denmark church will conclude the session on Sunday evening.

Neenah Tennis Club Loses at Milwaukee

Don Vought Collects Lone Victory in 6-1 Setback; Closes Season With 5-2 Record

Neenah — Neenah's Tennis club dropped a 6-1 test to the McKinley Tennis club at Milwaukee Saturday afternoon to close its Wisconsin State league season with a 5-2 record.

Veteran Don Vought, who is unbeaten at the No. 1 spot, accounted for the lone Neenah win. He captured a 6-2, 6-2 decision from Bert Berkwich, one of the top junior division players in the state a year or so ago.

Neenah played without Bob Erickson and Tom Malchow, its Nos. 2 and 3 players, forcing the other netters to move up two notches.

At No. 2, Bob Curtis dropped a 6-1, 6-4 verdict to Marshall Rotter and in the third spot Dick Wilson, Neenah High school co-captain, was beaten by Al Adriano 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles Results

Jerry Sullivan of McKinley won over Norm Thiel 8-6, 6-4 at the fourth spot and Hub Anger, a veteran player, turned back Jack Ankerson, Neenah's other co-captain, 6-4, 6-2 at No. 5.

In doubles play, Curtis and Wilson lost to Sullivan and Adriano 9-7, 6-4 at No. 1 and Vought and Thiel were beaten by Berkwich and Rotter 6-2, 6-2 at the second position.

The 5-2 record gives Neenah third place in the state circuit. It won the championship the previous two years. Koz Blue and McKinley tied for first and will play off for the championship.

Bill Otto of Neenah was third in B utility to also gain a place in the national meet. The first three finishers in all divisions qualified for the nation-wide event.

Kargus, state champion in the B hydro event, added another triumph to his long list of laurels by winning both heats Sunday with a maximum of 800 points. He was actually fourth in the first heat but the first three boats were disqualified for jumping the gun. Kargus ran away from the field in the second heat.

All Disqualified

Broas speared his win in the C utility division. He won the first heat and those 400 points held up as every boat of the dozen in the second was disqualified for beating the gun across the starting line.

Tom Turner of Quincey, Mich., was second in B hydro with 528 points and Ray Motrick of Dearborn, Mich., placed third with 427. Kargus' 2:46.3 was the fastest winning heat time.

Kargus also copped Saturday's elimination event. Bob Herring of Sheboygan was second and Robert Watson of Battle Creek, Mich., wound up third.

Stippich Second

Keith Stippich of Milwaukee was second to Broas in the only C utility race with 300 points. Jim Hall of Eaton Rapids, Mich., took third. Broas' time in the first heat was 4:45.4.

Broas wound up second in Saturday's elimination heat behind Bill Magel of Kalamazoo, Mich. Gary Flack of Oshkosh placed fourth.

Twin City drivers picked up third and fourth places in the B utility event. Otto speared 320 points for third place and Bob Grunska was fourth with 286. Ron Hedlund of Willmette, Ill., won both heats to finish with 800 points. Paul Kalb of Monroe, Mich., was second.

Jim Walsh of Kaukauna took Saturday's elimination event but failed to place up among the leaders in the finals. Grunska was third and Otto fourth.

Gerry Waldman of Milwaukee was first in A hydro with 625 points. Dean Chenoweth of Xenia, Ohio, was second. Bill Byrne of Chicago took the C hydro event with 453 points. He was the only legal starter in the first heat.

The D stock hydro division honors went to Mickey McDonald of Kalamazoo, Mich., with Bill Janz of Chicago second.

Saturday Winners

Keith Stippich of Milwaukee won the A utility event with "Chuck" Mapes of Elgin, Ill., second and Charles Erdman of Horison, third. Harold Barnes, Warren, Ohio, took the D utility race with Ted Moberg, West Allis, second.

Winners in Saturday's championship races were James Hall, Eaton Rapids, Mich., J utility and Bob Murphy, Springfield, Ill., Class 36.

171 Boats Enter

Saturday's other elimination heat victors included Chenoweth, A utility; Moberg D utility; Flack, C hydro; Haggard, A hydro, and Bob Gran, Thiensville, D hydro.

The field of 171 boats was one of the largest of any divisional regatta in the country. The races were sponsored by the Winneconne Chamber of Commerce with the Badger Amateur Racing association in charge.

8 Young Women Presented at Ball

As the orchestra played "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" and "All The Things You Are," eight young women gowned in white walked through an arch decked with greens to be presented to members of Riverview Country club Saturday night at the club's annual Candlelight Ball.

Introduced were Miss Jean Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis, 1705 Hycrest drive, Appleton; Miss Patricia Eustice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eustice, 1640 Palisades drive, Appleton; Miss Marcia Manier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Manier, 1236 Opeeche street, Appleton;

Miss Joan McBain, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis McBain, 81 Cherry court, Appleton; Miss Sue McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer McConnell, 324 Park drive, Neenah; Miss Mary McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee, 924 E. Alton street, Appleton;

Red and White Nosegays

Miss Helen Mary Rugland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Rugland, 124 River drive, Appleton; and Miss Mary Strange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Strange, 1703 Reid drive, Appleton.

John Reeve, club president, made the formal presentation at 9:30 ceremonies. Each young woman received a floral nosegay of garnet sweetheart roses and tiny white pompons as she was introduced.

The young women, all June high school graduates and daughters of Riverview members, had their first dance with their fathers, and then their escorts cut in to begin the "rush dance."

Parties Honor Presentees

Prior to the presentation, the young women and their escorts had dined on the club porch after being honored at a "coketail" party given by Dr. and Mrs. Louis McBain. After the ball, the group was entertained at a breakfast given by the Fred Eustices.

Evening activities included two cocktail parties, with the parents of the young women entertaining guests at the club's River room, and committee members in charge of the ball meeting with Dr. and Mrs. Robert DeCock, ball chairmen, at the DeCock residence. Parents of the presentees, their guests and committee members later joined club members in the club dining room for dinner.

Miss Davis, who was escorted by David Otte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Otte, 22 Winona court, Appleton, was gowned in a silk organza dress detailed by a softly draped empire bodice. She plans to enter Barat college, Lake Forest, Ill., in the fall.

A sweetheart neckline edged in silk tulle accented the French organdy gown worn by Miss Eustice. Tiny embroidered roses sprinkled the hoop skirt. The young woman, who will matriculate at Alverno college, Milwaukee, asked Richard Timmers, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Timmers, 504 E. Frances street, Appleton, to be her ball partner.

Escorting Miss Manier was Sherman Marty, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Marty, 777 Elm street, Neenah. Miss Manier, who will attend Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., donned a gown of peau de soie, the bodice accented by tiny straps and a back bow controlling skirt fullness.

DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind., has been chosen by Miss McBain who attended the ball with Thomas Grossman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Grossman, 123 E. Byrd street, Appleton. Nylon skirt ruffling accented her strapless gown of nylon.

Peau de Soie Cummerbund

Miss McConnell, who will study at Lawrence college, chose a gown of chantilly lace over net and taffeta. A wide cummerbund of peau de soie ending in a large back bow with streamers detailed her dress. She was escorted by Marvin Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson, 625 Wilson street, Neenah.

Peter Deutsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deutsch, 423 Park drive, Neenah, attended the ball with Miss McKee, who will undertake freshman studies at Lawrence. Pleating accented the the empire line of her strapless dress in silk organza, with a panel of shadow embroidery at the hemline.

Miss Rugland appeared in a silk organdy gown with a portrait neckline and bouffant skirt. Imported lace and braid were appliqued on the dress. The young woman, who will attend Occidental college, Los Angeles, Calif., was escorted by Don Call, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ara Call, 911 E. Hancock street.

Roy Stohlman, son of Mrs. LeRoy Stohlman, 1725 S. Connell street, was the escort of Miss Strange who will enter Lawrence in the fall. Her embroidered cotton dress was cut with a square neck, small cap sleeves, and tiered skirt edged with lace.

Instant Beauty Tips

For an application of face powder that stays on — however sticky the weather — try this method:

1. Use loose powder and a clean, smooth puff or a cosmetic cotton ball. 2. Dip up enough powder on the puff to cover the entire face and throat. Learn to gauge the amount accurately as redipping causes splotchy effects. 3. Gently press the powder on; do not dust it on. Start at the left side of the jaw and systematically circle the face in a clockwise direction. Next fill in the cheeks, powdering the nose last. Finally, powder the throat.

4. Let the powder set for several minutes. 5. With the reverse side of the puff or a fresh cotton ball, remove excess powder with light, downward strokes. Work from the hairline to the base of the throat.

Actually, this application has more to recommend it than staying power. It gives a petal finish that hides small skin imperfections.

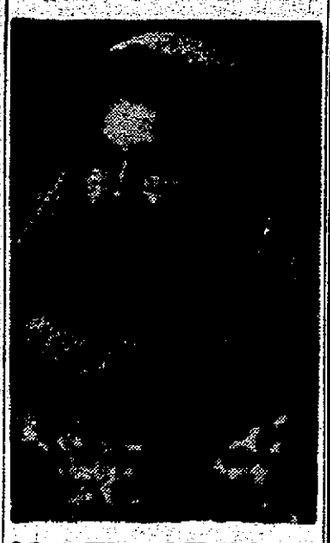

Black Creek Couple to Honeymoon in Florida

A wedding trip to Florida is being taken by Floyd Kahler and his bride, the former Grace Ort. They were married at 6:30 Saturday evening at the Methodist church, Black Creek.

The Rev. Richard Deems officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ort, Black Creek, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kahler, Black Creek.

Sister of the bride, Miss Mary Ort, Green Bay, the maid of honor, preceded the bride and her father down the aisle. Bridesmaid was Miss Shirley Ort-Puls, Shiocton, sister of the bride. Miss Bonnie Sedo, Black Creek, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid.

Donald Kahler, Black Creek, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and groomsman was Kenneth Kahler, Black Creek, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were brothers of the bride and bridegroom, Harold Ort, Jr., and Orlan Kahler, both of Black Creek.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Methodist church parlors. After their honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside in Oshkosh.

The bride is a graduate of Wisconsin State college, Oshkosh, where she was affiliated with Delta Phi. She taught in Watertown for the last two years.

Her husband will be a senior at Wisconsin State college, Oshkosh, in the fall.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Pair

A double ring ceremony united Miss Jean Riehl, and Norbert Fuhrmann at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Paul Lutheran church. The Rev. F. M. Brandt performed the wedding service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Riehl, Shiocton, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuhrmann, Chilton. Mr. Riehl gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Katherine Riehl, Shiocton, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Wallace Fuhrmann, Appleton, was the bridesmaid.

Best man was Wallace Fuhrmann, and groomsman was Gerald Riehl, Shiocton. Ushers were David Thomas, Baraboo, and Paul Riehl, Black Creek.

A supper was served to the immediate family following the ceremony at the American Legion hall, Shiocton. It was also the site of an evening reception honoring the newlyweds.

After a wedding trip to Michigan, the couple will reside at 2301 N. Mason street.

The bride is a graduate of Shiocton High school, and is employed at the General Electric Supply company. Her husband is a graduate of Appleton High school, and is employed at the Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Personal Mail Should Be Private

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: During my visit with a relative recently I went out to the mail box on occasion and brought in the mail. I usually looked through the mail on my way to the house to see if there was anything for me. My cousin happened to see me do this one day and said that she did not like people looking through her mail. I was embarrassed and rather hurt over this as I could see nothing wrong in what I did. However, it has been bothering me and just to ease my mind I would like to know if I was wrong to do that.

Answer: Few would object to your running quickly through the mail to catch anything addressed to you, but if you examined each letter to see where it came from and perhaps even read some of the postcards, your cousin had every right to criticize you.

Your Problems

Pros, Cons of Education Have No Middle Ground in Sight

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: Well, the ol' roof fell in again. This time the subject is Education in These United States. I'm printing as many letters as space permits—and letting the chips fall where they may. — ANN LANDERS

FROM CALIFORNIA: I don't know where you live, Ann Landers, but out here in Sunny Cal the public schools are a joke. We are so far behind other areas they laugh at us when we try to get our children in a reputable eastern college. — C.B.A.

Landers

FROM NEW YORK: Why does everyone have such a high opinion of eastern schools? Since we moved here from California our children have been utterly bored because New York schools are fully two years behind Los Angeles and San Francisco.— SHOCKED

FROM DETROIT: The real devil in the school system is the P.T.A.. If parents would stay at home and teach their kids manners and let the educators run the schools we wouldn't have to worry about Russia, sputniks, mutniks and what have you. — PAPA

COLUMBUS, OHIO: The P.T.A. in our city keeps the Board of Education on its toes. This is the most vigilant and effective group in the country. God bless them. — DR. L.K.

DALLAS: I hate to be a Texas braggart, but the more I see of northern schools the happier I am that I live in Dixie. — LONE STAR LULU

GREEN BAY, WIS.: My husband and I thought our second child was mentally retarded until we moved out of the south and put him in a Wisconsin school. Last June he graduated with honors. — PINE FOLKS

HARTFORD, CONN.: I almost died laughing when I read your suggestion that parents get together and pressure the board of education. Have you ever tried to talk to a teacher or a principal, let alone the board of education?

A complaint merely results in reprisal for your child.— MOM

MINNEAPOLIS: Board of education my eye. It's the state superintendent who decides what kind of an education your children and mine will get. — J.E.F.

DES MOINES: There are pitifully few dedicated teachers left. They put in as little time as possible while thousands of citizens badger the state legislature for higher salaries for them. This has become a cause celebres for bleeding hearts and I am sick of it. — MR. C.S.V.

MEMPHIS: My husband took a selling job this summer because he doesn't make enough money teaching school to support his family. Teaching is the stepchild of the professions. It is truly a labor of love. — HIS WIFE

CHICAGO: If we couldn't afford to send our children to a private school on the near north side we'd be in real trouble. The public schools in our district are appalling. — ALICE P.

SEATTLE: Kids today are soft. They want education (and everything else) dished up to them on a silver platter. Anyone who wants to learn can get a darned good education free, anywhere in the United States. — HARD KNOCK GRAD

NEW ORLEANS: Too many parents expect the teacher to wave a magic wand and produce geniuses out of mediocre material.

I taught fifth grade last year and some of the boys were beginning to grow beards. They will never read or write well. Their parents are roamers without roots. They never had a chance. — PAULINE S.

TORONTO, CANADA: When we move to Indiana our children are staying here to finish their education. Their cousins who are the same age write such shocking letters we can't believe our eyes. A fifth-grade nephew wrote a post card recently: "Dear Ant and Unkle: We are haveing grate fun fishing in the cannoo." Do you blame us? — Canadians and proud of it.

Cloak Triumphs as Vicar

Attic Actors Make Most Of Anecdote of a Play

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Every once in a while the usually astute managers of theatrical fortunes mistake a joke for a play, a situation for a plot and possibilities as characters. Quite often this strange potpouri clicks, but most often the results develop into hilarious expectations and a good deal of talk.

"The White Sheep of the Family" falls somewhere between the click and the talk. However, the Attic Theater production of this expedition into the improbable realm of respectable dips, pens, fences and crib crackers has features that lift it above the unsubstantial script.

Chief of these is the magnificent portrayal of an absent-minded vicar by Theodore Cloak, the company's manager and husband of its director.

Irrepressible Vicar

Cloak's vicar is irrepressible. His first gem of an appearance Saturday stopped the show and much of the overdrawn development of what was supposed to be the plot passed pleasantly in expectation of his addled reappearance.

Although the character's empty-headedness is predictable, Cloak keeps the vicar on such a substantial plane of credibility replete with restrained humor he achieves a freshness beyond the confines of the writing.

It is a performance worth seeing and it is available at Jefferson school tonight and next Saturday, Sunday and Monday evenings.

Delightfully Suburban

Another touch which makes the Attic production of the "Sheep" worthwhile is the elegant staging.

While the last production was authentic 19th century London, the "Sheep" is mounted in delightfully present day Hampstead in suburban London.

The costumes fit the setting. The entire production sparkles with polish and care.

The company disports itself in keeping with the surroundings.

The joke the du Garde Peace - Hay writing team made into a play involves a family of crime artists. The father is a top burglar; the mother, a shoplifter; the daughter, a pickpocket; and the son is the finest forger in history. They all live in a beautiful, respectable home with top standing in the society they bilk.

Horrible Conflict

The fly in the ointment is the son's desire to go straight — horrors! — and marry the daughter of a Scotland Yard commissioner, who happens to be a good friend of the family and a fellow church warden with the father. A complication arises from an apprentice pickpocket acting as the maid in the household, but all ends happily when the fiancee proves to be a rebellious child and even a better burglar than the head of the family.

Making the best out of the typically English, pedestrian script is a fine cast headed by Charles Schuman in the lengthy role of the father. Schuman carries out the legend that there is nothing common about a housebreaker at the top of his profession.

The rest of the family team is made up of Barbara Belle as the motherly shoplifter, Neal Dohr as the socialite pickpocket and Thomas Mall as the white sheep wanting to go straight with the finest pen in all England.

James Graper scores with a tweedy portrayal of the Yard man and Jeanne Voll turns in a fine performance as the straight girl eager to go crooked. Phyllis Wormwood is appropriately energetic as the apprentice dip housemaid.

Vicar Cloak Saturday made a curtain speech pointing out patronage is the lifeblood of the living theater, which is the repository of one of the major cultural pursuits of the community.

There can be no argument with his exposition. His performance in the present production, along with the fine work of his company, certainly deserves it.

Bays Lose Helluin For 8-Week Period

Tackle Injured in Intra-Squad Game Won by Greens, 34 to 16

BY ART DALEY
Green Bay Press-Gazette Sports Editor

Green Bay — Jerry Helluin is lost to the Packers for eight weeks — maybe more!

The 270-pound tackle was one of four injured in a whale of an intra-squad game before an enthused crowd of 9,381 fans at City stadium Saturday afternoon. The Greens beat the Whites in a 7-touchdown battle, 34-16.

Big Jerry suffered a shoulder separation on a kickoff play. He had gone in on this play to give somebody a brief rest in the 94-degree heat!

Helluin who came to the Packers in 1954 in a trade with the Cleveland Browns was the most serious of the injured players.

Max McGee suffered a mild concussion and a knee injury, Harry Horton sustained a hairline fracture of the right elbow and Dick Deschaine sprained his punting ankle.

McGee who was carried "kicking and screaming" from the field will be back in practice in a few days. Max regained consciousness in the ambulance on the way to the hospital. He was injured when tackled by Bobby Dillon and John Symank.

Deschaine will be hobbled for a week or so while Horton will be out for several weeks.

Pat Damper On

Loss of Helluin until around the third or fourth League game will break up the Helluin-Dave Hanner defensive combination that has been in force for 48 straight league games in the last four years. They started every game and only Jerry missed some of the Frisco game in '54 due to an ankle injury.

The injury also could reopen the push for a defensive tackle — a move that Coach Ray McLean made in the off-season by trading Ray Krouse and J. D. Kimmel. Krouse was lost by Commissioner Bert Bell's decision but Kimmel still may come.

While the injuries put the damper on, after the game McLean was still able to smile over some of the play on the field.

He was pleased with the general rock-em, sock - em

Pro Golfing Star Bayer Here Tuesday

Fox Cities area golfing fans will get one of their rare chances to see a big-name pro appear in their home territory Tuesday.

Long-hitting George Bayer will play an exhibition match at BDM at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He will also conduct a golf clinic.

The exhibition foursome will include Bayer; BDM pro Ky Leonard; John Hayes; and either club champion Don Strutz or Bob Martin. Strutz will play if his recent hand injury permits.

The exhibition is free to the public.

Everyone using the BDM parking lot will be charged $1. This fee will help defray the cost of Bayer's appearance.

Mal Anderson Wins Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championship

South Orange, N. J. —(AP)— Aussie Mal Anderson is the new Eastern Grass Courts men's tennis champ today but it took him 3½ hours of combat with Ham Richardson to claim the honor.

The two battled through five sets Sunday, with the Aussie Davis cupper finally winning, 6-3, 6-4, 6-8, 13-15, 6-4.

Althea Gibson, U. S. and Wimbledon champ, took the Women's title with an easy 9-7, 6-2 victory over Sally Moore, Bakersfield, Calif. The New York girl repeated as titleholder.

LC-K '9' Advances To Quarter-Finals Of State Tourney

Shades Milwaukee Firemen, 2-1, Plays Highway Beers Tonight

Milwaukee — Al Harke will go to the mound tonight as Little Chute - Kimberly takes on the powerful Milwaukee Highway Beers in the quarter-finals of the state semi-pro tournament at County stadium.

Sunday afternoon the Papermakers — led by the stalwart hurling of Bob Schmidt —edged the Milwaukee Firemen in a 2-1 thriller.

Highway Beers moved up a notch in the meet by defeating highly-rated Merrill, 6-2, Saturday. The Papermakers had drawn a bye in the first round.

Heavy Downpour

LC-K was scheduled to play Sunday night against the Beers but a heavy downpour forced postponement of all games last night. The two clubs will tangle at 10 o'clock tonight.

The Papermakers scored single tallies in the second and third innings to cop the win over the Firemen. They had to take advantage of miscues by the losers as Dave Basco limited LC-K to only four hits, three singles and a two bagger by Floyd Hammen.

Jim Fuhs scored the first run for the winners as he reached first on an infield error, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and crossed the plate when Tom Vanderpas drilled a single to left center.

Loses Control

In the next frame Basco lost control momentarily and hit Jim Vande Wettering and Jim Nirschl in succession. Gene Peerenboom then unloaded a slasher to right that scored Vande Wettering.

The only run off Schmidt came in the fourth when "Bud" Manthey poked a homer over the 396 foot mark.

Schmidt was touched for six hits but kept them well scattered in the 8-inning contest. Games are played with an hour and 55 minute time limit.

Wildenbergs Win in State Archery Events

Take First in Men's, Women's Flight Divisions

Chris and Monica Wildenberg of Little Chute won first place in the men's and women's flight competition, respectively, in the State Outdoor Target archery championships, sponsored by the Wisconsin Archers association, held at Fond du Lac's Lakeside park Saturday and Sunday.

Chris piled up 478 and Monica compiled 374. Other first place winners included Rosemary Eckes, Appleton, in the cadet girls' barebow division with 314 points, and Lynn Hartjes, Little Chute, in the cadet girls' sight division, with 293.

Other Placers

There were two double second place winners. John Van Handel, Jr., of Little Chute was runner-up in the cadet boys' sight and the junior boys' clout. Dawn Bloch, Kimberly, was second in the junior girls' sight division and in the junior girls' flight. She was also third in the junior girls' clout shoot.

Ginny Ayres of Menasha placed second in the women's barebow division. In the other divisions Della Grimm, Little Chute, placed third in the women's sight division; Jim Wildenberg, Litle Chute, was third in the junior boys' clout; and Russ Eckes, Appleton, third in the cadet boys' sight.

In the team shooting competition, Racine won with a total of 2,564 points. Kimberly was third with 2,407.

Van Dyke's Ninth-Inning Homer Gives Foxes Split

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Menasha — The Burlington Bees still had football on their minds Saturday night after they watched the Green Bay Packer intra - squad game and arrived here just minutes before their engagement with the Fox Cities Foxes.

Marockie

The Bees proceeded to beat the Foxes by a football-like, 13 to 12 score. In a homer - packed game, the "extra point," ironically enough came on a ninth-inning single by Don Voigt.

Reason to Scoff

For the first five innings, Burlington had reason to scoff at the tales it had heard about the Menasha ball park's being a home run hitters' shangri-la. At that juncture, the Bees trailed, 3 to 0, in homers and 8-2 in total run production.

But once, the swarming Bees got the hang of homer-clouting, they drove the Foxes and 702 of their supporters to the threshold of "Berserk-ville." In the last four frames, the Bees mauled seven round-trippers, including four in the sixth inning and three in a row by outfielder Billy Williams.

Southpaw Dick Griffith, whose 8-1 lead after four innings looked like money in the bank, failed again in a continuing quest for his first victory since June 21. He was bombed out in the 4-homer sixth, but the loss eventually went to second reliever Don Cameron who gave up Voigt's tie-breaking single.

Neither their fat early lead nor a scintillating, 7-RBI power display by outfielder Hank Marockie could save the Foxes' from the fatal effects of Saturday, Miss Dillon placed third in the 200-meter backstroke event. Sunday she captured second in the 100 - meter backstroke and fourth in the 100-meter freestyle.

Rain Forces Miller Meet Postponement

Cary Middlecoff Carries 3-Shot Lead Into Final Round

Milwaukee —(AP)— Torrential rains, accompanied by strong winds, flooded greens and sent water gushing across fairways at the Tripoli Golf club Sunday, forcing suspension of the final round of the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf tournament.

The field of 68 pros and amateurs was set to tee off again today. All of Sunday's scores were wiped off the board by the sudden, violent storm that caught three-quarters of the field and thousands of spectators on the course.

Man to Catch

It was the seventh tournament of the current PGA tour affected by rain. Five others were postponed one day while a sixth, the New Orleans open, was held up for three days.

Veteran Cary Middlecoff, a 37-year-old former dentist from Memphis, Tenn., still was the man to catch at par 35-35—70 Tripoli. The former

Bees Win Twin Bill Opener, 3-1

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

They might still be playing Sunday night's doubleheader at Goodland field but for Fox Cities Foxes right fielder Bob Van Dyke.

Van Dyke

Sunday had just become Monday when Van Dyke weighed into a Ron Goerger fast ball for a bases - empty home run in the last half of the ninth to give the Foxes a 5-4 victory and a split in the twin bill with Burlington.

Bees Take Opener

The Bees had captured the 7-inning first game, 3-1, on Bob Moore's 6-hitter.

The Bees make their last appearance of the season here this evening in a Ladies night attraction. Lefthander Cliff Andersen (6-9) will be opposed by Fox Cities righthander Earl Furley (2-1).

Van Dyke's seventh round tripper of the season over the left center field fence at 12:03 this morning, marked the second time within 10 days that the Foxes had won a Goodland field tilt with a homer in the last of the ninth.

"Tex" Taylor's 2-out, 2-run circuit smash on Aug. 1 had beaten Green Bay, 4-3.

The second game's winner was righthander Ron Blood-

Braves Crash 33 Hits, Dump Phillies Twice

Cast Off Slump, Boost Lead With 8-7, 14-3 Wins

By The Associated Press

It will be a long time before the season's largest crowd (32,117) at Philadelphia's Connie Mack stadium will forget the Sunday fireworks display staged by the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves made 33 hits in their 8-7 and 14-3 doubleheader sweep over the Phillies.

Only two of them were home runs, both by catcher Del Crandall. But there were five triples and ten doubles. Hank Aaron, who had five hits and scored five runs, had a pair of triples and a double. Eddie Mathews, with seven hits and six runs, had a double and triple. Frank Torre, who drove in five runs, had a double and triple.

Robinson Relieves

Relief pitcher Humberto Robinson hurled 2-hit ball for Milwaukee through the last 6 and two-thirds innings after relieving reliever Gene Conley in the third of the first game. Torre drove in Aaron with the winning run in the eighth. Aaron had opened with a triple off loser Jack Meyer.

Mathews had 4-for-4 in the second game, including his 1,000th major league hit. Crandall's pair of homers accounted for four runs as the Braves pounded loser Robin Roberts and three relievers for 19 hits. Rookie Carlton Willey won his seventh against three defeats.

The double victory gave Milwaukee an even split of the 4-game series in Philadelphia.

The Braves move to Pittsburgh 6½ games in front of the second-place San Francisco Giants and seven games ahead of Pittsburgh.

Rookie Ted Bowsfield Gives Red Sox Split With New York, 9-3

Cleveland's Woodeshick, Another Rookie, Pitches Shutout for 8 Innings but Loses

By the Associated Press

Bowsfield, Woodeshick, Hyde and Tomanek . . . ever hear of 'em? No, they're not partners in a law firm. Each is an American league pitcher.

Among them they have a total of six complete games this year, but yesterday they reminded you of "Lefty" Grove, Carl Hubbell, Hal Newhouser and some of the other mound greats.

Ted Bowsfield, making only his second major league start, held the New York Yankees hitless until one out in the seventh inning as Boston rebounded from a 7-5 defeat to whip the American league champions, 9-3.

Hal Woodeshick, Cleveland rookie, lost a 10-inning, 4-2 decision to Kansas City after the Indians had walked off with an 11-2 triumph in the opener. But for six innings he held the Athletics without a hit. It wasn't until the ninth that he gave up his first run.

16th Save

Washington relief expert Dick Hyde achieved his sixteenth save in the Senators' first game 6-2 triumph over Baltimore.

Hyde made his fortieth appearance with two runners on base in the ninth and secured Pedro Ramos' eleventh victory by retiring three straight batters. Baltimore took the second game 6-1.

Dick Tomanek, a non-distinguished left-hander, turned in a spectacular 2-inning relief chore for Kansas City.

Tomanek relieved Tom Gorman with the bases full, nobody out and the score tied, 2-2, in the bottom of the ninth, and struck out Larry Doby, "Rocky" Colavito and Dick Brown. The former Indian fanned two more Cleveland batters in the tenth after Kansas City had broken the tie in the top of the inning.

Another Split

In another double-header split, Detroit edged out Chicago, 4-3, in 12 innings after the White Sox had won the opener, 5-2.

Bowsfield lost his bid for a no-hitter when Norm Siebern singled with one out in the seventh. The Yankees chased him with four straight hits in the eighth but 14 Red Sox hits against Bob Turley and two relievers won it.

Pete Runnels and Jackie Jensen rapped three hits each for Boston. Runnels chipped in with a home run. Two unearned runs in the eighth enabled the Yankees to break a 5-5 tie in the first game and give veteran Virgil Trucks his first victory of the season. Mickey Mantle had five hits for the Yankees, four in the first game.

Wins 12th

Cal McLish, backed by a 15-hit attack, including home runs by Doby and Vic Power, won his twelfth for Cleveland in the first game. Roger Maris, who snapped Woodeshick's hitless string with a single in the seventh, smashed a 2-run homer off the left-hander in the tenth of the nightcap to break Kansas City's 6-game losing streak.

Reno Bertoia's perfect squeeze bunt scored Frank Bolling with Detroit's winning run in the twelfth inning of the nightcap. Jim Rivera drove in four runs with a homer, single and sacrifice fly in the White Sox's first game 5-1 victory.

Clint Courtney drove in three runs in Washington's first game victory over Baltimore. The Senators were held to five hits in the second game by Billy O'Dell.

Monroe Gains State Semi-Pro Tourney Semis

Wins Forfeit When 901 Club Refuses To Play in Rain

Milwaukee —(AP)— Monroe gained the semi-finals and Hayward and Little Chute-Kimberly advanced to the quarter-finals Sunday before a downpour interrupted the Wisconsin Baseball Commission tournament.

The rainfall played a part in Monroe's victory. The Green county club was credited with a forfeit because Milwaukee 901 club refused to return to the field after the rain broke off their 2-2 tie in the fifth inning.

Bob Schmidt of LC-K hurled a 6-hitter as his team beat the Milwaukee Firemen 2-1.

Hayward eliminated Monona Grove, 7-5, with reliefer Gene Evans taking the victory. Evans allowed three hits in 4 2/3 innings. Ken Jardine of Hayward rapped out a double, drove in one run and scored two runs himself.

The quarter-finals will be completed tonight when Hayward meets Milwaukee Allen-Bradley at 6 p.m., Lannon plays Milwaukee Falk at 8, and LC-K opposes Milwaukee Highway Beers at 10.

Indianapolis Retains AAU Swim Title

Indianapolis —(AP)— America's young swimmers didn't challenge Australian and Japanese records in the AAU national championships over the weekend, but they will be contenders at Rome in 1960.

That is how the U. S. swimming situation was sized up by such veteran coaches as Bob Kiphuth, in his forty-second year at Yale, and Mike Peppe, 28 years at Ohio State.

The Indianapolis Athletic club successfully defended its team championship with a young crop of native Americans.

Joe Henricks and Murray Rose, Australians borrowed from the University of Southern California by the Los Angeles Athletic club, were just as terrific as expected—but they couldn't push their team higher than second, 83 points to the IAC's 93.

Frank McKinney Jr. of Indianapolis, 19-year-old son of the former Democratic national chairman, successfully defended both his 100 and 200-meter backstroke championships, setting an American and AAU record of 2:20.8 in the 200.

Batting

Jim Davenport, Giants, the rookie third baseman rapped a pair of home runs, a double and two singles to lead San Francisco to a 12-8 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Pitching

Dick Tomanek, Athletics, the Kan-City southpaw took over with the score tied 2-2 and the bases full of Indians in the bottom of the ninth and fanned Larry Doby, Rocky Colavito and Dick Brown to end the threat. He fanned two more in the tenth after Roger Maris' two-run homer in the top of the inning had given the Athletics a 4-2 lead Cleveland had won the opener, 11-2.

Bucs Complete Sweep Of Series With Redlegs

Win Doubleheader, 3 to 2 and 4-3; Giants Rap LA

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants outslugged Los Angeles, 12-8, Sunday but lost a half-game in the National league flag race. The Giants are now 6½ games behind Milwaukee, which won twice from Philadelphia.

Seven home runs were hit at the coliseum, five over the chummy left field screen. The Giants hit five of them.

Pittsburgh's fast-moving Pirates completed a 4-game sweep of Cincinnati, winning both ends of a double-header, 3-2 and 4-3. The Pirates took the opener on Dick Stuart's tenth-inning sacrifice fly, and the second game on an eighth inning force play.

The Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals in a comedy of errors. The Cubs won the opener, 9-4, as the Redbirds committed four errors. St. Louis scored five unearned runs on as many Chicago errors to win the second game, 6-2.

Jim Davenport smashed two home runs, a double and two singles in leading the Giants to their 10th victory in 13 meetings with the Dodgers.

Also Homer

Danny O'Connell, Daryl Spencer and pinch hitter Bob Speake also homered for the Giants as Gordon Jones gained his first victory, in relief. Duke Snider and Gil Hodges homered for the Dodgers. Clem Labine was the loser.

Ernie Banks homered in each game for the Cubs. Teammate Bobby Thomson knocked in five runs in the first game, won by rookie Marcelino Solis in relief. Larry Jackson went the distance for the Cards in the second game for his ninth victory. Redbird baseman Ken Boyer committed four errors, three in the opener.

Fall into Cellar

Cincinnati's double loss dropped the Redlegs into a last-plac tie with Los Angeles. Roman Mejias singled in the tenth, advanced to third on Roberto Clemente's double and scored Pittsburgh's winning run on Stuart's long fly.

With the score tied, 3-3, in the eighth inning of the second game, Ted Kluszewski walked and Bob Skinner singled pinch runner Dick Schofield to third. Schofield scored when Frank Thomas forced Skinner at second. Bill Mazeroski homered in each game for the winners.

U.S. Thinclads Win at Athens

Sweep 26 of 30 Events in 2-Day, 2-Country Meet

Athens —(AP)— George Eastment, who coached the largest American team ever assembled for international dual meets, hopes there will be more overseas trips for more track and field athletes in the future.

"I'm sure there'll be," the scholarly Manhattan college law professor observed today after the U.S. team concluded a 3-week tour of the Soviet Union, Poland, Hungary and Greece by winning 26 of the 30 events during a 2-day stand at Athens stadium.

Eastment cited the continued good showings of the 41-man team from its first meet in Moscow two weeks ago through Warsaw and Budapest before arriving here.

"Instead of tapering off after the first big one, we improved. The fellows who fell down on us in Moscow (pole vaulter Ron Morris, high jumper Charlie Dumas and others) worked even harder to make up for their disappointments."

World record holder Dumas got over 6 feet 11 his very first time out after Moscow, and Sunday night Morris thrilled the crowd of 55,000 by clearing 15 feet 3 inches. It was his best performance of the tour and it outdid home town favorite George Roubanis, a 15-foot pole vaulter who attends college in the United States.

Mary Faulk Beats Joyce Ziske to Win Macktown Open Test

Chicago —(AP)— Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., took top honors Sunday in the $6,500 Macktown Women's Open golf tournament.

Miss Faulk rallied to defeat Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee on the eighteenth hole. She finished with a 216 par over the 54 holes while Miss Ziske had a 217 in the professional division.

Braves' Fire Praised by Joyful Haney

Pittsburgh —(AP)— Manager Fred Haney said today his league - leading Milwaukee Braves can win the National league pennant barring further injuries to the club.

"I'm well satisfied with the general play of the club," Haney said. "There's a lot of fire in our team. We'll be all right if we keep going the way we are."

The Braves, who are out in front by 6½ games, moved into Pittsburgh today for a 2-game series with the third-place Pirates. Warren Spahn goes against Bob Friend in tonight's opener.

Haney was overjoyed with Sunday's doubleheader sweep over the Philadelphia Phillies, but was quick to point out: "We lost games Friday and Saturday to the Phillies in the ninth inning. Those sure hurt. But we'll win games we shouldn't and it will even up in the long run."

Proposed '59 NL Scheduled to be Longer, Earlier

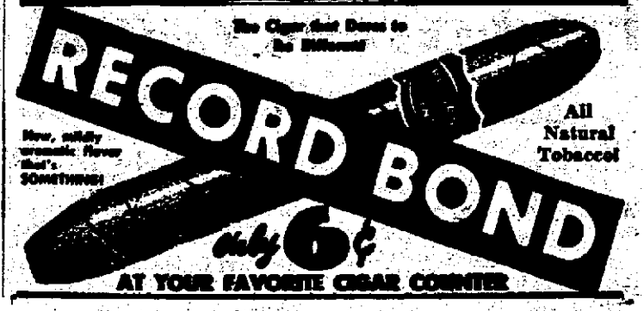

Cincinnati —(AP)— The National league blueprint for 1959 calls for a longer and earlier baseball season.

The league mailed copies of the preliminary schedule to its clubs today.

If approved, the new schedule would start the season on April 10, four days earlier than the traditional second Tuesday. It would close on Sept. 27, running 171 days instead of the usual 167.

League Chief Warren C. Giles said the extra days would be for travel time to allow all clubs to make four trips to the west coast. Eastern teams make only three coast trips this season.

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Legion team pulled an upset by handing Green Bay its first loss of the second round, 11-10, here Saturday afternoon.

The winners choked off a Bay threat in the ninth as three runs crossed the plate after two were out. Tony Van Zeeland struck out Jack Hansford to end the game and strand the tying run on third base.

Kaukauna led all the way, scoring one run in the second, adding two in the third, four in the fourth, single tallies in the fifth and sixth and a pair in the eighth.

Green Bay scored three times in the fourth, added a pair in the sixth, one in the seventh, another singleton in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Jerry DeBruin started on the mound for Kaukauna and was followed by Tom Frank, Lee Wachel and Van Zeeland. Marv Sanders started for Green Bay and worked the first six innings with Hendrickson finishing up.

Jim Steger led the winners with four singles in six trips while Dick Busse collected 3 for 4 including a double. Wizner had three for five for the losers.

High on the list of critical diseases is Tuberculosis.
Chief problem in the treatment of TB is the early recognition of the disease, so that the patient may have the opportunity for early treatment, when it will be most effective. So . . .

NOW'S THE TIME TO GET A CHEST X-RAY

You owe it to yourself, your family, and your community to have a Chest X-Ray. If tuberculosis is discovered, the treatment at the present time usually controls the disease. In addition, early recognition is the major factor in the prevention and spread of tuberculosis infection.

Hawaii Kai III Captures Crash-Marred Gold Cup Race

Seattle — (AP) — A blushing pink giant from the mothballs, Hawaii Kai III thundered to victory Sunday in the Fifty-first Gold Cup Speedboat race at a record pace of 103.481 m.p.h.

Coral Reef of Tacoma, Wash., was second in the 90-mile classic. Gale V of Detroit placed third. Maverick, from Lake Mead, finished fourth in the over-all point standings although the Bill Stead-driven hydro did not get out of the pits for the final race.

Gale VI of Detroit took fifth. Miss Burien of Seattle and Miss Spokane tied for seventh.

Driver Bill Muncey and five coast guardsmen were injured, none seriously, in one of the most spectacular accidents in Gold Cup history, when defending champion Miss Thriftway rammed and sank a 43-foot coast guard patrol boat. Five hydroplanes had jammed into the first turn after the start of heat 2A when Miss Thriftway lost her rudder.

Muncey fought the wheel to pull the three-ton juggernaut—she was traveling more than 140 m.p.h.—away from the log boom and its tightly packed row of pleasure boats. Thrifty hit the patrol vessel full tilt and the two sank together. A skyfull of red flares stopped the race and it was run an hour later.

Cost of Outfitting 70-Foot Yacht Is About $25,000

Newport, R. I. —(AP)— The mainsail on one of the 12-meter sloops competing for the right to represent America against the British Sceptre in the America Cup match race starting Sept. 20 weighs 215 pounds.

The cost of outfitting one of the 70-foot yachts with a suit of sails is about $25,000.

Here's what each sloop, with an 80-foot mast, requires:

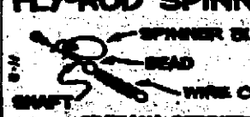

Two mainsails; three large genoas (light, medium and heavy cloth); one No. 2 genoa; one No. 3 genoa; one storm jib; one balloon jib; one Spinnaker staysail and three nylon spinnakers.

Bob Van Dyke's Homer Wins For Foxes, 5-4

worth who made his record 6-7 with his second win in five days. Flashing again his fancy early - season form, Bloodworth gave up just seven hits and two walks and set down eight of the Bees on strikes.

It was the first complete game since July 7 for Bloodworth who has been bothered by arm trouble since he left the club to attend national guard camp early in June.

Van Dyke's dramatic game-winning smash—on a 3-1 pitch—was preceded by three straight singles, giving him 12 hits in his last 24 at-bats. During that period he pulled his season's batting average from .230 up to .249.

Bob was banished from the first game for "riding" plate umpire Jay Van Rhee just before the last half of the second inning. Van Dyke grounded out in the infield in his only appearance at the plate.

Bob Tano smacked three singles in four official at-bats in the nightcap.

Burlington went in front, 1-0, in the first inning of that one. Don Voigt singled to right and went to third when the ball got past Van Dyke for a 2-base error. Voigt scored on Lee Handley's sacrifice fly.

Tie the Score

The Foxes tied the score in the last of the fourth. "Potato" Pascual walked, Van Dyke blooped a single into right field and Hank Marockie walked to load the bases. Then catcher "Chick" Payne hit a bouncing ball which second baseman Dennis Loudenback fired to shortstop Dave Hanrahan for the start of a possible double play, but Hanrahan missed second as Pascual came home.

The Fox Cities collected three runs in the last of the sixth for a 4-1 lead. Van Dyke beat out a slow roller to the shortstop and Marockie sacrificed him to second. Payne doubled down the left field line, scoring Marockie. Jim Hall walked and then Bloodworth sacrificed the runners to second and third.

Hanrahan fell down after fielding Tano's hard smash and Bob beat out the hit as Payne came home. Don Dantoni's single to right scored Hall.

The Bees knotted the count again, at 4-4, in the top of the eighth on a single by Gragg, a walk to Voigt, Handley's 1-run double off the right field fence, a wild pitch and Gordie Massa's sacrifice fly. Then, Van Dyke's homer kept the evening's activities from continuing beyond the 5-hour mark.

Pitchers' Duel

Burlington broke up a 1-1 pitchers' duel between Moore and Ted Sadowski with a 2-spot in the top of the sixth stanza of the first game.

"Tex" Taylor had three of the Foxes' six hits in the opener. Two of them were pop flies which dropped into short left field, the third was a ringing double down the right field line which led to the losers' lone run.

It followed a walk to Tano in the last of the first and sent Tano to third. Tano came home on Hall's sacrifice fly.

The winners counted the tying run in the third when Voigt doubled to left and then Billy Williams hit the ball through Taylor's legs for an error, to score Voigt.

Sadowski stranded seven Burlington runners in the first five innings but the visitors wouldn't be denied in the sixth.

Loudenback Singles

Loudenback led off with a single to center and went to second on a wild pitch. Hanrahan walked and then Jim Woods singled to left field to load the bases. Moore's single to left scored Loudenback but Hanrahan was out at the plate on a fine throw by Hall. Russ Gragg was hit by a pitch, advancing Moore and Woods. Voigt's sacrifice fly brought home Burlington's final run.

In addition to his fine throw in the sixth, Hall made a nifty catch of Woods' fly ball, running hard to his left, to retire the side in the seventh.

Pascual, the league's top hitter, collected just one single in five official at bats for the evening's work (he was walked four times).

However, he made at least three brilliant defensive plays — two bare-handed pickup-and-throw jobs on dinky taps in the infield and one sensational stop of a hot liner by Williams behind third which he turned into a force out.

Waupaca at Weyauwega (postponed).
Manawa at Greenville (postponed).

New London — Hortonville moved the New London Merchants out of first place in the Southern division of the Badger Amateur Baseball association here Sunday night with a 3-0 win over the New Londoners.

Winner Larry Huebner gave up six hits while "Shelly" Rusch, the loser, yielded only three.

Hortonville opened the scoring in the top of the first inning when Flunker, the first batter, went to first base on an error and scored on a triple by Mick Collar.

Score in 8th

Flunker and Gene Weber scored for Hortonville in the eighth inning when both batters scored on errors.

New London had batters on third base in the first, fourth and sixth innings. All three attempts were on triples as Claire Baehman tripled in the first inning and Shelly Rusch tripled in the fourth and sixth innings.

Huebner fanned 13 batters and Rusch whiffed 14.

U. S. open champion held a 3-stroke lead with a 13-under-par 197 for 54 holes.

Tied for second place with 200s were Bill Casper, Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., and Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill. one stroke behind them and four back of Middlecoff were Joe Conrad, 1955 British open champion from San Antonio, Tex. and Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass.

J. C. Goosie, Knoxville, Tenn., was leading the 72-hole finishers with a 279 when Sunday's play was declared void. He had fired a 5-under par 65.

Dick Sucher of Ozaukee had the low amateur score, a 286. The rain wiped out the scores.

Climb to Within Half-Game of Lead; Dav-Sox Top A's

By The Associated Press

Cedar Rapids bounced back in emphatic fashion Sunday to again make the first-place Three-I league situation a half-game affair.

The Braves, who had lost two straight to fall 1½ games behind Green Bay, hammered four home runs en route to a 13-8 drubbing of the Wisconsin front - runners. The night portion of the scheduled doubleheader was rained out but the two teams tangle again tonight.

Other Games

In other games, Davenport squeaked to a 9-8 victory over Winona, and Fox Cities, after losing the first game, 3-1, came back to get a split with Burlington, 5-4.

Horace Garner was the big gun in the Cedar Rapids attack, including a homer in his four hits and driving across six runs. The other wallops were hit by Bob Taylor, Sid Goldfader and Larry Click. The Braves, who collected 17 hits, had only two of them and were trailing by 7-1 going into the sixth.

Davenport scored six runs in the first inning, then had to win on a run in the ninth over Winona.

Harris Wouldn't be Surprised If He KO'd Floyd Patterson

Arrowhead Springs, Calif.—(AP)— Easy-talking Roy Harris, the unbeaten heavyweight challenger from Cut and Shoot, Tex., is never one to boast. He's just the opposite.

So it was something of a jolt when he told a press gathering, discussing his title fight with champion Floyd Patterson in Los Angeles a week from today:

"I feel I can hit hard enough to knock out anybody with either hand."

The soft-drawling Texan said it in the same fashion he might use in describing the size shoe he wears.

He wasn't promising to knock out Patterson, of course. He wasn't promising anything.

But the 25-year-old schoolteacher made it abundantly clear that knocking out the champion of the world would not amaze him.

Someone said there was great pride in Texas over his record, great hopes for his title chances — theater - TV will pack the Texas movie houses—and it had been said Roy better not come home if he loses.

Said Roy, again with a shy smile: "I reckon I'll make it home, whatever."

type of the action, meaning the competition among the 58 athletes is extremely keen.

He said he liked the work of Joe Francis of the Greens, the rookie quarterback who played under Bart Starr and who got an extra chance to show his stuff when Bart was shaken up. "Francis showed that he can run the ball club well and he can roll out, stop, and look for receivers, and then throw." He threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Willie Berzinski on a run, look, and throw play. "He didn't seem to mind being rushed."

McLean was pleased with the work of the 2-way men. He pointed out Forest Gregg, Ollie Spencer and Hank Bullough, all offensive lineman, who "did well at defensive end." When Helluin was injured "Masters went on defense and did a good job," McLean said.

Never Played

"You know Purnell never played linebacker before today but he did a fair job." Frank Purnell is a 225-pound fullback by trade, one of the best tackles he made was a shoe - stringer on Paul Hornung for no gain. It was the only time Paul had been stopped for no gain.

Actually, McLean's program to have most everybody go two ways offense and defense actually paid off Saturday in view of the injuries. He hopes during the league season to have 2-way "first string" replacements in every position.

One of the double duty players is Ken Gray, the promising rookie tackle guard who did well at defensive tackle—a happy thought in view of Jerry's injury. Gray broke through to nail Francis on the goal line for a safety for the Whites.

Light Drill

The squad went through a light drill Sunday afternoon for the purpose of loosening up bumps and bruises suffered in the squad game. McLean and staffmen Jack Morton, "Breezy" Reid, Ray Richards and Nick Skorich were to take their first look at the squad game pictures Sunday night.

No players were scheduled to be cut until a day or two—or at least until a thorough study of the pictures could be made.

Francis was the obvious bright light of the newcomers although several of the rookies up front appeared to be having plenty of success. He replaced Starr for one play in the first quarter and handed off to Hornung who steamed 27 yards down the right-end side for a touchdown. Starr returned to direct his team to a second touchdown. On a 29-yard pass to Steve Meilinger and then turned it over to Joe.

No Picnic

Francis didn't have a picnic. He sneaked for a first down to his own 17 but four plays later, Gray tackled him for the safety. A few moments later Francis threw his first pass and John Symank intercepted it.

Joe then threw nine more passes and completed eight for 98 yards—one the toss to Berzinski. Starr went out after completing three out of four for 70 yards.

McGee caught three for 44 yards for the Greens and Dekmaine, cutting around nicely despite his ankle injury which was sustained early in the game, caught four for 58 yards.

Gary Knafelc led all pass catchers, snaring five for 98 yards from the Whites' "Babe" Parilli, who finished up with eight completions in 19 attempts for 137 yards.

Whites Outplayed

The Greens pretty well outplayed the Whites—328 yards to 170 and five touchdowns to two.

Hornung's 27-yard run gave the Greens a 7-0 lead but Parilli and Knafelc came right back to work a 43-yard aerial scoring play to tie the score. Starr then passed to Meilinger to make it 14-7 at the first-quarter mark with Hornung converting twice and John Moerchene once. The safety was the only scoring in the second frame.

The Greens scored twice in the third quarter—the first on a 3-yard skip by Veryl Switzer and the second on Francis' throw to Berzinski. The Whites had the ball for one play in the period and on that quarterback Doug Maison fumbled and the Greens recovered.

Scores on Keeper

On the third play of the last quarter Francis scored on a keeper to make it 34-9. After Switzer's touchdown, Howie Dare blocked Hornung's conversion. Midway in the fourth frame Parilli hurled to Gene Cook for 18 yards, to Knafelc for 20 and then scored easily on a keeper behind a savage block by Howie Ferguson.

The Packers were back on the 2-a-day practice diet today. Next big action sends the Bays against the Steelers in Milwaukee Wednesday night, Aug. 20.

Soviet Women's Discus Champion Kept From Track

Moscow —(AP)— Soviet women's discus champion Nina Ponomareva, once arrested in England on a shoplifting charge, is on the sidelines after being banned by Russian track officials.

Nona got the ax yesterday from the Russian track squad by the all-union Soviet track and field committee for "egotism and unsportsmanlike behavior" along with shotputter Miss Galina Zybina. Tamara Tishkevich, the Soviet women's shotput champ, was also reprimanded and deprived of the medals she won at a recent Soviet track meet.

The two women will not compete in the European championships Aug. 18 in Stockholm. Miss Tishkevich will remain on the squad.

No details were given on Nina's dismissal.

In September, 1956, a London hat shopkeeper charged the Russian woman with stealing five red hats valued at about $2.80.

Nina was hidden for 44 days in the Russian embassy following the storekeeper's charge of shoplifting. A Soviet embassy official finally paid $8.82 costs and Nina was released and sent home.

She later went to the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne with the Russian team.

The other two Russians were charged with "behaving in a manner incompatible with ethics of Soviet sport" according to the newspaper Soviet Sport.

Bees Rally for 13-12 Triumph

the Bees' stinging jinx. A 5-run ninth inning capped the large comeback and gave Burlington its thirteenth win in 18 starts against the Foxes.

Fail Against Donnelly

The Foxes had a chance to counter-rally in the ninth against an old nemesis, workhorse Ed Donnelly. Making his forty-fourth appearance of the season — tops in the Three-I league — Donnelly pitched a single to Bob Tano to open the ninth.

After Don Dantoni fanned, "Tex" Taylor hit to shortstop Dave Hanrahan, whose force-play throw was dropped by Dennis Loudenback. The appearance of the next batter, "Carlos Pascual, fanned the sweltering spectators with cool breezes of anticipation. "Potato" was coming up with a string of nine base hits in his last nine official at-bats in the Menasha ball park. Donnelly, however, got Pascual on a fly to left field.

"Chick" Payne batted for John Marr and worked Donnelly for a 3-0 count. Donnelly then ripped in three successive strikes to end the threat and the game.

It was Donnelly's first win (against no losses) in 10 appearances against the Foxes, but the 23-year-old right-hander has saved five other wins against the Fox Cities club.

Boisterous Farewell

Thirty-seven hits careened off the bats of the two teams as the Three-I loop bid a boisterous 1958 farewell to the Menasha diamond. The run and hit totals were tops for the four games (of which the Foxes lost three) played here and the homer harvest was one short of the season's record (11) set June 9 by Davenport and the Foxes.

The in-person crowd and total ticket sales (905) for this Neenah - Menasha Kiwanis booster game were both high-water marks for the series of Menasha encounters.

Only four of Saturday's gopher balls picked the short route (right and rightcenter) out of the park. The other six left the premises on the left and center sections — and most of them were solidly thumped.

Pascual took an especially reluctant leave of the Menasha field. Though he hits well in any park, "Potato" found this layout tailor-made for him. He finished with 14-for-19 (.737) for the four games. Pascual's double and three singles Saturday boosted his Three-I-topping average to .382.

Hits Grand Slam

Marockie, who entered the game with a .286 average, no homers and two RBI for five contests, came out of it in great shape. His four hits — including two homers — raised his average to .364.

Marockie boomed a 2-run homer over the center field fence in the second and delivered a grand slammer over the right field wall in the third. Tano accounted for the final Foxes' homer with a lead-off drive over the left field barrier in the fourth.

Marockie's seventh and final RBI came on an eighth-inning double to center.

Jim Woods got the Bees into the homer groove with a 2-run shot to left in the sixth. The inning, which turned out to be a league record-breaker for homers this season, also produced solo swats by Williams, Gordie Massa and Ralph Holding.

Williams homered to right center to lead off the eighth, and Loudenback cleared the left center fence to start the ninth. Moments later, Williams tied the count, 12-12, with a 3-run blow to right field.

After getting Hanrahan, Cameron put the lead run on base by hitting Massa with a pitch. Donnelly struck out. But Russ Gragg gained a life when his hard-hit grounder bounced away from Taylor for an error. Voigt spanked a single to right center scoring the run that proved to be the big one.

Jim Davenport Batting .517 Against LA After Splurge

Los Angeles —(AP)—Memorial Coliseum may not be perfectly suited to baseball, but it couldn't suit Jim Davenport much better.

The rookie San Francisco third baseman swung his bat with uncanny aptitude in the big bowl again Sunday, hitting two bases - empty home runs, a double and two singles as the Giants beat Los Angeles, 12-8.

The Dodgers got him out only once all day, and he finished the game with an astonishing average of .517 against Los Angeles for the season. This includes his work at Seals stadium. There, too, his treatment of Los Angeles pitchers has been less than charitable.

Pulls Ball

Both his home runs Sunday sailed over the Coliseum's left field screen, which has become almost an irresistible attraction to right - handed swingers. Davenport freely acknowledged his awareness of the screen after the game.

"I consciously try to pull the ball more here," he said, "and it works. When I try it in other parks, it doesn't."

As a matter of fact, not much of anything has worked for the 24-year-old native of Siluria, Ala., in other parks this season. His over-all batting average is .257, but if his record against the Dodgers were subtracted the figure would be an unspeakable .188.

Braves Boost Lead With Double Win

starters in the doubleheader. Jack Sanford gave up three runs and departed in the first inning of the first game. Robin Roberts left the second game in the second inning after giving up five runs.

Torre Triples

Sanford was banished after putting three Braves on base with singles. Torre, facing reliever Jim Hearn, tripled home the last of the Sanford trio.

The Phillies got one run back in the first on one hit, adding three more on three hits in the second.

After the Braves tied the score 4-4, the Phillies took a 6-4 lead in the bottom half of the third inning, knocking Conley from the game on three hits.

Robinson took over and throttled the Phillies except for Chico Fernandez' homer which tied the score, 7-7, in the sixth.

Aaron broke the deadlock in the seventh, tripling and scoring on Torre's infield out. That gave the pitching loss to Jack Meyer, who hurled the last 3 1-3 innings.

Milwaukee flashed to a 3-0 lead in the opening inning of the second game on Mathews' single, a walk, Wes Covington's double and Torre's second triple of the day.

Seth Morehead replaced Roberts in the second after Milwaukee got two more runs on a single, a sacrifice, another single, a throwing error and Mathews' 1,000 hit, a triple.

The Braves added three runs in the fifth on doubles by Mathews and Adcock and singles by Aaron and Crandall. The Braves' catcher homered in the seventh.

Milwaukee gathered five runs in the eighth. "Red" Schoendienst doubled, Mathews walked, Aaron tripled and scored on a throwing error, Torre doubled and Crandall hit his second homer.

Check New Torch Tips

Disappearance of Kierdorf's Uncle Puzzles Police

Flint, Mich. —(AP)— Police checked out a new maze of tips and clues today in the continuing search for a solution to Frank Kierdorf's week-old human torch death.

Also defying police solution was the disappearance of Kierdorf's uncle and former fellow Teamster union business agent, Herman Kierdorf.

Over the weekend Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, heading the investigation, put out "hold" orders against two men though not disclosing his exact intent.

One was Jack Thompson, a Teamsters union business agent, and the other Myron D. Weiss, a Detroit meat dealer said to have been the last person to have seen Herman Kierdorf.

To Visit Lab

Adams was to visit the state police crime laboratory at Lansing, Mich., today to check out clues.

Both Thompson and Weiss were in custody. Adams ordered Thompson held for investigation of arson in connection with a Flint dry cleaning shop fire last Sunday night, apparently the same night Frank Kierdorf was burned.

Kierdorf, 56, died Thursday of burns over 85 per cent of his body. At first he said two men set him afire. But a later belief was that he got the burns at the cleaning shop fire. However, that was unproved.

Herman Kierdorf, 68, disappeared Monday night after identifying his nephew, Frank, at a Pontiac hospital.

Man Learns Fast Draw With Gun Hard Way

Indianapolis —(AP)— Phillip L. Hartmeyer, 26, Kent Village, Md., is learning the quick pistol draw — the hard way.

Hartmeyer was practicing whipping his .22 caliber pistol from a new holster yesterday when he shot himself in the right thigh. Here visiting a friend, he was taken to Community hospital and reported in fair condition.

The would-be gun artist told his friend he had a similar mishap recently while practicing the fast draw back in Maryland. That time he shot himself in the foot.

Opinions Differ on Curbing Inflation

Fear New Deficits Now Building Up Will Cause Tighter Budgets

BY SAM DAWSON

New York —(AP)— Purists blame past government deficit spending for the postwar waves of inflation that makes balancing your family budget so tough today.

They fear that new deficits now building up will be the cause of your getting into even a tighter bind.

The stock market has been tooting the warning horn of new inflation so loudly that the Federal Reserve Board has blown its whistle on what it fears could be stock price inflation.

Economists differ on what the government can and should do to offset this inflation or to keep it within bounds.

Current deficit buildup goes back to a combination of Sputniks and recession. Sputnik triggered a quick rise in defense spending plans. The recession has cut back on corporate incomes and to some extent on personal incomes. Even with tax relief hopes out the window, Treasury collections are off.

The classic way that treasury deficit financing leads to inflation with all its woes of a rising cost of living and a shrinking dollar, is this:

To raise the 10 to 12 billion dollars of new money the treasury now believes it must have this fiscal year, it apparently plans to borrow from the commercial banks. The Federal Reserve Board will see that they have enough money to lend the treasury by increasing the money supply.

This is the last in a series of three stories on inflation problems in the United States by Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news analyst.

The added treasury securities the banks take on are regarded much the same as cash and will make it possible for them to extend much more credit to any business taking off on an inflationary toot.

Classic Case

The classic case of too much money ready and willing to chase after goods will be with us again as in the early postwar years. But this time there will be too few goods only if demand should rise above the present overcapacity to produce.

The federal government will be putting into the economy perhaps 12 billion more dollars than it will be taking out in taxes. State and local governments also are borrowing to spend.

Some estimate that by the final months of this year the three levels of government will be spending at an annual rate of nearly 95 billion dollars, or 6½ billion more than a year ago. Much of the spending will be on the cuff-inflationary.

If business recovery is enough to raise corporate earnings substantially, the treasury will rake in more and cut its deficit some.

Defense Spending

Combine more defense spending with less tax revenue and you go into red ink fast.

If an overenthusiastic business recovery sires speculation, the federal reserve could turn from easy money to tight money and try to dry up as much of the new treasury money in the commercial banks as possible. Already it has boosted stock market margins to make the way of the speculator hard.

Spending Pace

The pace of government spending was speeded up by the administration. It could slacken the outgo again.

Congress could cut back some of the spending programs it passed or is still considering as antirecession measures.

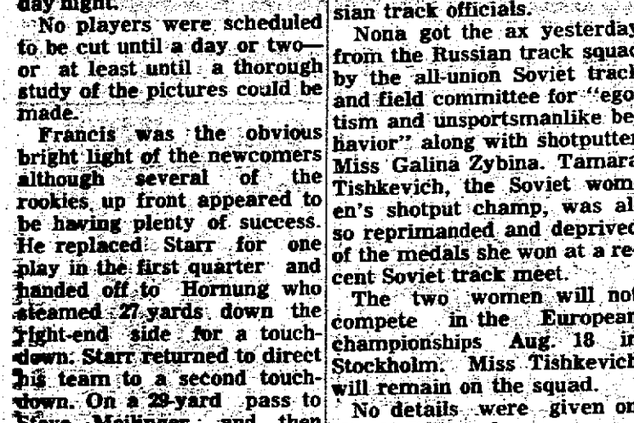

But there is always a body of economic thought which holds that monetary measures alone won't work.

These economists, and some public officials, contend that the government should ask and get powers to reinstate direct controls over credit - such as setting the amount of down payments and the length of contracts.

A borrowing and spending spree set off by new inflation is only a possibility — not even a probability as yet — but the stock market believes it's coming.

...saving seemed impossible
THEN I JOINED THE CREDIT UNION!

Lots of people have said that. The credit union makes saving so much easier because it's so convenient—and because any amount you save is welcome, no matter how large or small.

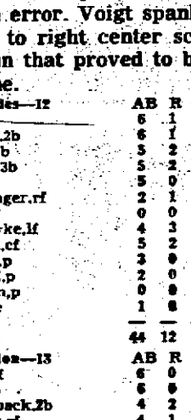

Another thing—it means more to save as a member-owner in your own credit union. While investing your money in your own future, you provide the credit that helps other members. You help others by helping yourself.

With few exceptions your savings are matched dollar for dollar, and in case of your death or permanent disability, your loan is "Paid in Full"—with insurance provided by your credit union at an extra charge through CUNA Mutual, the credit union insurance company.

If there is no credit union where you work, write to:

BEWARE OF BALLYHOO VITAMINS

"Vitamin deficiency" has become a kind of catch phrase. Yet it relates to health the province of your physician.

Should you suspect that you need vitamins, consult your doctor. Let him decide what vitamins, if any, are required. How much more sensible a procedure than to succumb impetuously to non-professional ballyhoo for all-purpose, bargain vitamins. Rely on your physician's advice. When he writes a prescription, we are prepared to fill it promptly.

Small Stock Gains Noted

Turnover Slow as Aircrafts, Motors Rally Slightly

New York —(AP)— The stock market made a little headway in early afternoon today in a fairly drab session.

Some aircrafts, motors and chemicals paced the list. Gains ranged from fractions to a little more than a point. There were scattered losses of fractions.

Turnover was somewhat slow. The only flurry came when the ticker ran late for three minutes.

There was little news to affect the market. Chrysler and Ford intend to recall workers for the 1959 model production. The United Auto Workers set the stage for a possible strike in middle or late September.

Chrysler and General Motors rose around a point. Ford fell ⅛ on a 9,000-share block, then held at around that loss.

Douglas Aircraft and Allied Chemical were up between 1 and 2.

Ahead major fractions were United Aircraft, General Dynamics, Sperry Rand, Anaconda, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Standard Oil New Jersey.

Chemicals lacked much of the zip they displayed Friday. Outside of Allied Chemical, most edged up fractions.

Diamond Alkali traded off ½ at 37.

Over 3 Inches Of Rain Falls At Clintonville

Sudden Downpour Threatens Dam Across Pigeon River

Severe thundershowers dumped 3.4 inches of rain on Clintonville from shortly after midnight Sunday until about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Appleton had .81 of an inch during the same time.

Over two inches fell in about half an hour in Clintonville and threatened to tear out the dam on the Pigeon river. The floodgates were twisted by force of the water, and city officials pulled out spillway boards to save the dam.

Water rose up to the bottoms of cars on some streets and winds blew down trees and branches in many places throughout the city.

Appleton had a high of 81 Sunday and a low of 66 early this morning. The temperature at 11 o'clock this morning was 78, with the wind from the north-northeast at eight miles an hour.

Four Injured

The thermometer rose to a hot and muggy 92 degrees in Milwaukee Sunday and was followed by a violent thunderstorm that led to the injury of four persons and caused widespread damage.

It was the hottest weather of the summer for Milwaukee.

Howard Gardner, 54, of Milwaukee, was hit by lightning while playing golf at the Ozaukee Country club north of Milwaukee. He apparently suffered only bruises on his right leg.

Three youths suffered bruises when they were thrown by their horses, which became frightened by lightning and thunder.

Boats Swamped

The Coast Guard towed in six small sailboats on Lake Michigan after they were swamped off Milwaukee. No one was injured.

The storm's wind reportedly caused heavy damage to apple orchards near Waukesha. Utility wires were torn down and several large trees toppled onto thoroughfares.

The rain drenched spectators and players at the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament and suspended final round action until today.

Some 30 golf fans at the tournament escaped injury when a strong gust of wind ripped off the roof of a temporary comfort station in which they had taken shelter. Two trees fell on the structure.

The early forecast calls for fair to partly cloudy today, with a little cooler weather in the south portion. A warming trend is expected in the north. It will be partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, with scattered thundershowers in the northwest portion tonight and over most of the state Tuesday. It will be warmer in the south Tuesday, turning cooler over the northwest portion. The outlook for Wednesday is mostly fair, cooler and less humid.

The long range forecast calls for temperatures to average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high is 74 to 84 and normal low is 53 to 62.

Girl Injured as She Falls From Turning Car

Karen Stach, 17, 730 W. Elsie street, received severe cuts on both knees and head bruises when she fell from a turning car at N. Sampson and E. Atlantic streets Sunday night. Taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance, Miss Stach was treated and released.

She was a passenger in a car driven by LeRoy Hoffmann, 519½ Pine street, Little Chute.

GIBSON MOTORS
Condition
GREATNESS
Greatness, it has been said, is never achieved suddenly. And in the case of the Gibson Co., it has been won by a half a century of leadership and devotion to quality. To those of you who want a finer used car, we offer these carefully driven, one-owner autos. Your cost is less and your pleasure of owning and driving a Gibson O.K. used car will be unlimited. All of our cars are in top mechanical condition and offer many miles of carefree driving.

1957 CADILLAC COUPE DEVILLE. In Meridian coral and ivory with power steering, brakes, windows, antenna and 6 way seat. Unusually low mileage.

1957 PLYMOUTH 2-Dr. Ivory color scheme. Standard transmission combined with the Fury V-8 engine. Very low mileage.

1957 IMPERIAL SOUTHAMPTON 4-Dr. Only 15,-000 miles, completely equipped with power seat, brakes and 6 way seat. In gorgeous all white.

1957 BUICK SPECIAL 2-Dr. Radio, heater and power brakes with sporty red and white decor. Here's economy plus comfort.

Corrections or Cancellations

Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 9:30 a.m. for same day. Saturdays 'till 8:30 a. m.

IMPORTANT: After an ad is ordered, it cannot be cancelled or changed before one publication.

When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days ad is published, determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments

The Appleton Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates.

All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad.

Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisment, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

Real 'Music Week' Event

Thor Johnson's Return to Fish Creek Attracts Capacity House to Festival

BY RUSS WIDOE

Fish Creek — Wisconsin might well change "Music week" to the second week in August when Thor Johnson and the festival orchestra return to Gibraltar High school for the Peninsula music festival.

Saturday evening the sixth season was opened to a capacity house. The 1958 group is the usual 40 players with about a 40 per cent turnover from the 1957 roster. With the exception of two flutes and a horn player the woodwind section is new.

Most notable among the changes is the arrival of Sidney Harth from the Louisville symphony orchestra to take the place of Isidore Cohen as concert master. Harth has more fire than his predecessor and fellow string players are very strong in their praise of his talent both as an orchestral man and as a soloist.

Grant Johannesen was the featured soloist Saturday night. He is a pianist with a better than average technique and an outstanding legato style. These skills plus his feel for fine phrasing stood him in good stead for interpreting Faures "Ballade" and "Fantasie." The audience demanded two encores and he responded with "Prophet Bird" by Schumann and "Precipitato" by Prokovief.

Thor Johnson opened the concert with a suite for small orchestra by Respighi called "The Birds" and closed with the Beethoven "Symphony No. 4".

The reading of the Beethoven symphony was excellent. Regulars at these Peninsula soires have come to love Beethoven works as they sound with the smaller orchestra. The intricate architectural details seem to be more finely drawn on the smaller scale.

Sunday afternoon it was a little bit cooler at Gibraltar High school and no one was bothered by the sound of rain on the roof but the crowd was smaller.

Haydn was served as Sunday's piece de resistance. "The Surprise Symphony", as No. 94 is called is always popular and Mr. Johnson's reading was meticulous. The tempo on the opening was relaxed and the "surprise" movement was not overdone.

Soprano Sings

Ilona Kombrink, soprano, provided the solo interest of the Sunday concert. Her interpretation of the Wagnerian "Wesondonck Songs" proved her mechanical if not her artistic ability. "Schmerzen" showed some feeling for the lyric content but the performance was generally a case of "matter over mind."

Miss Kombrink chose an aria from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" for an encore and during the last few bars it appeared that she might not be able to finish.

Her faltering could have been caused by some physical distress but it was more likely caused by faulty habits, namely excessive use of breath pressure.

John La Montaine was up from Oak Park to hear the world premiere of his Symphony No. 1. It was not an earth shaking occasion but it did prove that Mr. La Montaine has some skill in weaving rather angular material into a fairly compact whole. His ability to use the colors of the orchestra was above the average heard during the last several seasons of premieres.

The Peninsula Music festival's traditional youth concert will be heard at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At 8 o'clock Wednesday evening the concert fare will be Mozart and Brahms with Sidney Harth as the featured violinist.

Byrnes Hits Proxmire on Revised Bills

Says He's Amending Original Proposals To Reduce Their Cost

Washington — Rep. John W. Byrnes said in Washington today that Sen. William Proxmire has spent the last three months trying to water down $23 billion worth of spending bills he introduced during his first three months in office.

Byrnes

The Green Bay congressman made his charges in answer to Proxmire's speech last week in which the senator said his program would save the treasury $9½ billion. Byrnes charged last May that Proxmire's program would cost $23 billion.

"Proxmire has been the busiest man in Washington since I made my $23 billion charge," Byrnes said.

"Caught in the act, he faced the enormous job of trying to undo what was already in the record."

Byrnes charged Proxmire has been amending his original bills to make them appear less costly. He said the senator has amended the social security bill twice to eliminate its $3.2 billion cost.

"He has since May been introducing bills which he claims will either cut spending or increase revenues and the fact that most of them were old chestnuts which have gotten nowhere in congress didn't stop him from claiming them as his own," Byrnes declared.

He said Proxmire's figures are "obviously misstated" and he questioned the reliability of the senator's sources.

ASC Will Elect Three To Committee

Three members of the Outagamie county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee will be elected at the ASC convention in Appleton Aug. 27, Chairman Bert Weyenberg said today.

The convention will be held at the court house at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Delegates to attend the convention are Jerome Rettler, Black Creek; Walter Olsen, Bovina; Frank Biese, Buchanan; Edward Ziegler, Center; Vernal Thomas, Cicero; Willard Huettl, Dale; Fred Hoffman, Deer Creek; John Reimer, Ellington; Herman Kortz, Freedom; Lester Wilharms, Grand Chute; Eldred Doell, Greenville; Eugene Foy, Hortonia; Eugene Lambie, Kaukauna.

Earl Carlson, Liberty; LeRoy Winterfeldt, Maine; Theodore Ruckdashel, Maple Creek; Orville Appleton, Oneida; Rueben Blohm, Osborn; Theodore Leisgang, Seymour; and Henry Joosten, Vandenbroek.

New members of the committee will take office Sept. 1. Two alternates will also be elected.

Public Hearings On Jobless Law Set for 3 Cities

Another in a series of public hearings on the state's unemployment compensation law will be held at Milwaukee county courthouse Sept. 19.

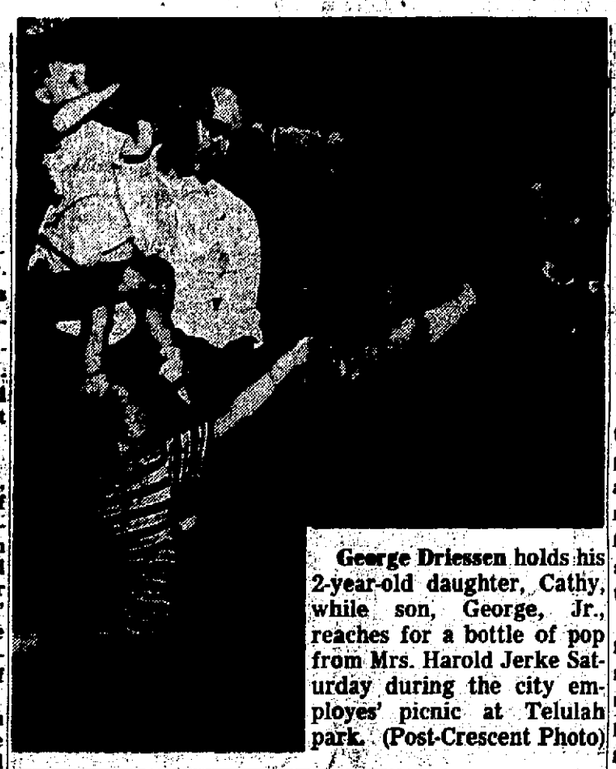

The hearing will be conducted jointly by the legislative council's committee on state government operations and the statutory advisory committee on unemployment compensation.

Two other hearings are scheduled in La Crosse Oct. 17 and in Wausau Nov. 14.

Similar hearings were held in three cities in 1954 and three more, including Appleton, in 1956.

VNA Mothers Class

Miss Inez Davis, nurse director, will discuss nutrition when the Visiting Nurse association class for expectant mothers meets at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the VNA house. A state board of health movie will be shown.

Benefit Boost May Hike Area Take $891,444

Social Security Bill Would Affect 19,400 in Region

A proposal before congress to increase social security payments 7 per cent will add about $891,444 yearly to payments made to 19,400 beneficiaries in the 4-county area served by the Appleton district office.

Figures supplied by the office and Sen. William Proxmire show that payments to residents of Outagamie, Waupaca, Calumet and Winnebago counties would increase from $12,786,310 to $13,677,754 per year.

Payments in Outagamie county would increase $282,132 from $4,030,452 to $4,312,584. Payments in Winnebago county would be hiked $380,420 from $5,431,668 to $5,812,088 per year. An increase of $174,324 per year would boost Waupaca county payments from $2,490,396 to $2,664,720. Calumet county payments would be hiked $58,368 annually from $833,794 to $892,152.

Monthly Basis

On a monthly basis the 7 per cent increase would boost Outagamie county payments $23,511 from $335,871 to $359,382, Waupaca county payments $14,527 from $207,533 to $222,060, Winnebago county payments $31,685 from $452,639 to $484,324 and Calumet county payments $4,864 from $69,482 to $74,346.

The total monthly increase for all four counties would be about $74,287.

The Appleton office serves about 19,400 people. Breakdown of the total shows Winnebago county, 7,712, Outagamie, 6,141, Waupaca, 4,125 and Calumet, 1,397.

Payments to a retired worker average about $65 per month, according to Frank Donnick, office manager. The average monthly payment for a widow with two children is $145. The maximum payment for a retired couple is $162 monthly and the maximum for a family is $200.

Donnick estimated that most of the money is spent immediately for food, clothing and other necessities. He said social security payments are the only source of income for about 9 per cent of the people served by his office.

Thieves Hide in Church, Pry Office Door Open, Take $10 From Desk

A thief or thieves after 11 o'clock Sunday morning hid in the First Congregational church, 121 W. Lawrence street, then burglarized the church office.

Police said there was no evidence of forced entry into the church. However, the door to the church office was pried open, as were a desk and filing cabinet. Only loot taken was a $10 bill attached to a letter in the desk. Police said no attempt was made to open a safe. The burglary was discovered this morning.

"Of Course It's True, Betty!"

Elinor Anderson, Fraser's Decorating Consultant came over to the house and completely planned the remodeling of my new kitchen and bathroom. Besides getting bids for us on all the carpentry, plumbing, heating, flooring etc., she helped me select the color of our floors, counter tops, paint, wall paper etc. No wonder all the girls are talking about my beautiful new ultra modern kitchen and bathroom. Elinor completely managed the whole remodeling and I didn't have to worry about one thing, and besides, her services were completely Free and Without Obligation! I understand she will help with any type of remodeling or decorating problem."

"Yes, Jane"

but you'll have to admit I was the one who told you about how wonderful the folks are over at Fraser's. They helped Bill and I plan our home so it would fit our every need. When we built, they gave us all the free advice we needed too, and Elinor helped me with the complete decorating, even showing me how to finish our cabinets and trim. We saved quite a bit of money in many ways. Several girls in our bridge group are planning to remodel and decorate now, and I know they are so glad Elinor is helping them too. It's true, Betty, Fraser's free services are most unusual —it's the lumber company in Appleton, where customers send their friends."
